JEFFRIES-JOHNSON FIGHT WILL NOT BE HELD IN ALAMEDA COUNTY

KERBY, CALLED AS WITNESS, TELLS OF LETTER

Stenographer, Dismissed As "Unworthy" by Ballinger, Takes Stand in Inquiry.

TOLD GARFIELD MEMO WAS BEING PREPARED

Met Former Secretary at Home of Gifford Pinchot, He Testifies.

WASHINGTON, May 17.—The "defense" in the Ballinger-Pinchot investigation placed Assistant Attorney-General Lawlor on the stand, late this afternoon.

Lawlor characterized as an absolute and unequivocal falsehood the statement that in the preparation of his memorandum for the President he had consulted "a single person under heaven."

Lawlor said that the rough notes of the memorandum were burned by his orders, because he was confident he had been 'gumshoed' for months, and he was afraid some one in the department would be corrupted as "Kerby has been corrupted."

There was hissing in the audience when Lawlor said Garfield and Pinchot were behind the "corruptors."

Frederick H. Kerby, Ballinger's discharged stenographer, read before the Ballinger-Pinchot investigating committee today letters of Secretary Ballinger to R. H. Thompson, city engineer of Seattle, suggesting that he accompany Geo. W. Perkins, of J. P. Morgan & Co., to inspect Alaskan mineral lands. Kerby said he believed Thomson was slated by Ballinger to become head of the reclamation service.

WASHINGTON, May 17.—Frederick M. Kerby, formerly a stenographer in Mr. Ballinger's office, who was dismissed yesterday on the ground that he divulged confidential information bearing on the preparation of the Lawlor memorandum, was called to the stand soon after the hearing in the Ballinger-Pinchot investigation was resumed today. After Chairman Nelson had had the President's letter [illegible] before the committee, Mr. Brandeis said he thought Mr. Kerby's statement and the President's [illegible] of last Saturday should go into the record with it.

Mr. Nelson said no statement of Kerby was before the committee, whereupon Mr. Brandeis said Mr. Kerby was present and was willing to testify.

APPEARS CONFIDENT

Mr. Kerby appeared confident when he took his seat on the stand. After giving his [illegible] Attorney Vertrees, counsel for Mr. Ballinger, questioned him about the position he held in the [illegible] Department.

"You were a confidential clerk to Mr. Ballinger, were you not?"

"I felt myself a confidential clerk to the government," replied Kerby, "rather than to Mr. Ballinger."

Taking up the [illegible] Mr. Kerby's statement, Mr. Vertrees asked him if he believed [illegible] gave out confidential information.

"I have never considered it [illegible] for [illegible] was the [illegible]."

Kerby said this was the only instance he could recall in which he had done so.

FRIENDLY TO GARFIELD

Kerby said he was friendly to Garfield and he had exchanged one or two letters with the latter since he left the government service. He said neither of these letters related to the matter which he has since made public, but that subsequently he had a conversation with Mr. Garfield at which he had told him about it.

Kerby said he met Mr. Garfield at the home of Gifford Pinchot between the 10th and [illegible] of February, [illegible] 10:30 at night, and told him about the preparation of the Lawlor memorandum.

He said that Mr. Brandeis also was present and that he related the matter to him in detail.

Questioned further by Mr. Vertrees, Kerby said he had first mentioned the matter to Hugo A. Brown, former private secretary to Mr. Garfield, who

UNIVERSITY CLASS OF '04 ENTITLED TO STORK AS EMBLEM

BERKELEY, May 17.—Who was the foolish person who said that a college education puts a kink in good old-fashioned home life?

Patter of baby feet and peal of baby laughter not pleasing to the delicate ears of college bred wives and husbands. Tut! tut!

First listen to this.

Two hundred and twenty-four members of the University of California class of 1904 married since leaving the classic college shades.

Grand total of babies born to date two hundred and six!

Out with the pessimistic party who isn't satisfied with that record! Some one ought to cable Roosevelt right away and have him denounced in proper language.

Anyway, Secretary Albert Ros[illegible] of the 04 class thinks the honor of the blue and gold is still safe. He is contemplating a motion at the class reunion in Berkeley tomorrow night designating the stork as the 04 mascot.

Leo Owen Surrenders to Police as Assailant of Leslie Herbert.

Leo Owen, a newspaperman, 25 years old, living at [illegible] Melrose, surrendered himself to Captain of Detectives [illegible] yesterday as the man who shot [illegible] Leslie Herbert at [illegible] streets [illegible] o'clock.

Owen was charged with assault with a deadly weapon and released on his own recognizance by Judge [illegible] Edgar. This morning at [illegible] o'clock Leslie Herbert died at the Receiving Hospital, [illegible] an operation performed yesterday morning in an attempt to save his life. Owen was then charged with murder.

Captain of Detectives Petersen declared this morning that the statement made to him by Owen impressed him with being true in every detail. He says:

"I am of the firm opinion that Owen did not shoot Herbert intentionally, but that he believed he was being held up by the boy. I am also of the opinion that the Coroner's jury will exonerate him, or [illegible] the verdict may [illegible] him with manslaughter. We are waiting that verdict before we arraign him."

EDWARD'S BODY NOW LIES IN STATE IN LONDON

Monarch's Remains Moved From Buckingham Palace to Westminster Hall.

LONDON PAYS TRIBUTE TO DEAD "PEACE MAKER"

Roosevelt Takes No Part in the Ceremony, But Will Attend the Funeral.

LONDON, May 17.—Theodore Roosevelt, special ambassador to the funeral of King Edward, did not participate today in the ceremony attending the removal of the body of the King from Buckingham Palace to Westminster Hall. Mrs. Roosevelt, Miss Roosevelt, Kermit, American Ambassador Reid and Mrs. Reid witnessed the procession from a house in Carlton House Terrace, but Roosevelt spent the morning answering his accumulated correspondence.

KING'S BODY MOVED

The body of the King was taken with stately pomp this morning from Buckingham Palace on the first stage of the journey to the grave and now lies in state in Westminster Hall, where hundreds of thousands will pay a last tribute to the dead monarch before the final passage through the streets of the capital Thursday. The procession from Buckingham Palace to Westminster Hall passed through double lines of red coated soldiers flanked with rows of policemen and a mass of silent black garbed humanity.

The buildings along the route were heavily draped with mourning. The German and other embassies in Carlton House Terrace were covered with funeral black and purple crepe and green wreaths and bouquets of white lilies.

"BIG BEN" TOLLS KNELL

The first intimation that the crowd which had been waiting for hours had of the approach of the funeral cortege was the booming of the first of sixty-eight minute guns which were fired in St. James Park, followed by the tolling of Big Ben, the great clock bell in the tower of the House of Commons, which heretofore has been heard only as it struck the hours, and by the roll of muffled drums.

Then a guardsman with sword reversed came down the Mall at measured tread, two other guardsmen following close behind.

PROCESSION OF DIGNITARIES.

Then came the officers of the headquarters staff, the army council and the board of admiralty. As these appeared the troops came to a half salute with arms reversed and remained thus until Field Marshals Lord Roberts and Lord Kitchener of Khartoum, the admirals of the fleet, the Indian orderly officers in their uniforms and the aide de camp of the late King passed.

As the gun carriage on which the casket was borne approached the order "Rest on your arms" was given.

With heads bowed the soldiers kept their eyes on the ground while the body of their late King passed, coming to attention again for the royal standard which was carried immediately behind the casket and in front of King George, who like the officers and other members of royalty was afoot.

PRINCES FOLLOW FATHER

The Duke of Cornwall and Prince Albert, two little figures in the natty uniforms of naval cadets, followed their father.

King Frederick of Denmark and King Haakon, with the Duke of Connaught between them, came next, and then followed the other members of the British and foreign royal families, the only touch of mourning being the black bands on the sleeves of their coats. An array of officers of the late King's household, nearly all of them in bright uniforms, but a few of them in mourning dress, followed.

QUEEN MOTHER IN CARRIAGE

The greatest interest of the crowd was aroused with the approach of the first carriage, for in this rode the Queen mother. Her Majesty, wearing the deepest mourning, had lifted her veil, and the people raised their hats to the pathetic figure who, even in the hour of her great grief, acknowledged the silent testimony of sympathy by bowing repeatedly. The Queen Mother was accompanied by her sister, the Dowager Empress Mary of Russia, and her daughters, the Princess Royal and Princess Victoria.

Queen Mary occupied the second state carriage, having for the occasion surrendered the first place to which as Queen she was entitled. Her Majesty was preceded by the sovereign's escort, the only mounted troops participating

SAN FRANCISCO MAY NOW GET CONTEST

THOMAS H. WILLIAMS ADVISES 'TEX' RICKARD TO WITHDRAW BATTLE

Tells Him Business Men of Oakland Are Opposed to Contest Coming Here After First Favoring It

The 45-round contest between James J. Jeffries and Jack Johnson for the heavy-weight championship of the world, scheduled for July 4, will not take place at the Oakland race track or any other place in Alameda county.

This was decided and announced this morning to friends by "Tex" Rickard, promoter and referee for the battle. The reasons for this decision are manifold, but the announcement that Thomas H. Williams, president of the New California Jockey Club, had requested such action because of the protests from ministers is not one of them.

Rickard has been assured by Williams all along that he will stand by his agreement to lease the track as a site for the fight on July 4. Rickard, however, has learned that there is a strong opposition to the contest among the businessmen of Oakland, many of whom favored bringing the contest to this city when the subject was first broached.

The promoter has learned from an authoritative source that District Attorney Donahue means to have a large force of deputies at the ringside in the event the fight takes place here, and to instruct them to stop the contest at the first sign of blood, basing it on the ground of brutality.

Rickard feels that there is too much money involved in the venture to take a chance of getting a large crowd at the ringside and then have the battle stopped before it had proceeded more than two or three rounds.

It now seems probable that the fight will take place in San Francisco or some town in Nevada. Rickard's objection to San Francisco has been that he does not want to be held up all along the line for tickets.

Always in Touch With Situation

President Williams has been in close touch with the business men of Oakland and it was he who obtained the best idea of the sentiment prevailing in this city and communicated them to the promoter. He assured the promoter he would stand by his agreement, but suggested it might be the part of wisdom to change the site.

Besides the trouble he has been having with the site question, Rickard has had his hands full trying to settle the referee question. After many conferences, he, himself, was chosen as the third man in the ring. Among sporting men on both sides of the bay it is not believed he will officiate and that he accepted the offer temporarily until he could bring the two factions to agree on a California referee of prominence.

District Attorney Donahue declines to make any statement whatever concerning the matter.

Gleason, Rickard and others interested have been in conference all forenoon, but decline to give out any statement beyond Rickard's terse assertion: "The fight will be held in California.

Thomas H. Williams, president of the California Jockey Club, who controls the Oakland racetrack, was interviewed by a Statement Made by Thomas H. Williams

THOMAS H. WILLIAMS.

Thomas H. Williams, president of the new California Jockey Club, was interviewed by a TRIBUNE reporter in San Francisco today relative to the report that he had withdrawn his permission to Tex Rickard to hold the Jeffries-Johnson fight at the Oakland racetrack July 4. President Williams, in part, said:

"The facts in connection with the entire matter can easily be explained and the situation as to whether or not the combat will be held across the bay is entirely in the hands of Tex Rickard, and he can do exactly as he desires.

"At the outset, when I was approached by Rickard and asked if I would consent to allow the racetrack to be used for the fight, I caused business men and prominent people in Alameda county to be interviewed as to just how they felt about the affair.

"One and all urged that I grant my permission, saying that they thought it would be a good thing for Alameda county to allow the fight to be held at the track.

"Recently these same men have come to me and indicated that perhaps I ought not to let it go on. They have turned exactly around in their position, I suppose, as the result of pressure brought to bear upon them.

"I have tried to please the people of Alameda county and to do what I thought would meet with their approval, and all I can say is that I have had a pretty hard time."

DONAHUE REFUSES TO SAY WHAT COURSE HE PLANNED

Officials at Courthouse Say Any Effort to Promote Jeff-Johnson Contest Would Have Resulted in Arrests

While District Attorney Donahue refused this forenoon to make any official statement with reference to the announcement from another source that President Thomas H. Williams of the new California Jockey Club had notified the promoters of the Jeffries-Johnson fight that he would not allow it to be held at the Oakland race track, sufficient information was gathered at the courthouse to warrant the statement that were an attempt to be made to pull the contest off in Alameda county it would result disastrously for the promoters and principals.

That the district attorney has been attentive to the hundreds of protests and petitions against the fight which have been flooding his office during the last month there is no question. Officials at the courthouse say, and that Donahue had decided upon drastic steps to end the fight at its inception is asserted. While the penal code of the state does not allow of a crime being anticipated, there is nothing to prevent the authorities from being on the ground and uttering an edict to a fight after it has begun and it becomes apparent that it is a prize fight.

DONAHUE'S ATTITUDE

This it is understood was to have been the attitude of the District Attorney towards the Jeffries-Johnson mill. County officials say the law would not permit him to declare in advance that it was to be a prizefight under the meaning of the statutes and stop it, but it is [illegible] was convinced there was nothing to hinder him from directing Sheriff Barnet to arrest all of the principals—including the fighters and promoters—on felony charges the moment the contest was begun and this put an end to the battle.

The District Attorney would not admit that this would have been his attitude in the premises. He said this forenoon that he had sent east for recent decisions covering fights and that he would not be ready to declare himself until after he had digested them, but that if by that time he became certain that the fight would be held in this county he would consider the incident closed and in all probability make public no opinion.

"The sheriff has been fully advised for some time as to his duties under the law as I see them," said the District Attorney, "and he has been ready to act in any way that my office should direct.

"I understand that Tom Williams will not allow the fight at the racetrack. If that is true it will not be held in this county, so we are rid of a complication that otherwise would have been interesting, to say the least. I have received many protests and have given all of them careful consideration. As I have stated many times, the law does not prohibit limited round glove contests under certain restrictions, but it does prohibit prize fights. I am sworn to enforce the law as I see it, and that I will always try to do."

It is asserted at the courthouse that the District Attorney's office holds that a man cannot be arrested on suspicion that he is going to commit a crime, and for this reason the principals of the Jeffries-Johnson fight could not be arrested on the belief that they were going to hold a prize fight, but a person may be arrested for attempting to commit a crime, and there the authorities, it is claimed, would have the principals of the big contest.

Gendarmes Assailed By Valencia Citizens

MADRID, May 17.—A collision between Republicans and Gendarmes is reported from Valencia in connection with a manifestation in honor of the arrival there of the Republican deputy, Senor Soriano. The gendarmes charged and the Republicans used knives and stones.

An officer was stabbed and killed and many persons were wounded. Fifty arrests were made and order was finally restored after the manifestants had sought refuge at the Republican Club.

KERBY, WITNESS; TELLS OF LETTER

Declares He Told Former Secretary Garfield Memorandum Was in Preparation.

is now private secretary to Director Durand of the census bureau, a few days after President Taft gave out his letter exonerating Secretary Ballinger. He said he had met Brown in his office and the latter had asked him what he knew about the President's letter.

KNEW CONSIDERABLE.

"I told him I knew considerable about it," said the witness, "as we practically wrote it in the secretary's office."

He said he told Brown it was strictly confidential, but that subsequently Brown called him up on the telephone and told him that he himself was likely to be called as a witness in the matter and that he thought it would be fairer for both to take the stand and testify directly.

Kerby said he told Brown that he would prefer to talk first to Mr. Garfield about the matter and that Brown replied that Garfield would be in town in a few days. He went to Pinchot's home, he said, one night when he learned Garfield was there and he chanced to find Mr. Pinchot and Mr. Brandeis there also. He said Garfield appeared surprised to see him.

After Kerby had told Garfield his story the latter told him he did not want to endanger his position and would not have him called as a witness unless it was necessary.

Mr. Dency—Why did you assume that giving testimony would necessitate your dismissal?

Mr. Kerby—I knew what happened to Glavis.

The witness added he had not entered into an analysis of the importance of the matter. He said he believed, as had proved to be the case, that the matter would create a sensation and that Mr. Ballinger would not care to retain him if he made a communication of that character.

Asked if he had mentioned the thing to any one else, Mr. Kerby said he spoke of it to Perry Arnold, a newspaper friend, who, he said, expressed surprise that the President should have been able to prepare his letter in such a short time after the facts had been laid before him. He said he told the newspaper men in confidence what had occurred, and that the latter had observed the confidence.

Mr. Kerby said he gave his statement to Robert F. Wilson a Cleveland newspaper man, who had been introduced to him a week ago Sunday night by his newspaper friend.

"You knew all these people were unfriendly to Ballinger?" inquired Vertrees.

"I did not."

"You knew they were friendly to Garfield?"

"Of course they were."

Mr. Vertrees asked the witness if he had mentioned any other matters at the meeting at Pinchot's home.

KNEW OF REMOVAL.

Kerby replied that he told Brandeis, after Garfield left, that he knew Ballinger intended when he became secretary to remove Director Newell of the reclamation service and then appoint in his stead Robert H. Thomson of Seattle.

Chairman Nelson asked Kerby about his statement that he was not worried about losing his position. Kerby replied he had been assured by Mr. Wilson that he would be given a position with the Newspaper Enterprise Association of Cleveland, Ohio, with which Wilson was connected. He said he had received no instructions from the association yet.

Senator Nelson—"You have not mustered in yet?"

Kerby—"I can't say that I have."

Alameda County Women of Optomotetrists' Society Hostesses.

Many functions have been tendered the wives of the delegates to the California State Association of Optometrists by the wives of the representatives of the Alameda County Society of Optometrists, during their sojourn in this city.

Yesterday they were entertained at luncheon in the Hotel St. Mark and at the conclusion of the repast they were escorted to the Orpheum theater. Today they were the guests of the Oakland ladies at luncheon in the Key Route Inn.

They passed the afternoon visiting the Hearst Greek theater in Berkeley.

Last evening an informal reception was held in Ebell Hall, where the delegates to the State association met the women of the county society and sociability prevailed. Dancing was the pastime of the evening.

Judge Tappan Heavily Fines Speed Burners

"I do not care for any dissertation. This is not a school of oratory. Just tell the facts," said Judge Tappan in the Police Court this morning to P. Robins, charged with violating the speed ordinance, and who asserted that his speedometer was not going over twenty miles an hour. Thereupon Judge Tappan said: "I will find you guilty anyhow, for on your own assertion you admit that you were exceeding the speed limit."

George Fleistner, charged with the same offense, inadvertently admitted that his speedometer was working most satisfactorily and that it showed exactly nineteen miles an hour. The ordinance provides that machines shall not run more than eighteen miles an hour.

In both cases Judge Tappan fined the men $25.

MOTHER EARTH WILL TWIST COMET'S TAIL

Celestial Vagrant's Caudal Appendage Slated for Blow for Getting in the Way.

AIRY WANDERER HASTENS FOR INFINITY'S DEPTHS

Glow in Sky Will Probably Be Only Indication That the Visitor Has Passed.

Hold your breath; the comet is coming and old Mother Earth is going to tear off a piece of the wanderer's tail within the next twenty-four hours. In the wanderings of the mysterious skyrocket toward the sun, it has left behind a streak called by astronomers the "tail." It is this unknown substance which has attracted the curious and been the cause of many misgivings as to just what will happen when the earth comes in contact with what the comet leaves in its wake.

TAIL PUZZLES SCIENTISTS.

Scientists seem to unite in the declaration that there is naught to be feared in the passage of the earth through the gases. It has not been stated definitely just what the composition of the tail is, but if there is any material substance cast off from the nucleus it is likely that there will be a shower of meteors. Otherwise the only evidence that anything unusual is taking place will be the milky appearance of the sky. Electrical phenomena may not be entirely absent, but just what the nature of the attraction will be is unknown.

During the passage through the comet's tail the earth will be closest to the nucleus, a distance of several million miles, and it will be traveling away from this planet, not to appear again for 75 years.

DESTINATION IS UNKNOWN.

Where it goes, nobody knows, and it is not certain that it will again appear. In its whirl through space into the infinitessimal regions of which thought cannot conceive, there is no knowing as to what might happen to it. Many times larger than the earth, it will make an impression wherever it goes, say the men of learning, and should it come into contact with a body of equal magnitude there is little doubt but what there would be some evidence perceived from this sphere.

Tomorrow night the moon will be approaching the stage of fullness and the brilliancy reflecting to earth will in a large degree prevent the most satisfactory observance of the attending phenomena. Next Monday night during the total eclipse of the moon there will be an exceptional opportunity of viewing the uncanny visitor in the western sky. The eclipse will last for fifty minutes and along with the other astronomical happenings will assist in making the year 1910 long to be remembered and a matter of important record in the almanacs of the future.

MAY NOT STRIKE TAIL.

"There is a possibility," said Professor Burkhalter, "that the earth may not pass through the tail at all. As we see the tail at the present time it seems to be in a straight line, but it may be arched to such an extent that by the time we are in direct line behind the nucleus and on the same plane, we will pass below."

So it will be seen that while there is life there is hope, and from the expressions heard from people on every hand it is evident that there is more sinister feeling toward the heavenly streak than many would admit.

NO RELIGIOUS DEMONSTRATION.

So far there has been no religious demonstration as in times past under similar circumstances, and unless some cult sees fit to celebrate the weird happening and we find ourselves alive and the earth still revolving by the end of the week, Halley's protege will have given place once more to the Jeffries-Johnson fightfest and the question as to whether Tex Rickard knows an uppercut from a body blow; the long suit of the oldest inhabitant of this or that village will have been played and the old game of life will go on as before, waiting, ever anxiously for the next world-stirring act of man or of Providence.

Scientists say, "Do not worry; there will be not the slightest evidence perceptible to the inhabitants of the earth." In their next breath they declare that they do not know just what the consequences will be, and with Missourian instincts the whole world awaits.

ELECTRICAL DISTURBANCES.

PASADENA, Cal., May 17.—Astronomers attached to the Carnegie observatory on Mount Wilson expect to see unusual electric manifestation in the atmosphere during the passage of the earth through the tail of Halley's comet Wednesday. Director Hale and his assistants would not be surprised if telegraphic communication be disturbed. They also say there may be a rain of fine dust, resembling volcanic dust. This will depend on the quantity of solids present in the comet's tail.

DELICATE INSTRUMENT USED.

Extensive preparations have been made on Mt. Wilson to observe the expected electrical manifestations, which, however, probably will not disturb the atmosphere close to the earth. The changes will be marked by a delicate instrument called an electrometer. Another device called an electrical varcometer will be used to note any vibrations of the earth's magnetic pole.

T. H. WILLIAMS ADVISES AGAINST BIG FIGHT HERE

Tex Rickard Has Decided to Find Another Site for the Contest Between Jeffries and Johnson for the Championship

TRIBUNE representative at his Pacific avenue home, in San Francisco, at noon today and consented to explain the facts connected with the report that the Jeffries-Johnson championship battle would not be waged in Alameda county. He said:

President Williams Explains Situation

"It is not true that the efforts of the ministers about the bay have led me to withdraw my consent to the holding of the fight at the Oakland track. The facts in connection with the entire matter can easily be explained and the situation as to whether or not the combat will be held across the bay is entirely in the hands of Tex Rickard, and he can do exactly as he desires.

"At the outset, when I was approached by Rickard, and asked if I would consent to allow the racetrack to be used for the fight, I caused business men and prominent people in Alameda county to be interviewed as to just how they felt about the affair. One and all urged that I grant my permission, saying that they thought it would be a good thing for Alameda county to allow the fight to be held at the track.

"Recently these same men have come to me and indicated that perhaps I ought not to let it go on. They have turned exactly around in their position, I suppose, as the result of pressure brought

Then He Sent for "Tex" Rickard

"Naturally I desired, as near as I could, to coincide with their ideas, and so I sent for Tex Rickard, and I placed the situation before him, telling him that I would prefer that he did not hold the fight at the track.

"I informed him, however, that my personal promise to him would hold good, and that he could have the fight at the track if he wished. I said plainly that I preferred that he did not, but I did not cancel my permission, and if he cannot arrange to hold the bout elsewhere, or prefers to keep me to my original promise, he can do so.

"That is the whole situation. I have tried to please the people of Alameda county and to do what I thought would meet with their approval, and all I can say is that I have had a pretty hard time."

As the result of the position taken by Williams it is confidently believed by many sporting men that Alameda county has lost out, that arrangements will be made with the San Francisco board of supervisors, and that the championship battle will be waged there. This theory is advanced by reason of a test which is now being made in connection with fighting in San Mateo county, and as Coffroth's arena would have to be greatly enlarged to hold the big throng it is expected that some arrangements will be made to stage the affair in San Francisco.

Williams' position, however, leaves Rickard the privilege of falling back on the Oakland track, and it is possible that the original plan may still be carried out.

The committee appointed by the members of the First Methodist Episcopal Church on the third of this month have presented the resolutions condemning the Jeffries-Johnson fight which they were asked to draw up. The protest was read at a regular meeting Sunday night and 800 members of the pastorate voted unanimously for their adoption, stipulating that copies be forwarded to Governor Gillett and the District Attorney by the following committee: Rev. G. W. White, Rev. W. C. Poole, L. O. Burpee, O. S. Orrick and R. C. Wilson. Twenty-five of the most prominent of the church members were named and asked to use all means in their power to impress the matter on the minds of the Governor and the District Attorney, with the view of having the contest stopped.

SPENDS BUSY MORNING.

BEN LOMOND, May 17.—A fast dash to Boulder Creek and return followed by the building of a rustic fence around his cottage, kept Jeffries busy this morning. He did not go near the gymnasium and is giving his overheated blood a chance to cool. Jeffries was up early this morning for a glimpse of the morning papers with their accounts of the settlement of the referee question.

He made no comment however. While out on the road with the big fellow today, Joe Choynski suffered a severe shaking up when he was thrown by Jeffries' fox terrier, which ran between his feet while he was sprinting with his charge. Joe is now nursing a badly lacerated hand and a huge bump on his head.

SETS A LIVELY PACE.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 17.—In his road work today Jack Johnson set a livelier pace than usual and when he took the back track he overtook a number of stragglers, who started out to keep up with him. Twelve miles on the road every morning these hot days is rapidly reducing the high flesh of the champion and it is expected before the end of another week he will be close to his fighting weight.

This morning's run was not followed by his usual baseball practice as the champion expressed a desire to rest after his strenuous period on the road.

'Regulars' in Senate Refuse to Compromise

Breach With "Insurgents" Over Railroad Bill Grows Wider in Upper House.

WASHINGTON, May 17.—At a conference of Republican "regulars" of the Senate this afternoon it was decided that compromise with the insurgent Republicans was impossible.

All propositions looking to an agreement through mutual concessions for an amicable settlement of remaining section of the railroad bill are likely to be withdrawn.

Federation of Women Clubs Re-elects Officers

Mrs. Philip N. Moore of St. Louis to Remain at Head of the Organization.

CINCINNATI, May 17.—Interest of the delegates attending the general Federation of Women's Clubs concentrated today in the election of officers. The nominating committee named Mrs. Philip N. Moore of St. Louis for re-election as president and nearly all the other old officers were also renominated.

Calls It Punishment To Need an Attorney

John Ellopolis, charged with battery upon Samuel Nofte, owner of a fruit stand and candy store at Twenty-fourth street and Oakland avenue, was acquitted by Judge R. B. Tappan, sitting for Police Judge Smith this morning.

The evidence in the case showed that the charge made by Nofte that Ellopolis used brass knuckles in the opinion of the court lacked confirmation. Judge Tappan in acquitting Ellopolis stated:

"I think the man has had punishment enough. He had to hire an attorney."

FLANNERY PROSECUTION READY TO CLOSE CASE

Further Cross-Examination of Abbott Will Be Ended; Defense Admits Former Commissioner Wrote Telegram

SAN RAFAEL, May 17.—District Attorney Thomas P. Boyd practically brought to a close this morning the case of the prosecution in the trial of Harry P. Flannery, former president of the San Francisco police commission, who is charged with grand larceny.

The District Attorney announced that one or two other witnesses, whom he wished to call, were on their way from San Francisco, and a temporary adjournment was taken shortly after 11 o'clock to await their arrival.

The defense stated that Joseph Abbott, who was the State's star witness yesterday, would be recalled for further cross-examination and this will close the prosecution's case.

Chief of Police Martin of San Francisco was the prosecution's first witness today. He was asked about the appointment of Detectives Farrell and Dalley with whom Abbott said he arranged for protection in San Francisco.

Martin stated that these men had been appointed to the plain clothes force at Flannery's suggestion, but that the latter had not dictated their assignment to the bunco detail.

The defense admitted that Flannery wrote the telegram of November 3d to Abbott in which occurred the phrase, "Joe, my promise is right."

Thirty Men Killed In Boiler Explosion

Disaster at Plant of American Tin Plate Company Claims Many; Scores Injured.

CANTON, O., May 17.—Thirty men are reported dead and scores injured as a result of the explosion of seven boilers in the plant of the American Sheet and Tin Plate Company, near Canton, this afternoon.

Three hundred men were at work in the plant and scarcely one escaped injury. The debris took fire, but the flames were extinguished before rescuers reached any of the men imprisoned under the heavy beams of the building, one side of which was blown to bits.

Masher Apologizes To Woman in Court

But Judge is Not Satisfied and Makes Realty Man Pay $50.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 17.—Albert Mack, a real estate broker with offices in the Humboldt Bank building, made a public apology in Judge Weller's court this morning to Mrs. James Post, wife of an actor now appearing at the American theater, for flirting with her on the street last week. Mrs. Post resented his approaches and was struck in the face at the time. Judge Weller, however, was not satisfied with Mack's apology alone and fined him $50.

Seeks to Enjoin Brush Street Work

L. W. Williams, who owns property at the northwest corner of Fifteenth and Brush streets and claims to represent about 100 other protestants, began injunction proceedings in the Superior Court this morning against Superintendent of Streets Walter C. Howe and the Ransome-Crummey Company, contractors, from bitumenizing Brush street, from Fourteenth to near Twenty-eighth street.

The property owners claim that the street is in good condition for the purposes to which it is put, that the proposed improvement would be a needless expense and that the property owners ought not to be compelled to accept it.

Creditors' Prisoner Wants Her Freedom

SAN FRANCISCO, May 17.—Miss Freda Giebert, who has been held in prison to prevent her from leaving the State to avoid her creditors, after her failure in a millinery business at 910 Market street, applied for a writ of habeas corpus this morning. The matter was argued this afternoon before Judge Seawell.

WHEN YOUR MEALS DISAGREE

It is certainly time to take immediate action if you would ward off a serious sick spell. It is positive proof of a weak stomach and deranged digestion and for which you cannot take a better medicine than Hostetter's Stomach Bitters; but remember this, the longer you put off giving the assistance needed by the digestive system the harder it is going to be to cure you. We know of hundreds of cases, taken in hand at the very beginning, in which a short course of the Bitters proved very efficacious. Therefore, be persuaded to get a bottle today from your druggist or dealer, and thus avoid all possible danger of a sick spell. It is a wonderful tonic and invigorant for overworked, nervous and run-down persons, and in cases of Poor Appetite, Bloating, Heartburn, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Costiveness and Malaria it is the best.

COLLEGE TRAINING FOR OPTICIANS IS URGED

Dr. George Nicholson Recommends Elevation of Standing of Optometrists.

DISCUSS WITHDRAWAL FROM NATIONAL BODY

Banquet at Idora Park to Close Convention; Lake Tahoe Considered.

Compulsory collegiate training for opticians was recommended to the delegates who assembled at this morning's session of the California State Association of Optometrists, which is in convention in [illegible] hall, Fourteenth and Harrison streets. The conference was presided over by John M. Forsyth, president of the association. The paper on Collegiate Education was read by Dr. George Nicholson of the Los Angeles Association of Optometrists. It was referred to the legislative committee of the state association and the suggestion will be acted upon [illegible] before the adjournment of the convention tomorrow evening. Dr. Nicholson's essay in part is as follows:

PRESENTS PLAN

Being satisfied that it is the desire of the optometrists of California to further elevate the qualifications and standing of those engaged in this work and that the subject of compulsory collegiate training will be considered in all its phases, I approach you from that standpoint by offering a few tabulated heads [illegible] to be followed by [illegible] comments, namely: compulsory collegiate attendance, matriculation requirements, two terms, a junior and a senior term, actual daily attendance in hours, and advanced standing. Certificate of attendance at college to present to examining board, along with diploma. Compel all professions now exempt to pass state board examinations if they desire to practice the art.

An optical college should be permitted to accept certificates of [illegible] attendance of a student in any other optical school in good standing for the work done there and advanced standing allowed in accordance therewith. Advanced standing [illegible] term should be given to graduates of schools of medicine also.

REFRACTION OMITTED

Not alone to the optometrist, but to the members of the [illegible] profession as well, it is a well known fact that the usual degree of M. D. does not carry with it a knowledge of the refraction of the eye, and that notwithstanding this the M. D. is privileged to assume and exercise his assumption in his profession and there is no restraint upon him. [illegible]

SECESSION MAY COME

One of the important matters discussed at this afternoon's session [illegible] recommendation [illegible] of the California State Association [illegible] the National Association of Optometrists [illegible] TRIBUNE [illegible] will [illegible].

Tomorrow evening the convention will adjourn with a banquet [illegible] the delegates [illegible] will accept the hospitality of the Alameda County Society of Optometrists.

The next meeting place of the association will probably be held at Lake Tahoe, as an invitation has been extended by the proprietor of the Tahoe tavern.

DELEGATES

The delegates representing the different associations [illegible] are as follows: Southern California Association—A. Tolisky, O. G. [illegible], George Nicholson, M. M. King, S. A. [illegible], H. S. Coon and Joseph I. [illegible]. North Bay Association—[illegible] H. [illegible] and G. W. Sherman. Central Coast Association—[illegible] Hardy and George M[illegible]. [illegible] Association—A. M. Sitton, F. B. [illegible] and J. C. Spichel[illegible]. Los Angeles Association—[illegible] Detmers and [illegible]. [illegible] Association—L. M. Kaiser, Thomas Houseworth, A. J. Schley, [illegible], J. A. Benson, Louis Kuttner, Alphons Hirsch Jr. and H. W. Clark. San Diego Association—Hugh MacLaughlin and William Funk. Sacramento Association—[illegible] C. Chinn, W. A. Meyer, [illegible] Moore and C. H. Ma[illegible]. San Joaquin Association—L. B. Condy, [illegible] and Fay Friedberger. Alameda County Society—C. H. Wood, F. W. [illegible], D. Muller, J. A. Final plans were made for the county picnic of the organization that will be held at Piedmont Park May 27, and the following committee of arrangements was appointed: Mrs. Peet, Mrs. Case, Mrs. Schertzer, Mrs. Jenkins and Mrs. O. Moore.

PROVEN ECZEMA CURE.

For several years we have announced with our recommendation that we had found a positive cure for eczema, a simple skin wash of oil of wintergreen compounded with other healing ingredients.

Yet we know there are people right in this town who have eczema, and still have never tried this remedy.

We have therefore arranged with the D. D. D. Laboratories of Chicago for a special offer of a trial bottle at 25 cents instead of the $1.00 bottle as regularly sold. Be sure of the correct name, D. D. D. Prescription.

We offer this trial bottle with our recommendation and assurance that just as soon as the patient washes his itching skin this mild liquid will take the itch away instantly.

GIVES HIMSELF UP AS YOUTH'S SLAYER

Young Man Shot in East Oakland Dies in the Receiving Hospital.

that they also heard the three boys in the buggy with their wounded companion cursing.

Following is Owens' statement:

When nearing the cross street which runs into East Fourteenth street just across from the Fruitvale Garage I saw a man looking around the corner of a building and then jerk his head back. He repeated this an instant later. As I was fifteen feet from the building on the East Fourteenth street sidewalk a man suddenly came out from around the corner of the building and [illegible] toward me. I moved out to the edge of the sidewalk and tried to keep away from him.

On seeing the man look around the building the second time I slipped my pistol, a 44 calibre Colt's, from its holster, which I had changed from my hip pocket to my left side on board the boat from San Francisco.

My first impression when I saw the man peering around the building was that they were hold-up men. I did not hold my pistol in my hand, however, but put it back into the holster, and when the man came toward me I did not attempt to draw it.

TOLD HIM TO BEAT IT

The man followed me [illegible] over to the edge of the sidewalk and then to the edge of the cement curbing, which is on the street which runs into East Fourteenth street and whose name I do not know. At that point I turned on him and asked him what he wanted and if he was sticking [illegible].

He answered: "That's what I am, and you're going to get yours."

I did not think he was a hold-up man then for an instant, but just a drunk who was looking for trouble. I told him he had better [illegible] it. He then struck at me with something.

I did not draw my gun, but struck back at his jaw. I hit him but did not hurt him.

As I struck at the man in front of me someone [illegible] struck me in the back of the head and the man in front of me yelled, "Get him." Then somebody grabbed me around the neck.

THEN HE SHOT

I twisted myself free and as I did so the man who had first attacked me struck at me. I jumped backward about four feet and pulling my gun I shot at him from the hip, not taking aim.

I saw the man fall and he said, "I'm shot—get him."

I turned and ran up the street which led toward the railroad tracks. About fifty feet or seventy-five feet up the street there were two men in a buggy, as near as I could make them out in the darkness. One of them yelled, "I've got him."

I ran past them and on up the street. They started to chase me and I fired one shot over their heads, and I guess they stopped, because I did not hear them coming. As I turned the corner westward on the first cross street I then went to my home at 4[illegible] [illegible] avenue in a roundabout way, doubling back eastward on the Southern Pacific tracks. When I got home I was very sick from running. After I had become better I telephoned my [illegible].

CAUSES DEBILITY

Here Are Facts Backed Up by a Strong Guarantee.

Catarrh causes debility. In our opinion most people suffering from general debility have catarrh. Such cases of debility cannot be completely cured by medicine not designed to eradicate catarrh. In every case where our remedy fails to give entire satisfaction we will not charge a cent for the medicine employed during the trial. Now surely no one should hesitate to believe us or to put our claim to a practical test under such conditions. We will take all the risk; no one else can lose anything by the transaction.

We make these statements and this offer because we know and have time and again proved that Rexall Mucu-Tone rarely fails to do as we claim. It is not a cure-all prescribed to cure every disease that flesh is heir to. It is intended for one purpose—to cure catarrh by assailing the diseased condition in a reasonable, scientific way, which is to employ agents that have been found to have the tonic and alterative power to correct faulty metabolism (tissue change) and to stimulate and help nature overcome the cause or causes of catarrh. This being done, appetite increases, nutrition improves, weight is gained, comfort of body is attained and life's work taken up with the zest natural to the perfectly healthy individual.

We want you to try Rexall Mucu-Tone. Follow directions and take it regularly and persistently for a reasonable length of time. Then if you are not satisfied come back and tell us, and the money you paid for the treatment will be returned without any argument whatever.

Rexall Mucu-Tone comes in two sizes, 50c and $1 a bottle. Sold only at our store—The Rexall Store, The Owl Drug Co., Inc., Tenth and Washington, Thirteenth and Broadway, Sixteenth and San Pablo.

BLUECOAT CENSUS MEN TO COUNT RESIDENTS

Policemen Made Enumerators in Resolution Adopted by City Council.

Every policeman in the city is to be a census enumerator and is to make house to house canvass on his beat for the purpose of adding names to Oakland's record of population.

The resolution making this a fact and requesting Superintendent of Police Wilson to direct his men to take up their new duty was offered by Councilman Ellsworth and was unanimously adopted.

The resolution was proposed following the reading of a letter from the Oakland Chamber of Commerce in which it was pointed out that the Director of the Census in Washington had instructed the Superintendent of the Census in Oakland to keep the supplementary list open until June 1 and that every effort be put forth toward the swelling of the present number on the register.

Secretary A. A. Denison of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce and Superintendent of the Census Burke were present at the meeting and both gave voice to the urgent need of a more rigid canvass of the city.

CLERKS DISCHARGED

Burke explained that he had six clerks in his office and that although the regular enumerators have been discharged from service those who have been overlooked will be allowed to get on the list should their name and address be communicated to him.

Councilman Ellsworth's resolution does not only make it the duty of every policeman to make a house to house canvass and bring in all stragglers, but also provides that members of the street department and fire department be instructed to send in all names they can get.

The letter from the Chamber of Commerce reads as follows:

CHAMBER'S LETTER

To the Honorable City Council of the City of Oakland—Gentlemen:

You are probably aware that through the efforts of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce with the co-operation of Congressman Knowland, Director Durand of the census has instructed Mr. James M. Burke, Supervisor of the Census of the third district, to keep the office supplemental list open until June 1 and to use every possible effort to obtain a complete enumeration of the population of Oakland.

We are confident that a great many people have been overlooked and that unless a special effort is put forth to supplement the work of the Supervisor of Census that this city will fall far short of the population to which it is entitled.

There are many local causes contributing to this condition, particularly the fact that Mr. Burke has had a large field to cover with an insufficient force, and also certain conditions exist as a result of which many people entitled to be registered as residents of Oakland have been enumerated elsewhere.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

In order that Oakland shall have a complete enumeration it is important that this matter be taken up by some executive committee able to cope with the situation and supplied with funds to co-operate with Supervisor of the Census Burke in checking up certain districts and in rounding up delinquents who have thus far not been enumerated.

We would respectfully suggest that steps be taken to constitute an executive census committee consisting of representatives of the local commercial bodies, improvement clubs, civic organizations, trades unions and fraternal orders to take up this work.

The Chamber of Commerce has heretofore done all that was possible through the [illegible] at its command, but it believes this work is one which [illegible] the city government [illegible] should undertake [illegible]. Immediate action is [illegible], as there is only two weeks [illegible] in which to put forth concerted efforts to [illegible] every resident of [illegible] for Oakland.

Trusting that your honorable body will give attention to this matter, I remain,

Yours very truly,

(Signed) WAL[illegible] MACKAY,
President Oakland Chamber of Commerce.

CANDIDATES' PETITIONS READY FOR CIRCULATION

Charter Convention Nominees to Submit Names; Dr. Pardee Declares Himself as Standing for Platform Principles

The work of the Greater Oakland charter convention has reached the stage where the petitions of the nominees of the convention are ready for circulation in order to facilitate the candidates' positions on the ballot, and [illegible] campaign will be pushed forward [illegible] reason that the petitions must be filed before noon Saturday, May 21.

Volunteers [illegible] in sufficient number have volunteered their services to the task of securing the signatures, and in all of the numerous improvement clubs and other organizations meetings will be held for the purpose of entertaining those who have the circulation of the petitions in charge, in order that the efforts to obtain signatures may thus be accelerated.

It was explained that the Democrats would have to receive Democratic signatures and Republicans Republican signatures, [illegible] who had changed their party affiliations within the last two years being unqualified. There was some doubt expressed as to whether the Democrats would be able to get the required number of names on their petitions. Chairman [illegible] threw out a line [illegible] with the suggestion that out of Oakland's increasing [illegible] there would be a few hundred Democrats. "Well," said one of the steadfast [illegible], "if Oakland had a few more of them it would be a good thing for the city."

The nominees who will represent the convention are: Thomas O. Crawford, C. W. [illegible], A. C. Clark, W. A. Dow, R. [illegible], T. M. Gardiner, J. B. [illegible], F. C. Ingram, R. J. Montgomery, [illegible] Earl, Ruben Wiand, [illegible], J. W. Smart, J. C. Bul[illegible] and A. H. Elliott, fifteen in all, including the two Union Labor delegates, J. W. Smart and Ruben Wiand.

The conference committee on Union Labor representatives reported through Chairman W. E. Gibson that after considerable discussion they had determined that the two Union Labor representatives on the ticket would be a sufficient number to satisfy that body, and the harmonious settlement of the claims to a larger representation met with unanimous approval.

Dr. George C. Pardee, one of the nominees, appeared before the convention in order to declare himself, which he did with the following statement:

Believing that it is the duty of every citizen when called upon to do so to serve the public, I will be glad if the people of Oakland see fit to choose me for that purpose to serve as a member of a board of freeholders to frame a new charter.

I heartily agree with your proposition as to the necessity for incorporating in a new charter for this city the recall, the initiative and the referendum, together with a real direct primary divorced from party politics.

In these ways and in these ways only, in my opinion, can the government of cities and states be given into the hands of the people, where it was intended it should be and where it alone belongs. And I believe that the only way in which the recall, the initiative and the referendum can be made effective is to put the percentage necessary for this invocation at low figures such as your platform calls for.

I have always believed that the water front of Oakland should be possessed by, improved by, maintained by and operated by the city for the benefit of the public, and all other public services should be operated by the public for the benefit of the public.

In the matter of a commission form of government, I am of the opinion that with the recall, the initiative and the referendum in the hands of the people it is better than the present complicated form of government in this city.

Franchises being the property of the people should, in my judgment, be referred to the people rather than be disposed of by the representatives of the people.

FALLS FROM CAR; BADLY INJURED

Woman May Have Fractured Skull as Result of Street Car Accident.

BERKELEY, May 17.—While attempting to alight from a moving College avenue car at the corner of Shattuck avenue and Kittridge street in this city, Miss Effie Bovver, living at 2124 Kittridge street, was thrown to the ground early this morning and now lies at the Roosevelt Hospital with several severe contusions about the head and a possible fracture of the skull. Miss Bovver was riding on College avenue car No. 218, in charge of Conductor Nelson, and while alighting attempted to step to the ground while the car was still in motion. She fell heavily on the back of her head and was rendered unconscious.

She was picked up by Al Zelmer, a Berkeley merchant, who came by in his automobile at the time, and was taken to the Roosevelt Hospital, where Dr. A. N. Rowell dressed her injuries.

ENGINEER ADAMS TELLS OF OBSTACLES THAT NULLIFIED TENTATIVE AGREEMENT

City Council in Committee Makes Preliminary Start in the Proceedings to Fix the Rate Schedule and Submits Questions to the Peoples Water Company Regarding Properties in the Oakland Service

The fixing of the water rates came up before the committee of the whole of the city council last night and progress was made to the extent of giving the Peoples Water Company until Monday June 6 to answer certain interrogatories relating to the value of the plant and physical properties required to supply the Oakland division and until that time [illegible]

The special water committee consisting of Messrs [illegible] and Pendleton was directed to secure the services of an expert on real estate values to appraise the realty owned by the Peoples Water Company required to supply the city of Oakland with water the same to be subject to the confirmation of the city council on next Monday night

POLICE AID

At the convening of the council President Pendleton requested the superintendent of police to exercise his authority to bring in the members of the body who were loitering in the ante chamber discussing the problem that was to come before the municipal legislature That officer's intervention soon had all the members herded into their seats The question of fixing the date of the annexation election which had been recommended by the committee to be held on August 2 was postponed until the next session despite the fact that there was a large representation from Berkeley present to thresh over the matter of fixing the day

There was also a large delegation of Harrison street residents on hand to protect against running the Bankers hotel sewer down that thoroughfare They were mollified by the adoption of a resolution in which it was declared to be the sense of the council that the street was not to be disturbed by the improvement

Getting rid of these two propositions which threatened to take up the entire evening cleared the way for the water rate discussion and the council promptly resolved itself into a committee of the whole with Vose as chairman

Immediately upon convening as the committee Pendleton took the floor and declared that it was much to his regret that he had to announce that the special committee consisting of Bronner and himself had been unable to reach an agreement as had been hoped for by which the water rates could be amicably adjusted

AGREEMENT FAILS

"I regret our best efforts which have been continued over several months and which gave such promise of reaching a satisfactory adjustment have come to naught" said Mr Pendleton "and it becomes our duty and I suggest that we proceed with the fixing of the water rates in accordance with law"

He stated that Engineer Adams of the Peoples Water Company was present and desired to make the preliminary statement on behalf of the corporation

Upon an invitation from Chairman Vose Mr Adams came before the council and declared that he had a statement to make in regard to the tentative agreement

"I am not here as a witness" said Mr Adams "but I wish to set matters plain as to the part of the Peoples Water Company in the tentative agreement which we hoped would permit of us arriving at an amicable understanding in regard to the fixing of the water rates for this and next year I refer to the agreement that was entered into on our part by F C Havens and by F H Pendleton acting for and on behalf and subject to the approval of the council

THE OBSTACLES

"Insuperable obstacles have arisen in the way of carrying out the agreement which was hastily made in view of the fact that F C Havens had to leave for the East Several questions were involved which latterly we have found were impossible of adjustment One was the method by which the suits were to be disposed of The agreement set forth that the suits were to be dismissed in a manner such as the attorneys would agree upon We understood then that the clause would be a difficult one to adjust but were hopeful that a solution satisfactory to all sides would be found It was hoped that some legal way would be found by which the ratepayers claims could be settled As the city's claim all told would not exceed in the most approximately between $73,000 and $80,000 it was not the intention to pay to the municipality the sum of $[illegible]00,000 or any other purpose than to settle all claims that might be presented by the ratepayers as well as the city

INDIVIDUAL CLAIMS

"The company appreciated the fact that it would be a difficult proposition to settle with the individual ratepayers and hoped that in this way a solution to the difficulty would be found It must be considered that the claims for rebates extend over a period of six eight and ten years Some of those having claims have removed and many of those living here have lost receipts and would have difficulty in proving their claims It was considered that the most equitable way to settle the claims was to make the gross payment to the city and thus return to the taxpayer which is synonymous with ratepayer the rebate which was due in the event the suits were dismissed

"We also concluded that in turning in Mosswood park as part of the payment that it was a popular thing to do The company however was willing to pay the entire amount of the $[illegible]000 in cash In carrying out this agreement while the company was willing to assume some risk in so settling with the city it did not contemplate that it was also to pay the claims of the individual ratepayer

RATEPAYER IS ROCK

"The attorneys of both sides now advise us that there is no way to settle with the city and also bind the ratepayer The only way that could be done is to take a stipulated judgment against the city In the Hart case the water company has no power to dismiss the case as it was carried up on appeal by the city and it therefore has the only authority to move for its dismissal As the status is the city's attorneys are not willing to enter into a stipulated judgment and dismiss the Hart appeal and our attorneys are not willing to dismiss our appeals which would render us liable for the claims to rebate by the individual ratepayer What looked simple at the time has become insurmountable and therefore it becomes necessary for you gentlemen to proceed under the law and fix the water rates

LOSING GROUND

"The company is aware of its agreement providing for a reduction of the rates five per cent for the coming year The cut in the rates of 20 per cent during the past three years has effected a greater reduction in the revenue of the company than any of us I am free to say and we cannot [illegible] anticipated The loss for the past year in consequence thereof has resulted in a reduction of our revenues to less than what they were in the preceding year And that to in spite of the fact that the demand is larger the supply greater and the population increased As a result of the situation the rates should not be reduced

In view of the large contemplated outlays and expenditures required to carry on and continue the ample supply of water this is the company's [illegible] expects that you gentlemen will continue the present rates

GUARD THE FUTURE

"While you have the rate fixing power you are also the representatives of the city's interests and are loaded with the responsibility to guard the needs and necessities of the water company and are required to show a larger regard for future water requirements and needs of the community We have to look to the future Construction must be projected and carried out years in advance and the supply conserved against increased demand We do not think it will be a popular thing to increase the rates but the balance must be maintained to permit the company to proceed with its projects The hardships rest not only upon the company but upon the ratepayer who must eventually pay the par value for securities sold by the company at a sacrifice to obtain the money to carry on its necessary extensions"

INFORMATION SOUGHT

Upon the conclusion of Mr Adams exposition of the difficulties that lay in the way of proceeding under the agreement Ellsworth arose and moved that Pendleton be authorized to examine the witnesses on behalf of the council

"He has a carefully prepared list of questions to be propounded to the water company officials" said Ellsworth "which will go far toward aiding us in determining the rates when answered by the water company or its officials" The motion was promptly carried

Pendleton declared that he wanted it understood that the information possessed by Special Engineer Dockweiler was at the disposal of the council and subject to the call of any member thereof

"Mr Dockweiler has been three years getting this information" said Pendleton "and in that time he has garnered a most valuable array of facts which will be of value to us in fixing the rates Mr Dockweiler is moreover willing to attend all sessions of the committee and aid us with his experience"

WILHELM SWORN

Mr Pendleton then asked that G H Wilhelm of the Peoples Water Company be called to the stand The witness upon being sworn had submitted to him the list of interrogatories prepared by Pendleton In response to each one of them the witness declared that he was unprepared to make response but would secure the information desired and present it to the council

The information sought took the form of the following questions

VALUE OF PLANT

Structural Features—Give the value of each of the structures comprising the service Arrange the items according to the list presented to the council in 1904 by the Contra Costa Water Company

Lands—Give the list of all lands claimed to be in use in supplying the Oakland division with water Give acreage of each tract Give value of each tract

Water Rights—Give list and location of each How many gallons per day product Value of each

Rights of Way—Give list and location Give value of each

Rate Earning Fixtures—Give each class of rate earning fixtures Give number of each class of rate earning fixtures Specify number of each size of meter in use where water is paid for by meter rates Give earnings of meters on premises Oakland division between July and December 1909 also what these premises would have paid under flat rates for the same period This in accordance with the recommendation of the special committee appointed to investigate complaints of water consumers about the charges for water at meter rates in meters installed since July 1 1909 (See report of October 1909)

Operation Expenses for 1909—Give the taxes paid on each piece of property separately which you claim is used and useful in the Oakland division Also set forth land rents on above

Deterioration—Submit the age and expected life of all structures in the Oakland division upon which you claim depreciation allowance should be allowed

A GREAT TASK

The witness stated that he was unable to give the facts regarding the Oakland division until he had gone into an examination of the books and segregated it from the aggregate

"I will furnish the information as soon as possible and as rapidly as I can make up" said the witness "but it is of such a volume that it will take two or three weeks to get it"

In response to a question Engineer Dockweiler stated that it should be gathered within a month

"We should certainly get it within that time" said Dockweiler "as the city will have to offer its data It would be certainly giving me only a short time to give in my figures—only a week as you know the rates must be fixed by the first of July You should have experts to pass upon the values of the lands and here we are in the middle of May"

In reply to a question from Everhart Dockweiler said he had the data as to the property values of the Peoples Water Company used in the supply and operation of the Oakland division up to January 1, 1906

COURT RULINGS

"But" said Dockweiler "under the Supreme court decision the advance in the value of lands must be considered I have the data from the water company's own books but we cannot accept the value the company places upon its own property Their books show the cost value of the land to them and they figure out its present value In the case of the physical property deterioration has to be deducted The trouble in arriving at the information asked for is that the accounts are figured for the entire system The construction account shows that $1,000,000 has been expended in the aggregate To segregate the accounts of the Oakland division will take almost thirty days Everything is in one construction account

LEGACY OF YEARS

"In this everything has been merged since 1869 It must be remembered that the Peoples Water Company is the holding company of all the vices and virtues of its predecessor

"When they make a purchase of land it is entered under the heading of real estate then in use or not The inclination is to say it is in use It makes a difference in the accounts when the property is in use or not and on this we are not qualified to admit that at all times Deterioration is not considered as it was not until the judicial decision in January that it was [illegible] As to the real estate there is no way of getting at it without going over the books and segregating that required in the service of the Oakland division To get all this requires time The [illegible] their day in court"

THE LAST DAY

Everhart said "I do not believe in letting it go till the last day An engineer is not a bookkeeper and I believe it will not take any such time to prepare the information that has been asked from the company or its officials"

"I will take fully thirty men thirty days to get at this data that has been requested of the company" replied Dockweiler

"You can't tell me that" declared Everhart "I am an accountant They can get this in a few days"

"Well I don't know about that" interjected Ellsworth "We are going beyond the books They are certainly entitled to a reasonable time but I think they should get it in here before June 6"

Engineer Wilhelm on behalf of the water company explained that it would take some time to get at the facts desired "It will take at least twenty weeks" he declared "fully two weeks to get at the real estate figures alone"

EVERHART'S VIEW

"Yes that's true" interposed Everhart "if the books are jumbled But your balances ought to show at a glance It will only take a man a short time to analyze these figures The company knew this was coming I can't believe the accounting department is in such a mess Their accountant is superior to me and I can say for myself that if I had their books under my control for two years that I could answer a stock holder's any question concerning such matters in five minutes"

Vose asked if the company could not get its figures in by June 6 Wilhelm said he would try

INQUIRIES DIFFER

Ellsworth said he wanted it understood that the information was to be sent to the City Clerk's office as soon as it is gotten out by the water company MacGregor wanted to know if the Pendleton interrogatories were not the same as were propounded to Sam Bell McKee the attorney for the company some time ago

Pendleton declared that they were different and that they were made to comply with the legal requirement to make a start on fixing the rates in February

In response to an inquiry from Everhart Engineer Wilhelm declared that no company in the United States that he knew of showed depreciation in their accounts There was only one way to arrive at that and that was to take the original cost of a structure or of material and its probable life and the period during which it had been in use This had not been shown in the books The distributing plant had been in existence some of it for forty years and some for only one day The only way depreciation is marked off is by the cost of renewals and repairs

RETORTS COURTEOUS

"I want to ask Mr Everhart to go down to the water company's office and learn for himself how difficult this matter is to get at" said Dockweiler "I am familiar with the systems of accounts in the great corporations—the Spring Valley Marin County Water Company this company and the Watsonville company I am anxious to learn and if they are all wrong and he knows of a better plan he should show us When you take men like Frederick P Stearns the chief engineer of the Panama canal, and many others of eminence whom I could mention who would gladly devise some new system of accounting you can see how valuable your suggestion would be that will assist the work and give the accounts at a glance When you think that since the report of 1906 we have to go over the deterioration of the pipes hydrants and services and give each of them their values it will be easily seen that the task is a big one I want to go to the fountain head of knowledge in this matter and learn Expedition in such matters is the life of the trade"

HIT AT DOCKWEILER

"If their books had been properly kept they should show what we want to know" persisted Everhart "I do not pass on his supreme knowledge (referring to Dockweiler) but I think if he has the knowledge which the city has been paying him liberally for the past three years that besides stenographers we ought to soon get to the bottom of the facts and fix the rates in thirty minutes"

In response to Stiefvater's question as to what kind of pipe is comprised in the Oakland district the time it has been in use and what was its original cost Engineer Wilhelm said it would take a year of solid figuring to get at the answer New pipe is constantly replacing the old according to the engineer's statement and the only thing to be done was to take the account of what was now in use

Everhart "Mr Wilhelm we want details of what pipe was laid in each particular year"

"I don't know what you do want," responded Wilhelm

"Don't your records show the amount of pipe laid each year" asked Everhart

RECORDS DESTROYED

"Well the records of the old Contra Costa Company were destroyed in the earthquake" replied the witness amid general laughter

"Well where did Mr Dockweiler get all this valuable information that we hear about" asked Everhart

"To bring this discussion to an end I move that all the information that has been asked for from the water company shall be in by June 6 and adjournment taken to that time" said Ellsworth

Cobbledick interposed to state that he had been appealed to by the residents of Peralta Heights to use his good offices to have the water company supply them with water in that section of the city

"This afternoon at dinner the people there had to go to the neighbors who had wells to get enough water to do the cooking" said Cobbledick "This is a very serious matter and something should be done at once"

A petition signed by C W Merwin and others was read asking the Council to do something to correct the evil which was set forth had become a menace to that section of the city during the past few weeks Wilhelm declared he would attend to the matter at once

NOTHING RESULTS

"That's the way it is" said Cobbledick "We are turned down so gently by the water company and then nothing is done but this is a serious matter and they cannot expect to collect where they do not comply with the service"

M Hagerman one of the residents of that locality took the floor and explained that today they could not get a spoonful of water from the faucets in that locality The company had been telephoned to and had promised to send out an inspector but nothing had come of it

Wilhelm promised that the wrong would be righted as soon as he got down to the office in the morning He explained that he had been away from the city and doubtlessly something had gone wrong during his absence

BACK TO RATES

Returning to the rate fixing feature of the evening Ellsworth said that the expense of the shorthand reporter could be materially reduced by having only four copies of the proceedings taken instead of the others for the use of each individual Councilman He said that the special committee should be authorized to select a real estate expert to arrive at the valuations of the 39,000 acres in the San Pablo watershed which the company was about to utilize to supply the Oakland division

Elliot objected to the employment of experts

"Come right down to it I do not believe much in experts" said Elliot "I cannot see where our own expert would have much influence in court unless we permitted the water company to put on its own experts and we know where that would end—there would be none For my part Dockweiler is all the expert we require I want this outlay stopped Let's make this rate fixing as easy on the treasury as possible I am opposed to spending any more money on experts It is all nonsense and I will not vote for it unless the City Attorney comes in with a written request that it must be done to save the city We have the reports of three experts of several years ago Let's read them and multiply them by three and divide them by two and we will get about as clear an idea of it as we would any other way"

NEW LANDS

"You must remember there are 39,000 acres to be appraised this year in the San Pablo watershed" said Ellsworth "and while I am not in any greater favor of exploiting the city treasury than we have to it seems to me we cannot do anything else if we are to conduct this proceeding in compliance with the law and I am informed that the city's attorneys have advised that we do so If we do not we will make a very poor showing in court"

Pendleton said he thought the expert was a necessity In answer to Everhart he said that while the employing of an expert several years ago did not prevent the filing of a lawsuit it might help to win one

Dockweiler interposed to say that the Supreme Court of the United States had decided that an engineer's opinion of realty values was to be taken with a great deal of allowance

FAVORS PEACE

"I think we could sit down now with the water company's representatives and fix this whole thing up now" said Everhart "I am willing to do the company justice and would vote to increase the rates if it was shown that it was a matter of justice to do so We are going at this thing as if we anticipated a law suit and were preparing for it That is not the way to proceed The company agreed upon a valuation in its former compromise upon which the present rates were based and that is as good now as it was then"

NO VALUE BASIS

"I beg to differ" interjected Pendleton "That is where the difficulty lies We did not come to any agreement as to valuations We have no basis to go on but must consider it all from the standpoint of this year and cannot go outside of it"

"We can just as well fix the rates tonight" said Everhart "The company is no longer bent upon exploiting the people as was a predecessor but is trying to do its best It is backed by the best men in the community and is a child of the city Let's settle this thing amicably We all understand the situation and it is a matter we can settle in fifteen minutes if we go at it right We can go into that room there and fix it all up in thirty minutes We don't want to quarrel with the company that is supplying us with the very element that is next in value to air Let's get over this idea that we must fight everything that is a corporation Let's keep out of law suits We have surely had enough of them and have nothing but expense with no results"

EXPERT GRANTED

Pendleton pleaded that the motion for a real estate expert be adopted Elliot jocularly suggested that Vose and MacGregor were realty agents and that they should be required to serve the Council

"There is too little in the business today without asking us to work for nothing" responded Vose

By a vote of seven to four with Elliot Everhart MacGregor and Stiefvater voting in the negative the motion was adopted authorizing the special committee to engage an expert in real estate for the water proceedings The committee of the whole then rose

M. F. TARPEY WILL ENTER LISTS FOR GOVERNORSHIP

Reports Have It That the Organization Will Get Behind Justices Melvin and Sloss

An opponent has been found to contest the Democratic nomination for governor with Theodore Bell It is M F Tarpey of Fresno now in the East with the delegation boosting for San Francisco in the Panama exposition fight No special promise has been received from Tarpey that he will consider the matter but those of his friends who are doing the talking are supposed to know that under certain conditions he is likely to go into the contest Tarpey is one of the strongest Democrats in California and enjoys a national reputation in his party's councils For twenty years he was the Democratic national committeeman from this state and in 1886 made the run for lieutenant governor Two years ago he declared for Taft as against Bryan but is still popular with the Democrats particularly the Gavin McNab end of it in this state

ANDERSON'S STAND

Once again the element who are not for Alden Anderson are circulating all kinds of rumors about his resigning his position as state bank superintendent before the primaries It was settled long ago that he would not do this and many good reasons given for it Nevertheless the enemies of his canvass are shouting in an ill advised and totally illogical manner that his determination not to resign indicates a weakness in his part

Discussing the different phases of the candidates for other offices today the Examiner says

A rumor ran the round yesterday that the Republican organization had decided to drop Judge James of Los Angeles and back Justices Maurice Sloss and Henry A Melvin for re-election The argument for this was based on the utter impossibility of defeating Justice Sloss who is sure to lead the poll and the incidental danger that Melvin might be defeated by some 'plumping' of the Southern Californians for James and Wilbur

ELLERY'S CAMPAIGN

"The Ellery organizers continue to give out optimistic reports as to their chief's chances for the Republican nomination Arthur Lynch the Ellery committeeman for El Dorado reports that Ellery has broken up all the lines of battle set by the other candidates in that county J J McCarthy has gone into the Sacramento valley to stir up trouble and the faithful

"But the Anderson men say the Ellery campaign is very like that once conducted by E B Edson the man of the North whose hot air was set in motion by Major Leavey now one of Mayor McCarthy's civil service commissioners

DETAINED IN SOUTH

Alden Anderson is still detained in Los Angeles on official business He is expected to arrive in San Francisco next Thursday or Friday Anderson will address a mass meeting in Sacramento on the evening of Saturday May 21 Among his other engagements is the laying of the corner stone of the Elks Hall at Eureka Humboldt county on May 27 While in the southern part of the state Anderson will attend the federation of college clubs

Phil A Stanton of Los Angeles candidate for the Republican nomination for governor is making his canvass in the San Joaquin valley and expects to reach San Francisco about June 1 Reports from the southern part of the state are that Stanton is in the lead in that part of the state

JOHNSON'S CANVASS

Hiram Johnson was in San Francisco yesterday and will remain here a few days He was in conference with the political managers of the Lincoln Roosevelt League relative to his future campaign It is understood that he will go to the southern part of the state at an early date to repair his fences in that section

William Kent the millionaire of Kentfield will be the candidate of the Lincoln Roosevelt League for Congress in the Second district against Duncan E. McKinlay the incumbent Kent's candidacy was announced by the league's campaign managers yesterday

Woman Commissioner Plans for Re-election

A KNOWLEDGE COMPETITION

Readers of TRIBUNE Advertisements to Be Given a Memory Test

A Drill on Oakland Industrial and Commercial Institutions and Their Products.

WHO WILL WIN THE $100 PRIZE

This is purely a question of who's who and what is what? Somebody is going to have a chance to win $100 by properly answering certain questions It is not to be any sort of a guessing contest It will be purely a question of knowing And if you do not know you will be expected to find out There will be a delineation of certain commercial characteristics a pointing out of actual facts concerning the manufacturing and commercial institutions of Oakland and their products such as will be capable of reducing to a mathematical certainty the features of unmistakable identity

The patrons of THE TRIBUNE expend large sums of money annually to drive the salient points of their commercial existence and superiority into the minds of a busy populace It will be the aim of THE TRIBUNE in this unique and impressive feature to see how well the people have learned the lesson There is going to be conducted in the columns of an early Sunday issue a drill as it were a sort of recitation having as a subject the manufacturing and commercial institutions of Oakland and her environs

It has been demonstrated that if you wish to teach the rudiments of arithmetic the principles of grammar or the harmony of music you must do so by dividing the subject up into lessons and giving them out in small installments to be studied and then afterward recited to see how well the lesson has been learned and to crush out the false ideas that may have been erroneously gathered through the cobwebs of the human brain When this has been done the mind grasps and retains the lesson learned—there is no forgetting it—it has been drilled into the mind there to take its place on the tablets of the memory as a fixed and certain axiom from which to reason further and deduce other facts of mortal existence

This is what is going to be done through this advertising school which THE TRIBUNE will soon place before the people

There is going to be $100 in this for somebody and all readers of THE TRIBUNE are eligible to win it

More will be said about this later on Keep an eye on the Knowledge Competition For the present just "think on these things" and when the $100 is placed within your reach brush aside the cobwebs from your brain and reach for it ahead of the other fellow—and the money is yours

Dr. Susan Mills Honored by Carnegie Foundation

FIRST WOMAN IN STATE TO RECEIVE HONOR

Head of Famous College for Girls Also Made President Emeritus.

1910 CLASS RECEIVES DIPLOMAS AT EXERCISES

Thirty-four Students to Leave Institution and Seminary to Be Abolished.

Before a cheering multitude which included a small scattering of old pioneers who were present at the first commencement of Mills College fifty six years ago and not a few of the old time graduates Dr Susan Lincoln Mills was made the proud recipient of a dual honor yesterday afternoon when she was entered as the first California woman to receive such distinction on the list of retired educators who will receive a life long pension from the fund set aside for that purpose by Andrew Carnegie and at the same moment was made president emeritus of the college of which she has been head so long by a unanimous vote of the board of trustees who met in secret session yesterday morning

The ceremony of bestowal of honor followed the graduation exercises for the last year which conferred the coveted parchment on six young women who in cap and gown received their bachelor of letters degree eight who graduated from the class of home economics and a seminary class of twenty The last named class was accorded special honor inasmuch as the coming twelfth month will mark the close of Mills Seminary which was established as the first Protestant school for girls in the state at Benicia in 1852 and hereafter the institution will exist solely as a woman's college

BESTOWED BY DR CARSON

The degrees were bestowed upon the girlish recipients by Dr Luella Clay Carson the noted educator who has been made president of the college since the retirement of Dr Mills Assisted by Dr David P Barrows of the University of California who as vice president of the board of trustees presided she gave the final words of admonition and advice to the graduating students offering a heartfelt tribute to Dr Mills and expressing a [illegible] that her own reign may prove as [illegible] to the young seeker after knowledge in the years to come

[illegible] exercises were held in Lisser hall which [illegible] transformed into a veritable bower [illegible] with flowers was [illegible] with sprigs [illegible] the light [illegible] white [illegible] of girls as they [illegible] in the [illegible] doors chanting Mendelssohn's processional from [illegible] Let Your Tears of Praise Ascending After the invocation by the Rev Frank I Goodspeed and a recitation of [illegible] the choral class rendered Waken Lords and Ladies preceding Dr Barrows address which had for its theme 'Miguel Cervantes' whom he declared to be one of the greatest teachers and philosophers of his time Dr Barrows said in part

TRIBUTE TO CERVANTES

"Miguel Cervantes is one whose wit and splendid learning and vast experience of human life grow on one for years as his works are read—one to whom you can turn when discouraged and [illegible] renewal—one who dispels much [illegible] delusions and re-establishes our faith in human character

His life was passed in that great and brilliant but [illegible] period [illegible] Spain's history dominated by the ambitions and [illegible] Philip II

He was the embodiment of its best [illegible] most brilliant period of Spain [illegible] and [illegible] a captive of [illegible] pirates of Algiers [illegible] the subsequent years of his life [illegible] poverty [illegible]

[illegible] is Don Quixote [illegible] old age It embodies his own philosophy of life It is [illegible] character of old Spain [illegible] It is [illegible] life [illegible]

In [illegible] an old conception of knighthood that had become corrupted by sentimentalism and extravagance Cervantes replaced it with an ideal of [illegible] manhood that embodies the kindliness purity and virility of the Christianity of the middle ages

With all its [illegible] tendencies this ideal holds a faith which we generation after generation must renew and live by lest we perish It is the faith that leads to forlorn hopes [illegible] the last ditch [illegible] its priceless vision and [illegible] stands ready to strive—ready to perish"

GIVES INTIMATE TALK

Dr Carson gave an intimate talk to [illegible] addressing herself to them as a woman and a friend

There is not one among you she said who will go forth from this campus today to find the world a continual paean of joy God gave sorrow to the world and giving it he also gave woman as a helpmate in the hour of need as a sweet consolation in the hour of stress Your school days are a preparation for the year of courage and fortitude with which it is every one's duty to meet the span of mortal existence From our schools and seminaries we are giving to the world annually women fitted to cope with life in its every phase women who go forth—not blindly as in the old days—but with a full realization of what motherhood and wifehood mean

Let loyalty be the keynote of your every thought and action By loyal [illegible] to your family and [illegible] to your school and most loyal to your principles There is a tender demonstration of this same loyalty here today in the old graduates who have come here from every part of the state many of them at a great personal inconvenience to be present in the hour when you just as they did years ago close your student career and commence your real lives [illegible] each of you go forth today clasping in strong young hands the loom of destiny on which you are to spin your individual fate Look you well that the threads run straight and true

DR MILLS ENCOURAG .S

During the exercises Dr Mills a quaintly venerable little figure in her cap and gown which threw into soft relief her silver hair and kind old face sat among the members of the board of trustees on the rostrum To each of the girl graduates she bowed in turn bestowing on one or another a kindly little pat of encouragement or a kindly sympathetic word When the announcement of the honor to be conferred on herself was [illegible] public she was forced to arise in response to the tumultuous applause which [illegible] shook the building and when [illegible] subsided she acknowledged the gift which [illegible] whole life [illegible] in a voice [illegible] Harking back to the first [illegible] of this school she told of its birth in Benicia when in the year 18[illegible] the need [illegible] a Protestant school for [illegible] was first felt in the Golden State

At that time [illegible] brought from the [illegible] and it was not until a year later that Miss Mary Atkins whose name is historic in the Western temple of learning took it in charge She sold out in 18[illegible] to the late Dr Cyrus T and Mrs Susan L Mills who conducted it under their joint direction for [illegible] years as a seminary which grew famous throughout the state In 1885 Mills College which is soon to absorb the seminary was established Sitting just behind Dr Mills as she talked was David Hewes of Orange county a member of the first board of trustees of the seminary which went into initial executive session fifty eight years ago Mrs Mills is the first woman in California to be enrolled on the Carnegie educators pension fund and the honor is a noteworthy one

The graduates from Mills this year are as follows

HYDE MUST GO TO PRISON IF NEW TRIAL IS DENIED

Judge Says He Will Send the Prisoner Up Unless Good Cause Is Shown.

MAY GRANT ANOTHER HEARING. HE DECLARES

Physician Continues His Study of Medicine and Surgery in Jail.

KANSAS CITY May 17—If Judge Ralph S Latshaw overrules Dr B Clarke Hyde's motion for a new trial when it comes up some time this week the physician will be sent to the State's prison immediately The court made this announcement today

"The law provides" said Judge Latshaw "that a convicted man shall begin serving his sentence as soon as his motion for a new trial is denied Therefore, if I see fit to deny Dr Hyde a new hearing he will be sentenced next Saturday

'Of course this does not mean that I shall not grant the physician a new trial If his attorneys show what I deem good cause for another hearing they shall have it'

Dr Hyde was known among the physicians as a serious student well abreast of the times in medicine and surgery He has [illegible] to continue his studies while in prison

Hyde has become popular with the prisoners at the jail He is an honorary member of the 'mock court' by virtue of having paid a dollar initiation fee when the regular cost is but 50 cents

HYDE CONVICTED SELF

Dr Hyde owes his conviction to his own testimony on the witness stand, says W C Crone a juror

Crone [illegible] in reality the man who decided the physician's fate Until Sunday night he and S [illegible] Johnson a farmer from Sibley Mo held out for acquittal against the rest of the jury Remembering Dr Hyde's demeanor on the stand Mr Crone finally decided the accused man was guilty and voted for conviction He then convinced Mr Johnson making the verdict unanimous

Dr Hyde was his own worst enemy in the trial said Mr Crone today His own testimony convicted him

DAMNED HIMSELF

When Dr Hyde said he had bought cyanide for ten years and yet could not remember when he bought it he damned himself as a witness If he had not testified as he did I think he would not be in his present position

At first I believed Hyde innocent and until Sunday night I voted to acquit him Then I recalled his testimony about his cyanide purchases and I decided he was guilty I told Mr Johnson I had changed my vote and I talked with him about my decision

A strange feature of Juror Crone's action is that his son Albert was recently sentenced to eighteen years in the penitentiary for murdering Bertha Bowler his sweetheart

Six Drinks Whisky One Day's Hard Work

CHICAGO May 17—A half dozen drinks of whisky in a day will produce the same effect of fatigue on brain and body as a day's hard work This has been proved by experiments according to Dr William J Wick in an address to the Chicago Medical Society

Alcohol actually tires the muscles the nerves and the brain he said A man who had rested [illegible] and fresh was put at [illegible] labor At the end of the day he was subjected to physical and nerve tests to prove the extent of the fatigue

Then he rested another day and was given six drinks within [illegible] day doing no work The second examination showed his body and nerves had undergone the same fatigue as on the day he worked.'

Sin Triumphs at San Jose.

Those eminent Christian statesmen "Red" and "Black" Hayes, designated by the ungodly as Rouge et Noir, suffered a sad reverse in the result of the San Jose election. With two newspapers and a well-oiled machine at their command, and the clergy at their back, also the sinews of war, they went down to inglorious defeat. The municipal administration they denounced as corrupt and extravagant, and a protector of graft and vice was overwhelmingly endorsed. Every candidate on the anti-Hayes ticket was elected by a big majority.

Whether the result of the election is a proof of the perversity of the San Jose populace or a repudiation of the Hayes domination in politics depends upon the point of view. The Christian statesmen and their adherents construe it as an evidence of wickedness on the part of the electorate, but their opponents say it is a popular rebuke to humbug reform, hypocrisy, bossism and false pretense; they assert that the charges made in the Hayes organs against the Davison administration were false and malicious, and were so regarded by the voters.

Furthermore, the enemies of the Hayes dispensation say the San Jose public took no stock in the reform and anti-corporation professions of a man who begged the Southern Pacific and Abe Ruef four years ago to nominate him for Governor; and declare, moreover, that despite their saintly pretenses "Red" and "Black" practice all the smooth tricks and rough play of practical politics; that they are "muckers" at the political game and hypocrites in religion.

But we regard these expressions as unjust and untrue. They wrong a pair of holy men who are too good for their town and time, whose virtues and piety are not appreciated by a wicked generation, whose efforts to govern the community as did the prophets of Israel, for righteousness sake, are resisted by the children of darkness.

Evidently San Jose is going straight to perdition. Otherwise the city would not have turned against the saintly missionaries who are striving to establish a political Eden in the Santa Clara Valley.

It was ever so. The devil is forever putting sand in the sugar and mixing rum with the holy water. His imps have nothing to do but set snares for the feet of the righteous and spoil the plans of the pious. The patron saint of San Jose should petition the Legislature to change the name of the town. The returns move one to sadness and grief.

"A wise author needs a wise reader," says a literary critic. That explains why foolish books find a larger sale than wise ones.

Oscar Hammerstein says grand opera in New York is a financial failure. Nevertheless he is credited with making a good thing out of it. When he began giving grand opera in opposition to the Metropolitan Opera House he was not credited with being a rich man. The managers of the Metropolitan sunk two millions trying to drive him out of the grand opera game, losing in one year three-quarters of a million, and in the end were compelled to buy Hammerstein out and take his contracts off his hands. Report alleges that he made about as much as the Metropolitan lost fighting him. His statement that grand opera in New York is a financial failure must therefore be taken as a sardonic gibe at the men who declared he would "blow up" before the first season was over. Taken in that sense Hammerstein's statement is a tribute to his own financial sagacity. He made it a failure for the other fellows. But in the meantime New York had for several seasons the best opera produced anywhere in the world.

The Express Extortion.

There is no tangible reason why express rates should be so high. No rational excuse has ever been presented for the vast discrepancy between ordinary freight rates on parcels and packages and express charges. By arrangement the express business of the country is divided up among certain companies who operate on a community of interest plan. Virtually, they constitute a transportation trust.

But for the co-operation and favor of the railroads they could not monopolize the express business the way they do, nor extort the exorbitant rates they charge. They employ little capital in their business, railroad, boat and steamship companies furnishing in reality the transportation agencies. What the express companies really do is to maintain an organized force for dispatching, forwarding and delivering articles of light weight and considerable value. Their equipment requires only a small investment and they are capitalized for many times the amount of money invested.

The prices they charge are out of all proportion to the service they render and the capital they employ. By collusion between themselves and the railroad companies they are practicing extortion on the public.

If they will not abate their exactions and cannot be compelled by law to do so, then the government should establish a parcels post system as a check to their rapacity. As a matter of general policy, the government should refrain from business activities as much as possible, but public necessity required the establishment of the postal service, and the extortion of the express companies may compel the extension of the service to the carriage and delivery of parcels and packages of limited size and weight. That would afford some relief from the express exaction, but will not entirely remedy it. There ought to be some way to discipline the express companies and bring their charges down to a legitimate scale.

A few years ago William Jennings Bryan advocated the free coinage of silver as a remedy for low prices; he declared that making silver an unlimited legal tender would create high wages for labor and high prices for farm products. Now he wants the tariff tried and gibbeted by the public hangman because, as he says, it is responsible for the prevailing high prices. He impeaches the tariff as the greatest criminal of the age for doing precisely what he desired to accomplish by opening the mints to the free coinage of silver. It is to Mr. Bryan's credit, however, that his sympathies are always with the fellows who are getting the gaff. When the prices for farm products were low he was for the producer. Now that products are away up in price, he is for the consumer.

It's an ill wind that blows nobody good. But why take so many words to designate the north wind.

STRANGE THINGS IN THE NEWS

Wild ducks are estimated to fly ninety miles an hour; swallows fly rather faster, and the swift flies above 200 miles an hour.

Sundays and fixed holidays excepted, it is estimated that £20,000 worth of fish is daily dragged out of the sea by British fishermen.

Mr. G. Blazier, who has sung in the choir for All Saints', Putney, for fifty-five years, has been presented with a purse of gold and an address.

Frederick Moore, ex-coxswain of the Scotland lifeboat, who has just died, helped to save 150 lives and had many narrow escapes from death.

A pair of magpies have built their nest in an elm tree close to the Three Magpies Inn, near Fairford, Glos. The proprietor of the inn is named Sparrow.

Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan has just given £105,000 for one of the best collections of ancient and ornamental watches in the world belonging to a Berlin gentleman.

For twenty-nine days a Kent artist named Charles Spencer has swallowed nothing but a glass of water. He has undertaken this fast because he is slightly delicate, and inclined to suffer from liver trouble. His weight has fallen from 9st. 3lb. to 6st. 11¾lb.

Mr. William Byford, whose death has just taken place at Long Melford, Suffolk, remembered seeing a man lead his wife to Clare Market with a halter around her waist and sell her for half a' crown, and also remembered seeing drunkards put in a cage at Cavendish Green.

Golf balls coated in luminous paint have just been tried by two members of the Old Trafford Club, Manchester. In a moonless and cloudy night the experiment was made. The balls shone bright in the darkness and were easily found. They can, it is said, be used in dry or wet weather, and each ball, according to the inventor, is good for several hours' play.

Signor Gabellini has invented a process for the building of ships in artificial stone, and a vessel of this type is working with so much success on the Main at Frankfort that several more are in course of construction in Italy and Germany. The great advantage of the system is that ships built of reinforced concrete are free from barnacles. As compared with ordinary ships, the weight of a vessel is one-third heavier, but the cost of construction is less by a fourth.

The largest barometer in the world was recently set up in the Italian town of Faenza, the birthplace of Torricelli, who discovered the barometer and the "vaccum" which perpetuates his name. The liquid used is purified oil rendered free from air, and this gives a column over eleven metres in height. Owing to the very small amount of evaporation an oil barometer is much more accurate than one filled with any other liquid except mercury, and the long column makes it very sensitive.

Census Disappointments

San Bernardino is a good deal disturbed to find that the Federal census is likely to show a population of only about 12,000 for that city, which has been claiming 15,000 or 16,000 for some time. Riverside has not been quite so positive about having more than 13,000 people, and our more modest expectations are likely to be followed by less disappointment than will be experienced by some of our neighbors who have been indulging in some rather flamboyant claims on population.

We notice that San Diego, which has been claiming over 50,000 population, is now claiming 44,000, and we should judge from the school census that 35,000 would be nearer the correct figure. The Los Angeles Examiner says that city has a population of 306,500, and claims to have some sort of official tip to confirm this estimate. Even that will be quite a come-down for a city that confidently claimed over 360,000 before annexing San Pedro, Hollywood and several other places that must have added 25,000 or 30,000 to the population of the city.—Riverside Press.

Interesting Bits

The logs of the Lincoln cabin which have been stored in a Louisville warehouse for nearly four years, have been taken to Hodgenville, Ky., where they will again be erected into a structure like the original in which Abraham Lincoln was born. The cabin will be reconstructed inside the memorial hall on the Lincoln farm, near Hodgenville.

This country is not alone in facing an egg problem. England is endeavoring to stimulate egg production, and a missionary egg train is planned to be dispatched through western England and Wales, where it is said that the egg industry is at a low ebb. The United Kingdom now imports nearly one-half the eggs consumed.

Russia is becoming interested in hydro-electric power plants, and is examining into the matter of electrifying suburban divisions of its state railroads. An investigation is being made of our high-tension transmission system, and it is probable that a new field will be opened for American engineers.

Decline of the Muckraker

Attorney General Wickersham, like his colleague, Secretary Ballinger, has no intention of retiring from office in the immediate future. Increasingly arduous as his duties have grown since taking office, he yet finishes today's task with pleasurable anticipations of tomorrow's. For him public office has compensations outweighing its burdens and the added infliction of muckraking. Approached in New York by a news writer who put the almost invariable question a cabinet officer has thrust at him every time he ventures out of Washington—"Are you about to resign, as stated?"—the Attorney General denied the impeachment and later declared in a public address that he liked his job, notwithstanding the increasing rain of imprecations his official acts invoked.

As a matter of fact, the muckraker has seen his most prosperous days. The reading public is inclined to yawn over what used to give it a thrill, and throw down in disgust, or read with amusement, what once had the force of a revelation. The remnant, it is true, is dying hard, but the maligners of great note who gave the rake its vogue are all out of the game, while but few of the many publications which once made it a specialty now exploit it as "hot stuff."

Nowadays, warfare of this sort seldom is waged on men because of their wealth, as formerly, but finds its prey among public officials, preferably those chosen to high station from private life, and hence to be attacked with more impunity and success than men long in the public eye. The attitude of Messrs. Wickersham and Ballinger serves to bring appreciably closer the day when muckrakers shall have been frowned down to the irreducible minimum.—Washington Post.

DUAL IDENTITY LEADS TO CRIME

Blow on Head Transforms an Upright Man Into Daring Burglar.

SOMERVILLE, N. J., May 17.—That the blow of a baseball on the head can change a man of the highest moral rectitude into a daring and expert criminal is the view expressed by the police in their explanation to the court of charges brought against William Miller of Raritan, N. Y. According to the police, [illegible] Miller's arrest on a charge of larceny has brought to light a remarkable case of dual identity corresponding in many points to the story of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde.

ACCIDENT CAUSES CHANGE

The police vouch for the statement that before his accident in the baseball game several weeks ago Miller was a model in the community. After that accident his friends say that he frequently had periods of apparent aberration when he would become morose, shun their company and disappear from their view for several hours. When he returned he seemed to be again happy and was unable to recall anything that happened in the meantime.

During one of these periods of aberration, the police say, they caught Miller [illegible] ticket office and that at another time they charge him with [illegible] registers in a local department store. Miller declares he has no recollection of these acts and the police are convinced that he is not shamming.

PSYCHOLOGICAL PUZZLE

This prisoner's plight is more psychological than criminal, was the explanation of the chief of police to Justice K[illegible]n. His impulse to steal is brain trouble that has resulted from an accident that he suffered on the ball field. In his normal state he seems entirely removed from the criminal acts of his other ego.

A committee of New York experts will examine Miller before his case is taken up again in the court.

Mr. Reis will entirely renovate and remodel the premises and open in a few weeks with one of the finest shoe emporiums on the Pacific coast. Mr. Reis is counted as one of the most prosperous and progressive merchants of this city and will have [illegible] Oakland [illegible] establishment [illegible].

ANNOUNCEMENTS

SUCH A HAPPY SAILOR

'Billy' Elwood at the Bell this week in the role of the happy sailor is one who radiates fun and joviality with every word and action. His many original and laugh-making stunts are seemingly funny and while they may border on the near-ridiculous yet they serve to amuse and entertain, and after all what is the province of a comedian but to make people enjoy themselves. Billy sings some songs, tells a few stories and otherwise disports himself in a manner to keep everybody happy. His entrance in a miniature boat with sails full spread and the comic antics he performs in order to effect a supposed landing are [illegible] laugh [illegible]. The bill throughout is a capital one and one everybody will enjoy.

DETWILER WANTS CHARGES QUASHED

Asks That Indictments Be Dismissed, Alleging Heney Is Not State Official.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 17.—Through his counsel, Attorney W. F. Kaufman, A. K. Detwiler, the Home Telephone [illegible], this morning moved to set aside the thirteen indictments against him for the alleged bribery of the board of supervisors. The case was postponed until Friday next. One of the points raised which differ from that put forward by the other so-called graft defendants was the allegation that Francis J. Heney, the private prosecutor, was without authority to act as an officer of the State of California and was in reality a deputy attorney general of the United States.

The motion reads:

"The said Heney was not an officer * * * neither an interpreter nor stenographer."

Other points on which the indictments are declared to be faulty are the insufficiency of the evidence, the fact that the jury received evidence of other crimes, that the names of the witnesses were not endorsed on the true bill and that the grand jury itself was improperly drawn.

Suggests Arbitration For Boundary Dispute

WASHINGTON, May 17.—The United States has suggested [illegible] that the boundary question involved in the [illegible] Chamizal zone be submitted to some well known jurist of a mutually friendly power for arbitration. The question involves the [illegible] section of the city of El Paso, Tex., valued at several million dollars, [illegible] by right under the [illegible] treaty of the United States with Mexico to Mexico or to the State of Texas.

INFANT SON MEETS DEATH IN FLAMES

George Kish, 3-Year-Old Boy, Meets Tragic End in Cottage Fire.

FRUITVALE, May 17.—In a fire that started with the small boy playing with matches, George Kish, the 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kish of Delaware street, was burned to death yesterday afternoon at a late hour. The home was completely destroyed.

The presence of the boy in the burning house was not discovered until the building was wrapped in flames and only the efforts of the firemen prevented the crazed parents from rushing in to save their child at the certain loss of their own lives.

The boy's mother was asleep in the afternoon when he returned home and it is thought that he played with matches and so started the blaze. When Mrs. Kish awakened she did not know the child had come home. His remains were found near the kitchen of the house.

The bereaved parents lost another child in a tragic manner three years ago, their 3-year-old girl Ellen being scalded to death. The dead boy is survived by a brother, Albert, aged 14, and two sisters, Rose and Mary, aged 9 and 7 respectively.

The house was a total loss. It was valued at $1500.

HIDECKER YARDS BOUGHT BY HOGAN

Lumber Company Makes It the Second Purchase Within the Year.

The Hogan Lumber Company has just purchased the yard of the Hidecker Lumber Company of Oakland, located on Sixtieth street near the Berkeley boundary line. The consideration of the deal is $[illegible]0,000.

This is the second yard which the Hogan Lumber Company has purchased within a year. Mr. Hogan reports that his company is willing to purchase still other yards if any of them are for sale. It is a good indication of the prosperity of the Hogan Lumber Company and the success it has enjoyed in the business in this city and its faith in the future of Oakland and the lumber trade.

The Hogan Lumber Company is the pioneer in the trade in Oakland, all of the old companies having retired from the field. Its yard, mill and wharf are located at the foot of Alice street, south of First, and extends westward to the line of Harrison street. The Hidecker company will be operated by the Hogan Lumber Company until the stock of lumber is all sold. Meantime it will be disposed of at reasonable prices. The Sixtieth street yard will be finally closed when the stock has been exhausted.

Fugitive Murderer Official of the Law

SPOKANE, Wash., May 17.—After seven years a fugitive from justice, three years of which he served as a regular uniformed merchants' policeman in Spokane, Grant M. Walker yesterday morning was arrested in Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, by Officer G. K. [illegible], charged with the murder of F. Huston, chief of police of Bristol, Tenn., in February, 1903. Walker, according to the police, admits his guilt and will return to Tennessee to face trial without requisition papers. According to the description sent out from Tennessee, Walker broke jail May 22, 1903, three weeks after he had been arrested for the murder of the officer with whom he had quarreled. He was identified by means of a photograph

OLD MAN FAINTS IN GREEK THEATER

Heat and Excitement Is Too Much for Old Graduate of State University.

BERKELEY, May 17.—Overcome by the heat in the Hearst Greek Theater, which caused much discomfort during the course of the Jubilee oration given this morning by President Arthur Hadley of Yale University before 6000 people, Henry K. Goddard, a pioneer of California and one of the oldest graduates of the university, swooned during the ceremony this morning and now lies in a critical condition under the care of physicians. The heat and excitement proved too much for the old man and it is probable, according to the attending physicians, that serious consequences will result.

Goddard is one of the pioneers of this State and was a warm personal friend of Henry Durant, the first president of the university. He is about 70 years of age and rather feeble, and some difficulty was experienced in getting him from the theater during the ceremony on account of the crowds. His son-in-law, M. H. C[illegible]k, manager of the White House in San Francisco, was notified and the old man will this evening be removed to his home on Lake street in the Richmond district, San Francisco.

Several women in the theater this morning almost fainted during the course of the program. The sun beat down into the big cement bowl in which there is no shade, and several physicians were asked to attend the affair in case of an accident.

Safe and Sane Fourth Oakland Council's Aim

An ordinance providing for a safe and sane Fourth of July in Oakland has been prepared by the ordinance and judiciary committee of the City Council and will be discussed in all its phases at the next meeting of the body, June 2. Owing to the fact that the recommendation of the ordinance at this meeting would necessitate its delay in passage to almost the end of June, those interested in the matter are urging that a special meeting of the council be held and the ordinance passed.

The Board of Insurance Underwriters is especially interested in the ordinance and has passed a resolution indorsing it

BOY CROOK GIVEN 4-YEAR SENTENCE

Frank Thomas to Go to San Quentin for Swindling Attorney.

Frank Thomas, with a criminal record covering the entire country west of the Mississippi river and known to the police in all the large cities of the west as "The Boy Bunco Steerer" on account of his youthful appearance, was sentenced this morning in the criminal department of the Superior Court by Judge Brown to serve four years in the penitentiary at San Quentin for obtaining $100 from Attorney Robert M. Fitzgerald by false pretenses on the [illegible] day of last March.

On the morning of the day in question Thomas called on Attorney Fitzgerald and represented that he and an imaginary brother were [illegible] news stands in Oakland [illegible] certain [illegible] on the morning he had prevented [illegible] consignment of periodicals from coming to them by mail but that it had arrived at the Oakland mole in charge of [illegible] the name of Banning and that if he (Thomas) and his brother could not raise the money necessary to take it up by 1:25 o'clock that afternoon they would not only lose the business [illegible] would bring him but the agencies as well. Thomas appeared so truthful to Fitzgerald and he told such a simple and plausible story that without investigation the attorney advanced to him the $100 he asked for.

Immediately upon securing the money Thomas disappeared and a few days afterwards was arrested in Los Angeles as a fugitive from justice and brought back to Oakland. When arraigned in the Superior Court he pleaded guilty to the crime for which Judge Brown sentenced him this forenoon.

Big Boon to Coalinga Section

WATER OVERCOME BY ASSOCIATED ON SECTION

Big Company Finds Solution to Problem That Has Taxed Efforts of Experts.

WELLS TO BE FINISHED AS FAST AS POSSIBLE

From North and West, Towards Southeast, Development Is Going On.

COALINGA, May 17.—Development on section 3[illegible], 11 [illegible] the Associated Oil Company is being diverted from the north and west sides to the southeast corner where development was originally commenced but suspended owing to water troubles. The [illegible] of the oil sand in relation to the water bearing stratum has been determined and the wells on this part of the property will be cemented and brought into production.

The company is building five new cottages for the use of employes along the east line of the section and will build a workshop and auxiliary boiler plant. Well 3 B is being rigged up and will spud in next Tuesday. No. 4 C is in the oil sand and will soon be on the list of producers.

Samples of oil of different gravity have been sent to Stanford University by Geologist McLaughlin of the Associated Oil Company. The samples represent different sections of the field and range in gravity from 12 degrees Baume found at the St. Paul wells to 3[illegible] degrees found at the wells of the Home Oil Company. Samples of Mohawk oil of 31 degrees and National Thirty of 20 degrees were also included in the collection.

VALLEY DRILLS CEMENT

The Valley Oil Company has drilled through the cement recently put into well No. 1 to shut off the water. Six tons were forced into the hole and as a result when bailed down the water did not rise an inch. The well is 2272 feet deep and will soon be brought into production. The oil sand was encountered several months ago when the first attempt at cementing was made.

Well No. 2 will soon be started as the material is on the ground for the rig and contracts for drilling with a rotary are now being called for.

SUPPRESSES A GUSHER

While nothing is given out by the management, it is generally reported the Azores Oil Company on section [illegible]-21-15 while bailing well No. 1 came near having a gusher as the water began to rise in the well and it was found necessary to stop bailing and fill the hole with more water.

The Mohawk Oil Company's gusher on section 12-20-15 is making a steady flow of 1250 barrels per day. Wells No. 2 and [illegible] are both being drilled using fifteen-inch stone pipe casing.

Coalinga Eight Oil Company on section 8-20-15 has cottages up for the employes and manager and the rig is almost ready for the installation of the rotary outfit. This property was recently purchased from Victor H. Metcalf, ex-secretary of the United States navy.

A well has been brought in on the property of the Hawkeye Oil Company which recently purchased the San Juan and Netherlands Oil Company's property on section 28-20-14. The well, while shallow, is doing better than 10[illegible] barrels per day.

Union Oil Pumping Station at Ventura

VENTURA, May 17.—The Union Oil Company will build a pumping station in this city to supply oil for the big sugar refinery at Oxnard. Grading for the building has already commenced and in a few days work will be begun on the building.

The Union Oil Company has the contract for supplying the Oxnard factory with oil and up to this time it has supplied the oil in tank cars on the railroad. But it is figured that the oil can be transported with less expense and less waste by pipe line and to that end the pumping station will be established.

The Union's oil from its fields of this county is light oil and the company finds great demand for refining and it brings a high price. Heavy fuel oil will be shipped here by steamer from [illegible] Los Angeles and Fullerton fields, pumped into [illegible] and thence pumped to the factory. It will be necessary to construct a pipe line from Ventura to Montalvo to connect with the line [illegible]. Fifteen to twenty men will [illegible] work at once on the [illegible] the city to make the extension.

The pumping plant to be erected will be [illegible] capable of delivering [illegible] barrels an hour to the factory.

PRICE OF OIL

The report [illegible] shows [illegible] Midway [illegible] Agency [illegible] realized [illegible] was 4[illegible] cents a bar[illegible]

WILL PARALLEL PIPE LINE TO PORT HARFORD

Contract Let by Producers Transportation Company for Work to Cost Millions.

DOHENY COMPANIES JOIN INDEPENDENTS AGENCY

With Canfield and Barneson Interest to Apply for Admission.

BAKERSFIELD, May 17.—The Producers Transportation Company, which has just completed an oil pipe line from the Midway, Kern river and Coalinga fields to Port Harford at a cost of over $[illegible],000, already has decided to parallel its lines and has let the contracts for the pipe at a cost that must exceed $[illegible],000. The Producers Transportation Company is owned by the Union Oil Company.

When the Producers Transportation Company's first line was projected it was thought that upon completion it would go far toward handling the oil of the independent producers in the northern fields. Record time was made in building this vast work and upon its completion not very many months ago the officials of the Union Oil Company which financed the undertaking, and the men who had charge of the building of the big system of pipe lines were congratulated by all oil operators for the completeness of the system and the fast manner in which it had been constructed.

Now the capacity of the line is far short of handling the traffic that is offered and to accommodate the concerns which are affiliated with it the service to the coast mark[illegible] will be doubled.

HIGH PRICES FOR KERN OIL LANDS

Offer of $30,000 an Acre Refused for Big Producing Area.

BAKERSFIELD, May 17.—Some Kern county land is worth $30,000 an acre. How it has attained this stupendous value [illegible] on the assertion that there is a thirty acre tract in McKittrick [illegible] on which an offer of $1,000,000 was made and declined. There are [illegible] wells on the property and they are producing [illegible] barrels a day. About $10[illegible] has been expended in development work. [illegible] this amount the value at $900,000 would be $30,000 an acre.

Another tract in the Midway field could not be bought for $600,000 although this sum was offered for twenty acres. There are five producing wells, none of them spectacular. About $1[illegible] had been expended in development. This would fix the market value at $30,000 an acre.

OIL NOTES

The Moslem Oil Company in the south field which has been shut down for the past month will resume active operations shortly. The hole is 400 feet deep in 12½ inch casing. The Dominion, also in the south field and under the management of G. W. Warner, is down 9[illegible] feet in 10 inch casing and it is stated that a splendid showing of gas and oil has been made.

[illegible] on 32-19-1[illegible] has 800 feet of 12½ inch casing in well No. 1 and No. 2 is down [illegible]00 feet in 16 inch stove pipe.

The British Consolidated Oil Company, Ltd., a Canadian corporation which secured a portion of the holding of the Consolidated Water Company on section [illegible] has erected derrick and [illegible] & Johnson, the rotary men, will start drilling in a few days.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the [illegible] Oil Company the following officers and directors were elected: H. C. Kerr, president; F. Bennett, first vice president; J. Mills, second vice president; C. A. Stevens and J. M. [illegible]. George E. H. Sitchell was elected secretary and the Bank of Coal[illegible] treasurer. Treasury stock to the amount of [illegible] shares was ordered prorated among the stockholders at 25 cents a share. Manager Frank Nevins reported that the well was 3050 feet deep [illegible].

WITH INDEPENDENT

When the [illegible] Producers [illegible] in Bakersfield tomorrow [illegible] it will be made that the [illegible] Oilfields Company, the American Petroleum Company, the Nevada Petroleum Company (Doheny and Canfield companies) and all the companies controlled by Capt. John Barneson of San Francisco have applied for membership.

WILL USE OIL

[illegible] P. St. C[illegible], president of the Producers Transportation Company and [illegible] connected with the Independent Oil Producers Agency, of which the Union Oil Company is the selling [illegible], has closed a contract with the Great Northern Railroad Company, owned by James J. Hill, for the use of California oil for locomotive fuel. This is [illegible] as a great extension of the market for California oil.

Two Valleys Suffer From Wind and Fire

SANTA ROSA, May 17.—Fire and wind ran riot in the Sonoma and Napa valleys yesterday at a cost of one life and thousands of dollars in property losses to ranchers and owners of country homes. Here is a summary of the damage done:

At Caliente in Sonoma county Mrs. G. Poloni was electrocuted by stepping on a live wire broken down by falling trees.

At St. Helena the sanitarium was threatened with destruction and $8000 damage was suffered in that part of Napa county.

In the town of Sonoma the historic flagpole that in 1846 bore the first bear flag of California was blown down. Buildings were unroofed by the gale and chimneys demolished.

Ten miles from this city the $100,000 home of former United States Senator Thomas Kearns was menaced by the flames and a number of outbuildings were destroyed.

At Asti the residence of Superintendent [illegible] of the Italian Swiss Colony was burned.

On Hood Mountain the summer home of [illegible] H. P. Kinnersley of San Rafael was destroyed.

At El Verano a dance hall was blown down.

DULL, ACHING PAINS

A Tacoma Woman Tells How She Was Cured of a Trouble That Is Common to Her Sex.

Every woman should look well to the condition of her blood if she would escape days and weeks of useless and unnecessary suffering.

Any weakness of the blood will quickly make itself known in the form of pain that nine-tenths of women suffer in silence, not knowing that a remedy that will build up and strengthen the blood will quickly relieve and cure it. Women owe it, not only to themselves, but to their families to try a medicine that has accomplished this result in so many cases that its effects can be thoroughly relied upon.

Mrs. O. L. Taylor, of No. 1214 South F[illegible] street, Tacoma, Wash., [illegible] from the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. She says:

"F[illegible] weeks or eight years I suffered from pain in my back and head. They were dull aching pains and were worse just [illegible]. Our doctor at [illegible], where I was then living, said I was suffering from weakness common to my sex. The pains made me very nervous and I could not get much sleep. My appetite was poor and I became quite thin. The doctor did not do more than give me temporary relief and the long sickness caused my blood to become thin and my nerves weak.

"It was only when I tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills that I received permanent relief. After a short trial I found that they were helping me as I began to have a good appetite, to get good sleep and to feel stronger in every way. The pills entirely cured me and I feel that it is my duty to tell other suffering women of this medicine."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have been so successful in curing the characteristic ailments of womankind that they are justly regarded as a specific for anaemia or bloodlessness, chlorosis or green sickness, delayed development and all irregularities arising from impure or watery blood and weak nerves.

For complete information about the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in our case, send a postal card request for our free booklet, "Plain Talks to Women."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

KEEP YOUR SEAT OR SUFFER FINE

Council Considers Ordinance That Will Eliminate Annoyance in Theaters.

An ordinance was introduced at the meeting of the city council last night providing that it shall be unlawful for any person to leave or take his or her seat in a theater during a performance and stipulating a fine of $5 for the violation of the proposed law.

Councilman Everhart said that he was introducing the ordinance because he believed that the constant streaming of people to and fro during a theater performance is an outrage.

If this ordinance is passed and becomes a law in the city of Oakland there will be few fines imposed as a result, [illegible] but the owners of the theaters will see [illegible] that it is obeyed.

The ordinance was referred to the ordinance and judiciary committee of the council.

What to Do With Money Is Question

The question as to what could be done with the money which is paid into the superintendent of streets office as deposits by sidewalk contractors as a guarantee of sufficient work came up before the city council last night. Commissioner of Streets Howe explained that he was forced to keep it in his office as the city treasurer would not accept it.

Howe explained that he believed all city money should be kept in the city treasurer's office, but was shown that the deposits were not city money but belonging to the contractors.

City Treasurer Morse refuses to accept the money as he says that it would not be fair to his bondsmen for him to handle any other but that belonging to the city.

The question was not decided last night.

Saloon Transfers Granted by Council

The following liquor license transfers were approved finally by the City Council last night: [illegible] Lassen, 475 [illegible] street; William Wicking, 901 Broadway; A. W. K[illegible], northwest corner of Sixtieth and A[illegible]

High School Pupils Rehearse For Musical Comedy, "Sylvia"

Two of those who will play in the musical comedy, "Sylvia."

Rehearsals have been commenced for the big production of "Sylvia," a dainty musical comedy to be produced by the pupils of the local Polytechnic High School at Idora Park on the evening of May 20. A cast of sixty has been selected for the occasion and a feature of the performance will be a chorus of fifty carefully trained boys and girls who will support the principals.

The production is being staged under the direction of Garnet Holmes, dramatic coach of the University of California, and Miss Harriet Rice has the musical score in charge.

The play itself is a charming fantasy of spring, and Miss Marie Kennedy will assume the title role. Others in the cast will be Lawrence Wra[illegible] as the "Prince," Wallace Kyte as the "Poet," and Niles Searles as the "Farmer." Miss Florence Jacobus will enact the role of "Betty."

WOULD REGULATE FENDERS ON CARS

Councilman Cobbledick Submits Proposed Ordinance for Saving Lives.

An ordinance providing that all street cars in the city of Oakland be provided with life-saving fenders was introduced by Councilman Cobbledick at a meeting of the City Council last night.

Cobbledick's ordinance provides for the style of fender used throughout the East and in Los Angeles. It resembles a large wire-bound basket and throws any one hit by a car into the springs, where he lays until the car is brought to a stop.

At a recent meeting of the council when Councilman Cobbledick first brought up the question of the proposed ordinance he declared that he had seen the necessity of it, as he had stood at the corner of Twelfth and Clay streets when a woman was killed by a car while he says she would have been saved had the car been provided with the style of fender he advocates.

MOTHER'S FRIEND

A LINIMENT FOR EXTERNAL USE.

Cheerfulness and a bright disposition during the months before baby comes, are among the greatest blessings a mother can bestow upon the little life about to begin. Her happiness and physical comfort will largely govern the proper development of the health and nature of the child. Mother's Friend contributes much to the mother's happiness and health by the relief and mental comfort it affords. It is a liniment composed of penetrating oils and medicines which lubricate the muscles and tendons of the body, soothe the swollen mammary glands, cause a gradual expansion of the skin and tissues, and aid in the relief of nausea. The regular use of Mother's Friend greatly lessens the pain and danger when baby comes, and assures a quick and natural recovery for the mother. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. Write for our free book, containing valuable information for expectant Mothers.

COUNCIL DECIDES ON STREET WORK

Many Improvements Provided for on Thoroughfares in Oakland.

The recommendations of the building and finance committee were adopted by the City Council last night as follows:

That various claims for labor on the Eighth street bridge and Twelfth street dam be [illegible] paid.

That four claims of the Suburban Light and Power Company be approved and the clerk be directed to transmit said claims to the Board of Supervisors for payment.

That the Board of Public Works be authorized to refund $12 to N. Anderson and $[illegible] to the Oakland Electric Company for building permits canceled.

That the Board of Public Works be authorized to purchase an automobile and the sum of $498 be appropriated therefor.

That the Board of Public Works be authorized to insure the City Hall and the sum of $[illegible] be appropriated therefor.

That a resolution appropriating $106.86 for the construction of a sewer in Twenty-second street be adopted.

That the following bills be passed to print: Authorizing the Board of Public Works to purchase a steel tank oil wagon; authorizing the Board of Public Works to award a contract for resurfacing Twelfth street between First and Third avenues; authorizing the Board of Public Works to [illegible] public printing; authorizing the Board of Public Works to advertise for bids for sweeping paved streets.

New Auto Authorized For Street Deputy

"For the first time during my membership in the city council of the city of Oakland the street department has a surplus," declared Councilman Ellsworth last night at the regular meeting of that body. The matter of using the surplus, amounting to $[illegible], for the purpose of buying an automobile for the use of the chief deputy superintendent of streets was before the council and Councilman Ellsworth moved that the money be used for that purpose. Ellsworth said:

"I believe that Commissioner of Streets Howe is responsible for the present condition of affairs in that department. His energetic and efficient work has brought about this condition and I believe that we should grant him the use of this money in purchasing a machine for Deputy [illegible], who in scurrying around the recently annexed district is badly in need of some such mode of conveyance."

The councilmen unanimously approved the resolution.

COUNCIL MAY BAR DIRTY CONFETTI

Law Against Picking Carnival Paper From Streets Introduced at Meeting.

Councilman Ellsworth introduced an ordinance at a meeting of the City Council last night prohibiting confetti being picked up on the street during a celebration to be used a second time.

The reason for the proposed law, according to Councilman Ellsworth, is the elimination of danger to eyesight and the destruction of clothing.

The ordinance was drawn up by the councilman following the recent Portola celebration in San Francisco when many people were nearly blinded by the dust and dirt in the confetti thrown by some of the merrymakers.

The ordinance was referred to the ordinance and judiciary committee.

Street Resolution Adopted by Council

The City Council last night adopted the following resolutions of the ordinance and judiciary committee:

That a resolution declaring it the sense of this council that the [illegible] removed from the west [illegible] Fourteenth street be [illegible].

That the following [illegible] print: Prohibiting the [illegible] or transportation of [illegible] ding the distribution from house to house of drugs or medicines [illegible] requiring persons in charge of street cars to bring same to a full stop before crossing any railroad over which trains are operated.

That an ordinance regulating the establishment of public laundries be amended by striking out of section 1 the word and in the third line and substituting in lieu thereof the word or and by striking out the word twenty and substituting in lieu thereof the word fifty—that the ordinance be then passed to print.

To Buy Equipment For Oiling Streets

Commissioner of Streets Walter C. Howe last night was granted permission by the city council to expend $1500 on oil equipment for the purpose of oiling the macadam streets in the recently formed districts about the city.

Howe's request was that he be allowed to use half of the $3000 which was granted him last year to erect an asphalt plant. He explained he has discovered that $3000 was not enough to erect the kind of plant needed by the city and that the oil equipment was a most necessary feature at this time.

It was finally decided that the asphalt plant plan be put over until next year and that the oil equipment be purchased.

Key Route Matter Before Commission

A communication was received last night by the city council from the board of harbor commissioners to the effect that the matter of the application of the franchise of the San Francisco, Oakland & San Jose railroad, known as the Key Route, from 1000 feet terminal facilities of the western water front, was still being considered and will be reported back to the council within a short time.

The application was referred to the harbor commissioners by the council with a request that a written statement of decision in the matter be returned to the latter body.

Accept Right of Way Offer by Syndicate

The City Council last night adopted the following recommendations of the drainage and sanitary committee:

That the easement and right of way offered by the Realty Syndicate for a proposed outlet sewer for Greenwood avenue district be accepted.

That a resolution of intention to sewer Fifteenth avenue from East Fourteenth street to East Twelfth street be adopted.

Burglar Loots Home Of Valuable Jewels

SEATTLE, Wash., May 17.—A burglar who broke into the home of F. Y. Burns on Denny way last night looted the room occupied by his daughter, Mrs. Gertrude M. Madison, and got away with diamonds and other jewels valued at $1000. None of the family was home when the robbery was committed.

LION FONDLES A CHILD

In Pittsburg a savage lion fondled the hand that a child thrust into his cage. Danger to a child is sometimes great when least regarded. Often it comes through Colds, Croup and Whooping Cough. They slay thousands that Dr. King's New Discovery could have saved. "A few doses cured our baby of a very bad case of Croup," writes Mrs. George B. Davis, of Flat Rock, N. C. WOULD ENFORCE SANITARY LAW

East End Improvement Club Is After Scalps of Illegal Expectorators.

ALAMEDA, May 17.—The Board of Health is to be requested by the East End Improvement Club to go after the "spitters," especially those persons given to expectoration in cars in violation of an ordinance. Numerous complaints have been made of the habit of making the passenger cars of the Southern Pacific Company, particularly on the south side line, [illegible].

It has been [illegible] a time since the police made an arrest for a violation of the expectoration law. Those given to the practice of making cars and depots expectorating places have grown so careless, it is said, that the sanitary ordinance is but little heeded.

In the communication to be forwarded to the health authorities by the East End Club the sanitary officials will be urged to see that arrests are made and prosecutions conducted [illegible] in the cases of all persons detected in the act of breaking the expectoration ordinance.

NO TALK ON WATER

No representative of the Peoples Water Company was present at the meeting last night to address that organization on water matters. It was expected that a speaker would be on hand. In a letter to the club President Frank [illegible] of the Peoples Water Company said that the company had no man available to address the meeting last night.

Major J. H. Dockweiler, a civil engineer and expert on water sources, will deliver an address before the club on Monday evening, June 6. His subject will be "The Hetch Hetchy Valley Water Project."

PAYS BOOSTING VISIT

President Alois Kist and Secretary C. A. Bork of the North Side Improvement Club paid a boosting visit to the club last night. Both addressed the meeting and praised the East Enders for the live interest they are taking in civic affairs. The relations between the north siders and the east enders are of the [illegible] and [illegible] brand and they never overlook a chance to get together when there is anything that has to be done.

The first organization in Alameda to take stock in the Panama Canal Exposition is the East End Improvement Club. That organization decided to subscribe for $1000 stock in the proposed exposition. Most of this stock will be taken by members of the club.

Race to Dying Son Was of No Avail

LOS ANGELES, May 17.—Mrs. Belle Fulton of this city, who was racing to the bedside of her son in Paris on a schedule which would have reduced the time for the journey from this city to the French capital to ten days, learned today on her arrival in New York that haste was unavailing. Robert Fulton died in Paris yesterday.

George Mitchell of this city received a cablegram from his daughter, Mrs. Robert Fulton, conveying this news, but giving no details. Mrs. George Mitchell accompanied the elder Mrs. Fulton on what was to have been the record breaking journey.

Splendid Extravaganza Production Given by U. C. Seniors

Six of the Co-eds Who Took Part in the Senior Extravaganza, "The Chasers," in Hearst Greek Theater Last Evening.

MISS BESS KENTNER AND MISS GLADYS COURTIAN

MISSES BESS KENTNER, BERNICE KELLY, AND GLADYS COURTIAN

RICE PHOTOS.

MISS VERA TOMPLIN

BERKELEY, May 17.—"The Chasers," the extravaganza written by [illegible] and Nat Schmulowitz and produced by the Senior class in the University of California in the Hearst Greek theater last night, will live in the annals of the university as a performance [illegible] has surpassed [illegible] years [illegible] that [illegible] the [illegible] music [illegible] two clever [illegible] and music was written by [illegible] Hartigan composing the songs, ensembles and dances and Schmulowitz the story and the clever lines.

The play was supplied with jokes, a large amount of local color being given [illegible] allusions to college affairs [illegible] from the local application [illegible] the show stood by its [illegible] the average light opera. The chorus [illegible] were [illegible] the music [illegible] and the play full of life and color.

The highest tribute ever paid to students in the Hearst Greek theater was given Schmulowitz and Hartigan when the vast audience of more than [illegible] 000 [illegible] at the close of the last act and [illegible] for the joint authors to appear [illegible] at last ten minutes the ovation continued and the crowd seemed loath to leave the big open air auditorium.

The scene was more than usually picturesque. For at the close of the show the stage lights had been put out and red fire [illegible] above the battlements of the [illegible] green fires being placed in the trees at the rear of the auditorium. The night was ideal for the performance and the crowd lingered and waited before leaving the scene.

The [illegible] song sung by Douglas Brookman and the [illegible] chorus were most acceptable. Never before has such a [illegible] dancing been seen in the Greek [illegible] than that of Bernice Kelly, who took the part of Senorita Juana Castiloni, the Castilian lady. Miss Kelly is a member of the Delta Delta Delta sorority and of the Phi Beta Kappa society and besides excelling in scholarship and social affairs is well known in other college activities. But she set a new record in the Greek theater last night with her Spanish dance.

With an abandon that carried the big audience away she whirled and pirouetted on the stage, kicking up her skirts and clicking the castinets with an ability that would be acceptable on any professional stage.

Another feature on a par with that of Miss Kelley was the Dutch chorus led by Miss Vera Tomlin, whose dancing was as graceful and pleasing as that of Miss Kelley. She is a step dancer of the first class and few on the professional stage can equal her exhibition of last night. The choruses in both instances were excellent. Clad in knee skirts they danced the ensembles perfectly and won unstinted praise. The costuming of the cast was above par and all in all it was a production long to be remembered by spectator and participant alike.

KILL TREE PESTS WITH NEW DEVICE

University Professor Perfects Means of Fumigating Fruit Trees With Safety.

BERKELEY, May 17.—A new development in California agricultural science is shown in a circular just compiled by Professor C. W. Woodworth of the agricultural department of the University of California, who has developed a means by which the cyanide treatment of trees, useful in killing insects but heretofore dangerous to the tree, has been regulated so that it can be used with absolute safety. By the old method in which a tent was placed over a tree and filled with hydrocyanic gas the insects were only killed if enough gas was fed, and a slight excess of this quantity proved deadly to the tree. By the method [illegible] in calculating the amount of gas to be used errors amounting in some cases to as much as 100 per cent often occurred.

Woodworth's method has developed a plan [illegible] means of measuring the tent and shows that the [illegible] of the dose depends on the area of the canvas and not on the space to be filled. Inasmuch as several hundred thousand dollars are expended for fumigation in the south part of the state each year the saving made possible by the new system will amount to a considerable sum.

Another important discovery made by the agricultural department this [illegible] is a method of spraying with lime for the control of thrips, an insect which is extremely harmful to the fruit trees of the state. It now appears that all this harm can be averted by the use of a new spray. The discovery was made by Earl Morris, entomologist of Santa Cruz county.

Notre Dame Academy To Hold Exercises

ALAMEDA, May 17.—The twenty-ninth commencement exercises of Notre Dame Academy will be held on Tuesday morning, June [illegible], beginning at 10 o'clock. The Sisters of Notre Dame have issued many invitations to the exercises, and a large attendance is expected. The enrollment at the academy has been steadily increasing and the educational institution has come to be recognized as one of the schools for girls and young women on the Pacific Coast. Many of the students attending the academy are from outside [illegible].

Will Begin Work On New Cathedral

BERKELEY, May 17.—Work on the new First Baptist church, to be erected in this city at a cost of $35,000, will begin in July according to the board of trustees of the edifice, who have chosen the lot at the southwest corner of Dana and Haste streets as a site for the new building. At a meeting of the congregation held yesterday morning to consider financial arrangements for the new building, pledges to the amount of $20,300 were made, a pledge for $500 being sent by D. J. Harris of Evanston, Ill., a former member of the church.

Seniors at Yale Plan Petition for Morse

NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 17.—A petition is being circulated in the senior academic class at Yale in favor of a pardon for Charles W. Morse, the convicted banker, now in the Federal prison at Atlanta, Ga. The entire senior class will sign it and the petition will go to President Taft. Edwin A. Morse, son of Charles W. Morse, is a senior. The signature of Robert A. Taft, son of the President and a member of the senior class, is expected to be on the petition.

FEWER CHILDREN; INCOME LOWERED

Alameda School Department Suffers as the Result of a Decrease in Census.

ALAMEDA, May 17.—It is estimated that the Alameda school department will [illegible] of [illegible] as a result of the [illegible] census [illegible] $7 for each child of school census age.

The marshal's figures make it appear that there are [illegible] school children less in [illegible] at this time than there was for [illegible] last year when [illegible] the [illegible] school [illegible] question [illegible] unsettled.

Quaratine On Alameda Clubhouse Is Raised

Alameda, May 17.—The quarantine on the [illegible] Yacht Club house at the south end of Grand street has been raised by the Board of Health. The quarantine was established a week ago when it was found that a child of the keeper of the clubhouse had scarlet fever. The parents desired to move [illegible] Stege and City Physician [illegible] communicated with the secretary of the State Board of Health to ascertain if permission would be granted. Dr. [illegible] replied that the local Board of Health should not permit the scarlet fever patient to be moved beyond its jurisdiction until the patient had recovered.

The clubhouse keeper and his family have rented a house on Lost street. The yacht club quarters will be thoroughly fumigated.

COUNTY PASTORS SPEAK AT DINNER

Methodist Ministers' Association Discuss Work at Quarterly Banquet.

The quarterly dinner of the Methodist Ministers' Association of Alameda county was held last evening in the Eighth Avenue Methodist Episcopal Church.

Rev. A. J. Hanson presided. [illegible] of the association was toastmaster. [illegible] C. Lombard delivered the address of welcome. The speakers were Rev. William M. ALAMEDA, May 1[illegible].—[illegible] Roth, a contractor and builder, is to supervise the construction of a country residence for George K. Wilson of the Taylor Lumber Company at Saratoga. Roth is engaging a number of Alameda carpenters, among them being Lee K. [illegible] and Peter Peterson, to go with him to Saratoga. Roth expects that it will require about four months to construct the dwelling.

ASKS LATER DATE FOR ANNEXATION BATTLE

Berkeley Chamber of Commerce Points Out Argument Against August 22d.

UNIVERSITY STUDENTS WOULD BE ON VACATION

Primary Campaign Also Would Interfere With Proper Consideration of Voters.

The recommendation of the committee on ordinances and judiciary that the annexation election of Oakland and Berkeley be held on August 22 was laid over for approval by the City Council last night until the next regular meeting. There was no discussion on any phase of the argument which marked the proceedings in the committee at its last meeting.

At that time many business men of Berkeley and professors of the University of California were present and pleaded for a later date than August 22 for the reason that the students and faculty of the college would not be in town on that date.

The Berkeley delegation asked that the date be fixed as September [illegible] or any date thereafter, but the arguments of the West Berkeley aggregation prevailed with the councilmen and the committee recommended August 22.

The following communication from the Berkeley Chamber of Commerce was read at the meeting last night:

ASKED TO CONSIDER.

To the Oakland City Council:

Gentlemen:

We, the undersigned representatives of civic organizations and citizens of Berkeley, while recognizing that by the law the setting of a date for the proposed annexation election lies entirely within the discretion of your honorable body, nevertheless respectfully request that in fixing this date you will give due weight to the following considerations:

A proper petition having been by due process filed and verified, the election, in our opinion, ought to be held without [illegible] and the matter thus settled once for all. At the same time we respectfully submit that the date for the election ought to be set at such a time that will [illegible] provide for a thorough and [illegible] consideration of the subject on the part of all our citizens.

On August [illegible], the date proposed for the election, a large fraction of our people who make up the university community will [illegible] [illegible] from their vacations, since instruction in the university does not begin until August 23.

EFFECTS BOTH SIDES

Moreover, it will manifestly be impossible for either the proponents or opponents of the annexation to have presented their [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] We hold that the [illegible] campaign [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] of this issue [illegible] on the part of many [illegible]

We believe that this question of annexation should be [illegible] on this one issue [illegible] consideration. We believe that the issue is important enough to merit the undivided attention of our voters.

Accordingly we submit that it ought not to be held at a time which will compel the campaign for it to be held contemporaneously with [illegible] primary [illegible] a month later [illegible] in the consideration of this issue. Any date after the middle of September would seem to meet this requirement.

Trusting that the considerations above mentioned may have weight in setting this matter and in the interests of harmony for all concerned,

Very respectfully,

The Power of Equal Suffrage Demonstrated

At an Enormous Gathering on Broadway Last Saturday Night, When Men and Women of All Walks Discussed With Equal Intelligence the Subject

"The Rise of Flour; and How and Where to Get the Best Bread"

The President of the Golden Sheaf Bakery Co. had this to Say:

"We will keep our bread at the standard price, 5 cents a loaf; double loaf 10 cents.

"We will manufacture the BEST BREAD made.

"Pay the highest Union wages besides keeping the cleanest and most sanitary bakery in the United States.

"We are the only bakery in the United States that keeps a physician employed to constantly look after the health of our men, and to see that no man is employed who has any symptom of disease, either local or specific.

Read Dr. McNulty's Letter Below:

BERKELEY, Cal., March 28, 1910.

To MR. C. MIKKELSEN,
President Golden Sheaf Bakery Company.

Dear Sir:—

I hereby present for your consideration, report on sanitary and hygienic conditions I have found in the plant of the Golden Sheaf Bakery, for the current month.

I have made a careful physical examination of the men employed in the bakery and find them an exceptionally healthy lot of men. Clear skins and free from disease either of a local or specific character. No evidences of tuberculosis or other constitutional affections found.

A careful inspection of plant proper impresses me with the careful attention to details and efforts upon the part of the management to follow the rules of sanitation and hygiene. Cleanliness, light and good ventilation are in evidence throughout. These, combined with the first-class materials used in the bakery by clean men, renders the food output of this plant as wholesome as it is clean and pure.

I was especially interested to note the manner in which the bread was labeled and found the method used absolutely sanitary. The dry label being simply placed upon the loaf before its entrance into the oven, the process of baking being sufficient to cause adherance.

The storerooms are clean, dry and well ventilated.

The bakery has high ceilings, is light, clean, large cubic air capacity and well ventilated.

The lavatories are separate from the bakery.

The stables, some distance away and across the street, are kept in excellent sanitary condition.

Respectfully Submitted,
DR. J. H. McNULTY.

"To introduce our BREAD into every home we are presenting this beautiful $6000 BUNGALOW, located in one of the most desirable residence districts in California known as ROCK RIDGE PARK, 15 minutes from Fourteenth and Broadway, Oakland, and 17 minutes from the University of California in Berkeley.

"Pamphlets will be distributed to every home stating how to win it. "Our Bread is for sale at every store in Oakland, Berkeley and Alameda.

"Look for the GOLDEN SHEAF LABEL on the loaf, and if you get that you get a chance.

HARRISON STREET SEWER VOTED OUT

Council Also Lays Over Matter of Drainage on Alice One Week.

The city council last night laid over for one week a decision in the matter of constructing a sewer in Alice street and also unanimously carried the motion of Councilman Vose that a sewer would not be laid in Harrison street.

The matter of a sewer in Alice street is one in which the Oakland Hotel Company is interested. At present there is no provision for drainage from the basements of the proposed Oakland hotel at Thirteenth and Alice and Harrison streets.

Councilman Cobbledick moved for the laying over of the Alice street sewer matter for one week. In doing so he explained that his action was prompted by the fact that a proposition is on foot to lay sewers on both sides of the street and that a week's time is necessary to complete the formulation of the plans on foot. He also said:

"I understand that there is a proposition to do this work by private contract. I believe that this method would do away with a long delay, bound to be occasioned by public contract work."

Several property owners of Harrison street were present at the meeting last night to protest against the laying of a sewer in that street. Among these property holders were F. S. Stratton, collector of the port of San Francisco, Henry Gordon and Stephen D. Gage.

Councilman Cobbledick stated in his opinion there was no disposition to lay the sewer in Harrison street. Regarding this F. S. Stratton said:

"If there is no such disposition on the part of the council can we not have an assurance of this that we will not be called upon to appear at future meetings of your honorable body?"

Councilman Vose at this juncture offered a motion declaring it the sense of the council that no sewer will be laid in Harrison street. The motion was carried.

Dead Hindu Proves Titled East Indian

CHICAGO, May 17.—Proof that C. S. Rao, the Hindu who died at Elgin Friday under mysterious circumstances, was a titled East Indian, was brought to light yesterday when Elgin officials discovered a letter in one of his suit cases addressed to him as "Rajah." The letter bore the stamp of the Maharajah College of Madras, India, and apparently was a reply to a request from Rao for a statement from the college as to his standing. It reported him as having quitted the college while in good standing with all bills paid. The letter was dated September 28, 1909, shortly after which date Rao left India.

Information on Credit to Be Furnished by Comptroller of Currency.

WASHINGTON, May 17.—Information on credit, which will be of great value to national bank examiners, hereafter will be a feature of the office of the Comptroller of the Currency, according to plans outlined today by Mr. Murray, the head of the Bureau. From the information available, examiners may obtain data showing the financial standing of individuals, firms and corporations, so far as their borrowing privileges with national banks are concerned.

Reports conveying information of this character are to be made to the comptroller's office semi-annually, after the meetings held at these periods by the district examiners.

They are to show the general condition in the district; the number of examinations of banks that have been made, a list of those requiring examination more than twice a year; a list of defalcations, of "financiers of questionable methods" of the "outside or foreign paper borrowers whose principal headquarters or place of business is outside of the district covered by the reports, doubtful or questionable paper in which officers or directors or persons or firms are interested and large or extended lines of credit."

The semi-annual district meetings which are to be an innovation, are to be held early in July this year. At these gatherings Mr. Murray proposes that chairmen and individual examiners prepare for reading and discussion.

JAPANESE WOMAN BEATEN BY THUG

Attacked in Room by Masked Robber and Is Found Unconscious.

After having been attacked by a strange man whom she discovered hiding in her bedroom, robbed and finally beaten into insensibility, Mrs. K. Sheda, a Japanese woman, living at 842 Webster street, was found by her husband in an unconscious condition.

Sheda conducts a poolroom on the corner of Seventh and Webster streets, and the rooms in which the couple live are in the rear of the parlors. Mrs. Sheda, who helps her husband conduct his business during the evening, left him about 11 o'clock to go to bed. He did not follow until he had closed up the store at 12 o'clock, and it was then that he found her unconscious on the floor.

Mrs. Sheda went directly from the billiard parlor to her bedroom, she says. When she entered the room a masked man jumped from behind the door, and, without a word, struck her in the face. Repeatedly she was hit in the face and on the head. She finally fell unconscious, where she lay until her husband found her.

Mrs. Sheda believes that the motive of the attack was robbery, as a purse containing a small amount of silver was taken from the bureau. She says that her last thought was that he was running from the room, and that he was forced to step over her to do so.

Mrs. Sheda cannot say whether her assailant was an Oriental or a white man.

Delicious Gingerbread.

Children are great lovers of gingerbread, and grown folks, too, if it is of the rich "melt-in-the-mouth" kind. The following recipe by the famous Mrs. Mary J. Lincoln, is commended to those who delight in this delicacy:

Mix two cups flour, one-half level teaspoon salt, one level teaspoon soda, one level tablespoon ginger; stir in one cup molasses, two tablespoons softened Cottolene and one-half cup boiling water. Bake in shallow pan. If for dessert, bake in layers. Fill with whipped cream, flavored with lemon.

The little ones can eat this freely. Lard is indigestible, but Cottolene, the perfect shortening, makes food that agrees with the most delicate stomachs.

CHORUS GIRL'S FEET MUST BE UNMARRED

MILWAUKEE.—Another requisite has been added to the exaction imposed on the chorus girl. She must be without corns and bunions and the other ills that the feet of women are heir to.

In picking the broilers for "The Flirting Princess" Mort H Singer established a new standard for the typical Chicago chorus girl foot. Not only must it be a foot that stands the test of a number two or three French heel Cinderella slipper but it must also be perfect enough to appear unadorned with either golden slipper or silken stockings. It must pass the close inspection of an expert chiropodist and be O K'd for service in the barefoot chorus.

There are ten girls in "The Flirting Princess" who have been pronounced the possessors of perfect feet. They were picked from a field of fifty applicants for positions as the small girls of the Singer musical farce by Joseph C Smith the producer and Irene Calder who was one of the original La Salle broilers but who has given up the stage to devote herself to the art of nursing the pedal ills of actresses. The historic beauties of the French court whose feet were pictured in oil by the masters never had attendants who gave more care to this portion of their mistress toilet than the chiropodists give to the feet of these coryphees.

Yun Doesn't Like American Styles

CHICAGO.—T H Yun formerly Minister of Foreign Affairs and Vice Minister of Education of Corea is not sure that he likes the Chicago brand of civilization. He feels quite lost in Chicago [illegible] 5000 delegates to the missionary congress at the Auditorium. After urging the attractions of the simple life as only the Orientals know it he admitted that Corean life would be improved by a little speeding up from contact with the West. He said:

"In the East it is a young man's ambition to be old in the West it is an old man's ambition to be young. We of the East think and act as if we had an eternity to contemplate in instead of a generation in which to live. You of the West dress and eat and rush and hustle to catch the last train as it pulls out of the depot.

"An Oriental bride makes her dress at seventeen so it will be suitable for her at seventy. American women change the style and shape and size of their hats at least seven times a week."

Newlyweds Battle Over Pet Poodle

ATLANTA Ga.—The refusal of J McCourt a bridegroom of a few months to carry his wife's perfectly clean poodle dog under his arm while walking in the street caused a fight between the couple in public which resulted in their arrest. McCourt is a native of New York. His wife hails from Washington. They were married a few months ago and came to Atlanta.

Mrs McCourt is a handsome young woman and she wears pretty cloth[es]. Her husband is nice looking too and they are said to have shown all signs of being happily married up to the ill-fated hour when the poodle dog came between them.

At the police station the couple became reconciled and were released. Meanwhile the poodle has disappeared and Mr and Mrs McCourt are offering a reward for the dog.

bride's parents in upper Grant avenue Berkeley.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr and Mrs E W Stoddard and is a musician of talent.

Painter is a graduate of the University with the class of 1906. Following the celebration of the nuptials he will take his bride to Sonoma where he has been principal of a high school since receiving his degree.

A number of interesting social affairs have been planned for Miss Stoddard before her marriage.

MUSICAL CLUB LUNCHEON

Mrs William S Noyes entertained yesterday at a luncheon complimentary to the new board of directors and executive committees of the San Francisco Musical Club of which the hostess has recently been elected president.

The affair was given at the Noyes home in Summit street. Among the guests from this side of the bay were Mrs Walter Kelley Miss Maud Wellendorf Miss Hermione Stroule Mrs Gilbert Graham Mrs George Winchester Mrs Albert Edward Phelan.

The newly elected officers of the San Francisco Musical Club are Mrs William S Noyes president Miss Florence Hyde first vice president Miss Elizabeth Warden second vice president Mrs Ernest Johansen recording secretary Mrs Horatio Stoll corresponding secretary Mrs A S Baldwin business secretary Mrs Frederick Zeile treasurer Mrs Ashley Faull librarian.

The associate directors are Mrs John W Hoyt Mrs E N Percy Mrs Randolph P Whiting.

MUSICALE FRIDAY NIGHT

Miss Maud Wellendorf will preside at a musicale to be given at her home in North Berkeley next Friday evening. Miss Wellendorf is one of the gifted musicians of Berkeley and is president of one or two organizations devoted to the study of music.

ON EASTERN TRIP

Mr and Mrs Edwin C Morrison have gone East for a month's stay. They will spend much of their time in Hartford Connecticut and in New York.

During their absence their daughter Miss Charlotte Morrison will graduate from Stanford University. Mrs Stuart Smith of San Francisco another daughter is with her family occupying the handsome new Morrison home in Linda Vista during her parents absence.

RETURN FROM HONEYMOON

Mr and Mrs Theodore Glazier nee Marguerita Johnson have returned from their honeymoon trip to Pacific Grove and are at the home of the bride's parents Mr and Mrs Dennis Johnson on 110[illegible] Eighth street pending their departure for Colorado [illegible]

Mr and Mrs Glazier were the complimented guests last evening at a dinner given by Frank Mountain at his home in Warwick avenue. Mountain was the best man at the Glazier Johnson wedding last week and the guests last night included the bridal party and a small company of other friends.

Tonight Miss Edna Yates will preside at a dinner at her home in Adeline street complimentary to the young couple.

Mr and Mrs Glazier will reside for several years at least at Greeley, Colorado.

Of course [illegible] her majesty was [illegible] interested [illegible] or of members of [illegible] the King of Spain [illegible] paying his court to the Princess Ena [illegible] most kind and sympathetic [illegible] ally in her majesty [illegible] the Crown Prince of Sweden when he came to woo the Princess Margaret of Connaught.

In the latter case the Queen [illegible] put herself to a great deal of personal inconvenience to please the royal lovers. The Crown Prince [illegible] staying at Windsor Castle more than any other of the royal residences her majesty as a matter of fact [illegible] to please the Crown Prince and Princess Margaret [illegible] going to Sandringham [illegible] several occasions and went instead to entertain the royal lovers at Windsor Castle where the Crown Prince [illegible]

In the early stages of that royal love affair the Crown Prince was a timid lover and is [illegible] extremely diffident about his prospects of success. He once expressed his fears to her majesty that the Princess Margaret would not consent to become his bride.

"Oh" replied the Queen smiling "perhaps Margaret thinks you are not [illegible] about her." Such an idea had not previously crossed the Prince's mind, and it apparently impressed him anyway he became a more forward lover subsequently and the next time he spoke to the Queen it was to tell her that he was the happiest man in Europe.

In the love affairs of the ladies of the court the Queen always took the kindliest interest [illegible] could to assist in making the course of true love run smoothly for them. A love affair in which her majesty took an especial interest was that between the Hon Margaret Dawnay a maid of honor and the Rev Rowland Grant who were married in 1908. Miss Dawnay had not fulfilled the [illegible] years [illegible] which is the minimum period a maid of honor is expected to remain in the household before she gets married but the Queen of course never thought of raising any objection to the marriage on this plea.

Woman Hotel Burglar Gets Away With $5,000

LONDON.—An hotel robbery of exceptional ingenuity and daring executed by an elegantly dressed young woman has taken place at St Leonard's.

One afternoon just at the hour when tea was being served in the lounge and visitors were passing in and out of the vestibule a young woman walked into the Victoria Hotel at St Leonard's from the [illegible] which the hotel faces. She hesitated a moment looking round as if expecting to meet someone. The afternoon was unusually fine and consequently the hotel was unusually full. For this reason beyond observing that she wore a fashionable costume of navy blue with a pretty hat the attendants in the hall took little notice of the visitor.

With a languid step she approached the lounge. Here among the gaily chatting crowd she sat for a minute or two attracting no comment. Then shrewdly selecting her opportunity she left the lounge and sped swiftly up some stairs leading to the first floor bedrooms. With lightning rapidity and astonishing coolness she began to rifle room after room of the valuables which she found lying upon the dressing table.

In one room which she entered she was confronted by two [illegible] one, an elderly lady [illegible] remarked "Oh please [illegible] I [illegible] forgotten [illegible] before she withdrew [illegible] two ladies that [illegible] pretty with a quiet [illegible] so rapidly did she operate [illegible] no one in the hotel [illegible] until one of the maids [illegible] her walking calmly down [illegible] the bedrooms.

As the thief paused at the foot of the stairs leading down to the vestibule a bell rang nearby and the maid [illegible] to answer it. "Look! I have been robbed" cried the occupant of the room a woman guest who had just entered it from the lounge. The room was in disorder and jewelry which had been on the dressing table was gone. Instantly the maid remembered the stranger she had just seen. She ran down to the vestibule reaching it a minute after the thief had vanished.

The manner of her [illegible] particularly [illegible] porter with a letter [illegible] in her hand she asked "What time is the next post [illegible]" [illegible] nodding her thanks she passed out into the [illegible] suggestion of haste.

The woman's haul which comprised jewelry and money, approached $5,000 in value. It is believed that she is a member of an audacious gang of thieves who make seaside hotels their prey during the summer season, but so far the police have no clew.

Yale's President Praises University of California

DR. A. T. HADLEY DELIVERS GOLDEN JUBILEE ORATION

Impressive Scenes in the Hearst Greek Theatre When 7,000 Persons, Including Graduates for 50 Years, Hear Address

BERKELEY, May 17.—More than 7000 persons, more than half of them graduates of the University of California, gathered in the Hearst Greek Theater, [illegible] in the Berkeley Hills, to listen to President Arthur T. Hadley of Yale deliver the Golden Jubilee oration commemorating the semi-centennial anniversary of the founding of the institution.

The scene was an impressive one. In cap and gown the faculty and visiting scholars occupied the wide stage. In the wooden seats [illegible] were gathered in groups the classes that have been graduated from the university in the last fifty years, the earlier classes represented by groups of two and three, the classes of the last few years by aggregations of a hundred and two hundred members. Standing in the morning sun the class members, flaunting class colors and blue and gold, told the story of the years for the last five decades. From the two or three survivors of the earlier classes of the College of California to the 300 members of the graduating class of this May, with its red [illegible] banner and its [illegible] garbed in cap and gown, the line of descent was unbroken. [illegible] them sitting in the sunlight to picture the history of the growth of the university.

DR HADLEY'S THEME

Dr. Hadley, president of Yale University, who came here to deliver the oration of the occasion, chose for his theme the function of the university of today in educating the democracy to meet the complex problems of modern specialized civilization. He took the stand that the university should be identified with the understanding of the people at large, that they might understand that some questions are so complex that they need the brain of the expert to solve them.

He declared that the use of education was the enriching of the mind of the individual and the enlargement of his [illegible] and understanding, that he might not think that he is capable of solving every problem of sociology and economics without special preparation for such work. He averred that the university [illegible] its understanding to the people at [illegible] as well as preparing the specialist. [illegible] the chances thus given him [illegible] recognition [illegible] the University of California and forecasted a [illegible] future for the institution, making it [illegible] one of the six greatest institutions of learning in America.

ASSEMBLE AT OLD LIBRARY

The jubilee commenced at a little after 9 o'clock this morning, when the classes assembled before the old library building on the campus in cap and gown, each class bearing its colors and class banner, marched in two sections to the Greek Theater. The classes were marshaled by their class secretaries and presidents. Professor Leon J. Richardson of the Greek department of the university, chairman of the committee on public celebrations, acted as grand marshal of the procession.

The space below the diazoma was reserved for the classes, while the stage was reserved for the faculty, the regents of the university, visiting scholars and savants and friends of the university. The general public filled the stone seats above the diazoma.

The ceremonies in the Greek Theater commenced with an invocation by the Rev. Miles B. Fisher. This was followed by a rendition of the university hymn and other songs by a massive chorus directed by Professor [illegible] Schultz and accompanied by the University Orchestral Society under the direction of Paul Steindorff.

WHEELER FIRST SPEAKER

[illegible] of the past of the university, of its [illegible] its greatest [illegible] [illegible] State University [illegible] great [illegible] State of California [illegible] visitors in establishing a college and obtaining for it a fitting site.

Greetings from institutions of learning in all quarters of the globe and from scholars and savants were received by President Wheeler congratulating the university on the occasion of its fiftieth anniversary. They were read to the audience by President Wheeler in his opening address. Out of respect for the services recently rendered by Dr. Wheeler as Roosevelt Professor to the University of Berlin, the Prussian government, through the Royal Minister of Education, sent the following message of congratulation:

CONGRATULATORY MESSAGE

On the occasion of the fiftieth anniversary of the University of California, with which I have been permitted to enter into closer relations by the successful activity of its highly revered president as Roosevelt Professor, I remember the institution with sincerest good wishes. May the university continue in the future as in the past to fulfill its high mission in the domain of instruction and research in the same distinguished manner.

VON TROTT ZU SOLZ,
Royal Prussian Minister of Education.

Speaking of a few of the other messages and greetings, Dr. Wheeler said:

The good wishes of the universities and colleges who are [illegible] the [illegible] education are [illegible] and especially welcome on this [illegible]. They mean [illegible] the universities stand together in mutual bonds of interest [illegible] seeking a worthy ideal of service to the [illegible].

The University of California has received from Edward S. Holden, president of the University of California from 1885 to 1888, director of the Lick observatory from 1888 to 1898, and now librarian of the United States Military Academy, the following telegram:

"Accept my hearty congratulations and best wishes on this anniversary."

OTHER MESSAGES

From the Alumni Association of the University of California at Washington, D. C., through F. L. Ransome, the president:

"Twenty-five of the Washington California Alumni Association assembled send greeting with congratulations on the achievements of half a century, with the assurance of steadfast loyalty to the ideals for which our university stands and with the inspiring faith in the future that is the birthright of every Californian."

From Frederick W. Putnam of Harvard University, formerly professor of anthropology and director of the Anthropological Museum of the University of California, and now [illegible] of the Peabody Museum of Harvard University:

"Hearty congratulations on the Golden Jubilee of the University. At no time has it been more prosperous than under your administration."

From Professor W. M. Hart of the University of California, a cable from Munich, Germany:

"Vereinigten staaten (many happy returns)."

EAST GREETS WEST

Fifty years ago our fathers founded a seat of learning which has steadily grown in power and position until it has become one of the great universities not only of this country but of the world. Her older sisters in the East tender to California their congratulations on this Golden Jubilee. They have watched with pride the increase in numbers and in standards, in traditions and in influence. Speaking on behalf of the institution with which I am connected, I may say that Yale counts it one of her chief services to the nation that she had so great a share in the genesis and the development of the University of California.

It would be natural on an occasion like this to indulge in an educational retrospect; to show what changes a half century has wrought in the ideals of American universities and what part California has had in working out these changes; to lay upon the brow of this university the crown of laurel which she so richly has merited. But it is not in this spirit that I have been asked to speak. Great as have been the things [illegible] achieved, [illegible] them as nothing in comparison with that which yet remains to be done.

The fiftieth anniversary represents an initial stage of progress toward a goal in [illegible]. The laurels may have been [illegible], but the season of investiture is [illegible] yet [illegible]. There is much work to be accomplished and much honor to be won. Not retrospect, but prospect is in order. To look out and to look forward and not backward [illegible] has ever been [illegible] both of California and of its university. It is therefore fitting that this address, instead of being a tribute of appreciation of the work which [illegible] has been accomplishing during the past fifty years, should [illegible] a forecast of [illegible] which will present themselves [illegible] in the immediate future. I shall spend this morning [illegible] what California and other universities have done to educate the students of yesterday to meet the needs of today, as of what California and other universities must do to educate the students of today to meet the needs of tomorrow.

REALM OF SPECIALISM

Every government has two distinct problems to deal with: problems of social conduct and problems of business administration. The slavery question was a problem of social order. So are race questions of almost every kind. So is the group of problems which center about the right of women to vote. So are the broad questions of public morality which are involved in prohibition laws or divorce laws. These are matters on which the people as a body can inform themselves and ought to inform themselves. They are questions on which a majority of the people must inform themselves if the law is to have behind it the necessary consensus of public opinion that will give it force. But there is by contrast another equally large and important group of questions, which I have called administrative ones, on which only a small part of the voters can possibly inform themselves intelligently. Such, for instance, are questions of taxation, of banking and currency, of railroad management, of corporate organization. These are matters which must in the very nature of things be treated by specialists if they are to be dealt with in a wise and far-sighted manner.

DANGER TO DEMOCRACY

It is this vast mass of varied business to be dealt with [illegible] constitutes the chief danger to modern democratic government. The people under existing conditions are brought face to face with a difficult alternative. If, in the desire to secure efficiency, they leave the business of government to the experts, democracy dies of dry rot. If, in the desire to maintain the old democratic conditions, they try to do everything themselves, it results sometimes in inefficient business, sometimes in violence and anarchy. Democracy, which is an easy thing to administer in small committees, is an extraordinarily difficult thing to administer in large ones.

It is commonly said that wealth, and particularly concentrated wealth, is fatal to democracy. "Large farms have been the destruction of Italy," was the cry of an ancient Roman observer, and we are told over and over again that if we would avoid Rome's fate we must avoid Rome's concentration of capital. This is, I am convinced, a very inadequate conception either of the source of danger or of the task and duty which lie before those who would prevent it. The large farms were not the cause of the destruction of Rome. The large combinations of capital are not in any true sense the cause of our dangers and difficulties today. They are symptoms rather than causes—indications that population has become so large and society so complex that their needs have outgrown the framework which sufficed for the older and simpler conditions. Under these circumstances it is absolutely necessary to separate the problems of the people from the problems of the experts and manage each group in its own proper way.

ARE SEPARATE FUNCTIONS

In the field of human activity, and that perhaps the most important, the Constitution of the United States actually brought about the separation of questions for the people from questions for experts. The Constitution of the United States, and in a lesser degree the constitutions of the several states or colonies, set apart certain questions as distinctly political, with which the executives and legislatures might deal. These therefore became [the subjects] of political discussion. It at the same time set apart certain other questions with which executives and legislatures might not deal—certain constitutional rights which would be protected no matter what executive or legislature might say. It secured expert investigation of matters of personal liberty by a body of lawyers and judges whose whole life had been spent in training themselves for this work. Marshall and Story, Webster and Lincoln, were highly trained experts on the limits of personal liberty and property right. This was the chief reason why America escaped the fate of England in 1650 or France in 1800.

As long as the functions of government consisted largely of defining and protecting property rights, the provisions of the Constitution were reasonably successful in providing for expert handling of technical questions. The thing that makes the political situation serious at the present day is that a number of public questions have come into the foreground of a kind not exactly foreseen by the framers of the Constitution—questions where we need the advice of specialists, and where the particular specialists who occupy our judicial offices by reason of their training and high character have not always the specific training which will qualify them [illegible]. The growth of invested capital, the increase [illegible] of transportation and transportation facilities, the consolidation of industries, the incipient separation of classes in American society, have produced a set of conditions with which neither the lawyers nor the people can deal intelligently, because neither the lawyers nor the people have the special preliminary education necessary for the understanding of some of the complex problems connected with them.

SUPREME COURT PUZZLED

What does it mean when the Supreme Court of the United States asks for a rehearing on the Standard Oil and Tobacco cases? It means that the members of that court, in spite of the able arguments of counsel on either side, have not been able to make up their minds as to the rights and wrongs of those cases. A divided court usually means a divided public opinion. A divided public opinion means that men as a body have not been able to grasp the underlying technical principles of the case.

Technical principles, I say, and this is an important thing to know. On general ethical principles men are pretty well agreed. The country would go to pieces if they were not pretty well agreed. When men differ as to what is right or wrong in a particular case it is not because of difference in moral ideas. It is because the case is so complicated that they have not been able to look at it with intelligence enough to see the whole of it. Each has seen the part toward which his prejudices and interests incline him.

"Does this mean that we are to give up the idea of educating our people on public matters?

LET SPECIALISTS DECIDE

"No. It means that we must educate the people up to the point where it will be content to leave some things to specialists. There is in each of us a strong inborn impression that what we do not know is not worth knowing, that if we do not ourselves appreciate a difficulty it proves that it is a figment of somebody else's imagination, that if we can see no obstacles to the accomplishment of a certain result anybody else who says he sees obstacles is either a coward or a corruptionist. It is this intellectual self-sufficiency which is the greatest stumbling block to the successful working of democracy.

The military history of every republic from Athens and Rome to France and America, shows how hard it is for the people to believe that trained soldiers know anything more about war than the average voter. It takes two or three years of actual warfare to convince them of their error, and the process of conviction is costly in life as well as in time. In the early years of our Civil War thousands and thousands of lives on both sides, particularly on the Northern side, were sacrificed before we found out that a good politician might be a very bad soldier, or that the opinion of the average man as to the way in which a war should be conducted was a very bad guide in its actual management. The same rule applies to other things besides war. In business or in education or in diplomacy the expert knows certain things which the public does not and cannot know. [illegible] the public recognizes this [illegible] the conduct of all our various lines of [illegible] activity. In our private affairs we have an objective respect for knowledge in itself. In public affairs we are inclined to treat with disrespect all knowledge except our own.

WOULD EDUCATE DEMOCRACY

Our universities, public and private, are places for the training of citizens. This is the reason for their existence, and it is because they have met this duty well that they have in recent years received such large powers and gifts. Let us be sure that they do their whole duty; that they train men not merely for their own special lines of work, but for the recognition and appreciation of what others can do in other lines. A public opinion watchful and active on all general questions of ethics, but ready to give a free hand to the trained expert in all matters requiring technical training as a basis for intelligent judgment—this is an educated democracy, and this is the kind of democracy which will endure in the face of great problems.

"The Golden Bear" and "All Hail Blue and Gold" were then sung by the chorus accompanied by the orchestra. The great audience rose and the classes first took up the swing of the university [illegible] and then the full audience, closing with cheers for the university. A benediction was offered up and the ceremonies closed with the playing of "Auld Lang Syne" as a recessional by the orchestra.

OLD GRADUATES RENEW FRIENDSHIPS ON CAMPUS

Alumni Make Merry at Jubilee Celebration, Hold Annual Banquet, Respond to Toasts and Elect Officers

BERKELEY, May 17.—Old memories are being renewed on the campus of the University of California at the gathering of the classes. General alumni headquarters are being made in the rooms of the lower floor of California hall, and these have been decorated with class colors, emblems and banners and fitted sumptuously for the reception of the visiting graduates. A reception committee for each class welcomes the guests of jubilee week; they are given the Berkeley addresses of their friends, and refreshments in the way of a light punch are provided in several of the rooms.

The room occupied by the class of 1908 is perhaps the most beautifully fitted up, the walls being draped with banners and pennants, flowers and [illegible] being used as a background, with blue and gold steins and other decorations on shelves and tables. The room in which the class of 1904 is acting host has been decorated with the class colors and with golden bears on a blue background.

TODAY ALUMNI DAY

This is the day on which the alumni of the University control all the jubilee events, from the big gathering in the Hearst Greek theater this morning to the pageant to be held this evening in the streets of Berkeley, the University grounds and the big California field spectacle.

The alumni luncheon, an annual gathering, was held under the oaks near the Faculty Club on the campus today following the meeting in the Hearst Greek theater. This was the largest graduate reunion ever held at the University. Following the luncheon and responses to toasts the report of the nominating committee was read and accepted by a unanimous vote of the body.

On account of the refusal of Charles H. Bentley to accept the position, as he favored the continuance of James K. Moffitt, Mr. Moffitt was unanimously re-elected president of the association, which now has a membership of almost 3000. Milton F. Farmer, who holds the position of graduate manager of athletics at the University, was re-elected to the position of alumni secretary. Other officers chosen were:

Orrin K. McMurray '90 for the office of first vice president; Jessica B. Peixotto '94 for the office of second vice president; Lewis F. Byrd '02 for the office of treasurer; Charles S. Greene [illegible], Duncan McDuffie '99 and Max Thelen '04 for councilors.

WELCOME GRADUATES

At the alumni luncheon the members of the present graduating class, although not officially graduates until after commencement tomorrow, were welcomed into the association, being the guests of the association. Luncheon was served by the women of the First Christian Church of Berkeley.

Following the luncheon the big gathering adjourned to the Hearst Greek theater, where the [illegible] of the University meeting was held, James K. Moffitt, president of the association, assuming the chair. Governor James N. Gillett, who was to have been present, was represented by Fletcher A. Cutler. John R. Glasscock of the class of 1865, who was to have been present, was unable to attend on account of illness. Addresses were made by President Wheeler, Russ Avery, Mrs. Grace [illegible] Perry, Max Thelen, Charles Stetson Wheeler and William F. Davis.

Thousands of graduates will take part in the pageant and circus, and vaudeville shows have been arranged for the big gathering in California field tonight.

MANY REGISTERED

Among the graduates who have registered to take part in the celebration of the University are the following:

A. J. Lowe [illegible], Berkeley; Warren Cheney '78, Berkeley; Martin F. Cottel[illegible] '08, Oakland; Irving P. Aten '98, Oakland; [illegible] Palmer '91; John B. COMMENCEMENT DAY

Tomorrow is commencement day at the university. Seniors and faculty will assemble on the [illegible] between North and South Halls at [illegible] and march to the Hearst Greek theater. The president will address the graduating class. Degrees will be conferred and the military commissions [illegible].

Class of 1[illegible] will assemble in room 107, California Hall, at 2 o'clock; procession of class to Greek theater, where dedication of [illegible] Henry Morse Stephens, professor of history and director of the university extension, will occur. At 2:30 o'clock procession to Sather gateway and dedication [illegible] by Benjamin Ide Wheeler, president of the university.

The president of the university will tender a reception to the graduating class in Hearst Hall on commencement evening [illegible] o'clock.

FORMER STUDENTS HONOR HADLEY

University President Guest of Yale Alumni Association at Big Banquet.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 17.—The Yale Alumni Association and the University Club joined last night to honor Dr. Arthur T. Hadley, president of Yale University, with a banquet given in the club headquarters. William H. Crocker, president of the Yale Alumni Association, was introduced as the toastmaster of the evening by Warren Olney Jr., representing the University Club. When Dr. Hadley was introduced to the gathering he was greeted with Yale college yells and cheers.

Reference having been made to his previous visit to the state eight years ago, Dr. Hadley said: "It is always one of the pleasures of life to visit the Pacific coast, and especially San Francisco."

He then launched out on the object of university education, which he said was not for exclusive individual benefit.

"When you get an institution where the science is studied not for what it will do for the individual but for an understanding of what it means," said Dr. Hadley, "you are working on a larger plane, not as individuals but for the race as a whole. You are teaching the boys of the rising generation not to elbow their way ahead, but to be part of the whole, part of a world in which the golden age depicted by the poets is not the dream of poets but an idea for which we can all struggle shoulder to shoulder."

Presidents Jordan of Stanford and Wheeler of California Universities also spoke, but both dealt in generalities.

Pharmacists Meet in Annual Convention

SAN FRANCISCO, May 17.—A program of pleasure preceded the formal opening today of the annual convention of the California Pharmaceutical Association. When the first business session was called to order an address of welcome was delivered by Professor Frank T. Green and responded to by W. B. Dickinson of Los Angeles. The only paper read was by E. T. Orr, president of the State Board of Pharmacy, who explained and reviewed the work of that body. This evening the delegates will visit the Chinese quarter.

Educated Chimpanzee Suffocated in Car

PORTLAND, Or., May 17.—Charles I, the famous educated chimpanzee, valued at $75,000, which has been exhibited all over the world, was suffocated in a car last night while en route from Seattle to this city. The animal was found dead when the car was opened today, the heat from a steam radiator having proved too much for it. Charles I was probably the most wonderful performing animal ever known and numbered cigarette smoking and signing his name among his achievements.

WALSH LOSES WEIGHT

CHICAGO, May 17.—John R. Walsh, the millionaire banker convicted of misapplying the funds of the Chicago National Bank, has lost fully fifteen pounds since putting on the federal prison garb at Fort Leavenworth last January 19, according to his son-in-law, Dr. L. Blak Baldwin, who has just returned from a visit to Walsh. "Though more than 70 years old, Mr. Walsh is showing a wonderful nerve and vitality in prison," said Dr. Baldwin yesterday. "He takes his situation most philosophically. He never complains about anything."

PROMOTER CHOSEN TO REFEREE THE JEFF-JOHNSON FIGHT

RICKARD'S RECORD READS LIKE ROMANCE OF FICTION

Gambler-Miner-Promoter-Referee Has Been Embodied in Novel; Emeryville May Not Get Fight

By EDDIE SMITH.

AFTER having wrangled over the selection of a referee for at least an hour and a half Sam Berger and Jack Johnson finally agreed to accept Texas Rickard as the third man in the ring on the day that the two greatest of fighters will battle for supremacy. The selection of Rickard came after, it is said, that the men had debated about everything connected with the match with the exception of the referee.

Tex Rickard has been a familiar figure in the West for the past fifteen years and is perhaps one of the best known of the latter day frontiersmen. When the rush to Alaska was on, Rickard was one of the first to make a rush for the new country and he remained there until the news of the wonderful gold discoveries of Tonopah and Goldfield reached Alaska. Tex then decided to take a chance in the new country and since going there he has become one of the big men in Nevada and has won and lost several fortunes. Rickard first appeared in print when Rex Beach made him one of the characters of his famous book "The Spoilers." In this thrilling story Tex is the young gambler who turns out to be the brother of the lady the hero is in love with.

When Goldfield was booming Rickard became one of the prominent figures of that city, and when Billy Nolan finally agreed to let Battling Nelson fight Joe Gans in a finish fight, Rickard went to the front with an offer of $30,000 for the contest. At the time it was pointed out that he had made a great mistake and that he would be sorry for the offer. The contest was pulled off, however, and although the management lost money on the affair the Goldfield district received a world of advertisement out of the affair, and this is what was wanted.

Rickard handled that contest in a manner that made him famous as a promoter. When Rickard first bid for the Johnson-Jeffries contest it was thought that he had overstepped the bounds of good judgment, but he is a plunger and it looks as if he will make good. As a referee of boxing contests Rickard has never had any experience, he never having officiated in even a battle of little consequence. The selection of Rickard was the result of the [illegible] of [illegible] over the three referees from this section of the state who [illegible] experience in the right might [illegible] confidence to the match. Johnson [illegible] two and Berger one and the [illegible] hung until finally Rickard was chosen as a compromise.

Now that the selection of the referee has been decided and the principals of the contest are right in the midst of their training news comes that the contest is not to be held at the Oakland race track.

That the business people of Oakland are losing a golden opportunity for publicity there can be no doubting, but further comment on this subject is unnecessary. The people here have made the mistake before of allowing the [illegible] everything people to dominate their affairs and it now looks as if San Francisco would grab the plum.

Thomas H. Williams, who is the head of the racing game in this state and owner of the Emeryville track, has fallen for the protest that has been started and has withdrawn his support from the affair. The mayor of Emeryville, Mr. Christie, has maintained right along, however, that he would like to see the contest held at Emeryville and [illegible] the stand that if the [illegible] at the [illegible] that he will [illegible] favor of holding it [illegible] in that town.

Rickard and Gleason are very much worried over the [illegible] District Attorney [illegible] will [illegible] to stop the affair and [illegible] prevent the [illegible] the sheriff to stop the contest after it has gone just a few rounds. San Francisco has been waiting with open arms for the contest and the news that the battle might be stopped was water on the wheel of the men who were working to have it held in San Francisco and they have started a move to bring it to the city. As a result of this agitation it is [illegible] will no doubt [illegible] the contest and [illegible] San Francisco will get [illegible] of an advertisement [illegible] of 1915 will not beat from a publicity standpoint.

WEBSTER STARTS TRAINING

Danny Webster [illegible] this morning from Los Angeles and [illegible] located at Al Whitte's place [illegible] will do his training [illegible] with [illegible] Moffitt of the Oakland [illegible] announced [illegible] between [illegible] next Tu[illegible] [illegible] pavilion. Webster will do his training at Whitte's place and as he can make the weight [illegible] pounds at [illegible] o'clock [illegible] will have nothing to do but put the finishing touches on the already good condition that he finds himself.

Webster is one of the best of the feather weights in this country and when he steps into the ring with Harry Baker he will be up against an opponent who will make the clever fighter step lively at all times. Baker is already in training at the Reliance Club and is reported in fine shape.

As the special event Moffitt has matched Cutlett Smith and Jack [illegible] for a six round bout. [illegible] is a [illegible] pound heavyweight from Los Angeles and is reported to be a good prospect in the heavyweight class.

THOMAS SHORT ENDER

Joe Thomas is still on the short end of the betting at odds of 9 to 1 in his contest with Billy Papke. It would seem that the fans are a bit shy of betting on Thomas although they are continually talking of the great condition that the [illegible] weight shows and the wonderful speed that he has developed. This is [illegible] by the dashing style that Papke has shown in several of his contests [illegible] and it seems the fear of many [illegible] that the German will win the contest before Thomas gets a good start. [illegible] is very confident that he will [illegible] in the battle of Thursday and when he was asked if he thought there was much chance of Papke catching him early in the contest Joe smiled and said: "There is not the slightest chance for this to happen for I am to be on the lookout for just such a happening and Papke is not one bit faster than I [illegible] the winner [illegible]."

Frankie Burns won another ten round [illegible] in the East. Last night the [illegible] Oakland [illegible] himself popular with the New York boxing fans by besting Frankie Madden, the hardest hitting lightweight in Gotham. Madden did nothing at all with Burns, who floored him in the seventh, ninth and [illegible] rounds. This would lead us to believe that Burns is developing a punch and this is all that is necessary for him to become a world's champion. Burns is doing so well in the East that it is doubtful if he will come back to the coast as soon as it was expected. Jack Pe[illegible], who is managing Burns, wires this morning that he is overrun with offers for Burns and that he will stay in the East as long as the good offers hold out.

JOE GANS BATTLES BRAVELY AGAINST THE WHITE PLAGUE

PRESCOTT, Ariz., May 17.—Joe Gans, former lightweight champion, passed through here tonight on his way to Phoenix, where he will start a life and death fight against tuberculosis. Gans was gaunt and weak, but game. "It has hit me several hard wallops," he whispered to friends who visited him in his car, "but I am not knocked out yet."

RUBY WILL SAIL IN PERPETUAL CHALLENGE

Corinthians Choose Representative to Compete With Merry Widow.

Enthusiastic sportsmen are looking forward to the yachting event of the season which will occur Saturday at 1 o'clock when the Aeolian and Corinthian Yacht Clubs will compete for the San Francisco challenge cup. The Ruby, winner of two tryouts, has been the Corinthian Club's choice as the defender of the cup and it will be in charge of A. Stevens against F. Rousseau's Merry Widow, the Aeolian yacht cup challenger. The Corinthians were the winners in the challenge in 1899 against Aeolus, from whom they secured the cup.

In 1895 a number of prominent local yachtsmen subscribed a sum to purchase the cup and the Encinal Yacht Club of Alameda, then one of the largest clubs on the bay, was given the cup to defend. The challenger of that year was the Queen of the San Francisco Yacht Club, but the challenging boat was unsuccessful and the following year the same club again challenged with the Catherine. Defeat was again met with, but in 1897 the Corinthians challenged with the Aeolus and lifted the cup. In 1898 the Gedder of the San Francisco Club challenged and the Corinthians were unsuccessful in defending the Truant.

In 190[illegible] the San Francisco Yacht Club challenged with William Morrow's Challenger and the defending Corinthian boat, the Harpoon, was defeated. In both 1904 and 1905 the Corinthian defeated the Challenger. In 1907 the ambitious members of the South Coast Yacht Club of San Pedro challenged with their Valkyrie. The Discovery defended and had an easy time in defeating the southerners. In 1908 the Discovery was again called upon to defend the cup against the San Francisco Club's challenger Nema, which it did successfully. Last year the South Coast Club challenged with the Mah Pe[illegible], which went down to defeat before Frank Stone's Presto.

TRAFFIC TEAM IS VICTORIOUS OVER SALINAS

Railroaders Outplay Team of Collegians in Three C. League.

On Sunday at Salinas the Traffic team in the Three C League defeated the strong B[illegible] by a score of 3 to 4 in an exciting and well played game. The Traffics, which were formerly known as the Transportation Club, are now leading the league, Salinas, Monterey and Watsonville being tied for second place, while Santa Cruz and the Gardner & Masters tied for cellar honors.

The railroaders outplayed the St. Mary's Phoenix players at bat and in the field. They played errorless ball and scored all their runs on hits.

The collegians scored first blood in the third inning. Wallace was hit and scored on hits by Simpson and Wilkinson. The Traffics came back in their half of the fourth and scored three runs. Perkins walked, Mitchell singled, Wallace missed a hot one from Fair's bat and Michelson and Schwerin followed with two baggers. In the eighth Fair picked out a nice one for three bags and was scored by Michelson's single. In their half of the [illegible] with [illegible] Fitzsimmons and Cuglini singled and were scored by Leonhardt's two bagger. Frink defeated the Olympic Club Saturday by a score of 3 to [illegible] also. The score:

CHAMPIONSHIP GOLF TOURNAMENT OFFERS VALUABLE PRIZES

NEW YORK, May 17.—The completed program and conditions for the annual open tournament of the United States Golf Association was given out here today. The competition, which will be held on the links of the Philadelphia Cricket Club on June 17 and 18, will consist of seventy-two holes of medal play, divided equally between the two days. There will be ten prizes as follows:

First, $300 and a gold medal, second, $150, third, $100, fourth, $80, fifth, $70, sixth, $60, seventh, $50, eighth, $50, ninth, $30, and tenth, $20.

The winner will have the custody of the championship cup, but he must if required, give security for its safe-keeping. In case an amateur wins any of the prizes, the equivalent in plate will be given.

PERRY QUITS THE SENATORS

JOCKEY COBURN DRIVES HOME THREE LONGSHOTS

Six Favorites Fail to Cross the Plate in Yesterday's Scramble; Jockey Cotton Wins Two Races

By LEE DEMIER

ONLY a fair crowd turned out to the Oakland track yesterday. This can be accounted for as the [illegible] that was present was of mediocre caliber. The talent had a tough time of it trying to connect with the winners, as not a favorite crossed the plate during the afternoon's performance. The bargain hunters had the best of the argument with the players, as every race was taken by a rank outsider. The only favorite that stuck out in the light in the six races was Financier, which ran second in the fourth race. Aks-Ar-Ben had to wake up at the last minute and upset the gravy for the many supporters of the well played favorite. The backers of Owner Dave Henry's stable were in clover, as the Golden Gate horseman put over two good things in Anne McGee and Siscus. Both won at a good price. The feature of the day's sport was the riding of Jockeys Coburn and Cotton.

Aks-Ar-Ben, which was played heavily in his last two starts, demonstrated yesterday that he is a runner if given a ride. The Ben Brush horse, with Cotton on his back, who kept him well in hand, moved up on the inside after leaving the half mile pole and wore Financier down in the run for home, winning going away by two lengths and a half. Financier was running easy in the stretch and on reaching the paddock gate began to hang and was easily passed by the winner. Ben Stone was trying to make a runaway race of it, but backed up badly in the stretch. He was an easy third from Old Rose. Javer W. R. Engstrom let off a bunch of money on French Cook. The latter and Kaiserhoff faded away to a walk in the final furlong.

* * *

The talent had a kick coming when Swagerlator was forced to take the place from the despised outsider Arthur Hyman. Cavanaugh, who had the leg up on the latter, let Cotton on the winner through at the critical point and deliberately stole the race. Cavanaugh had the race well in hand and should have gone on instead of looking around to see what was going on behind him. The horse did his part, but the rider scrambled the eggs. Sir Barry hung on gamely to be third from Amethyst. Either Wisteria was shy of speed or Jockey Kent fell asleep at the switch. The horse was well played by the smart set to win and show.

* * *

Arthur Rouse was handed a bound early to do the trick in the day's opener, but according to Jockey Buxton's statement when he dismounted the horse was not there when called upon in the struggle for home. The winner turned up in Cantem, who was hustled to the front by Jockey Coburn and held his [illegible] safe all the way. Miss Roberts, who was a contender throughout, saved the place from Dowress. Directello, with Cavanaugh, was never dangerous at any part of the journey.

* * *

Anne McGee, who was overlooked by the talent, won the third race at the nice price of [illegible] to 1 and no takers. The talent went strong with Gramercy, who carried the bulk of the educated coin. Colonel Applegate's horse was cut off after passing the half mile pole, losing much ground, and when the run through the stretch took place could not get near the leaders, finishing a length and a half behind Salavo for the place. The winner ran up on the outside turning for home and caught Sainest [illegible] out, who took the lead and held his [illegible] safe easily in the run through the stretch. Chester P[illegible] was nibbled at straight and show at the last minute. He showed his usual yellow streak after showing a world of early speed and then dropped back to last place.

* * *

Jockey Coburn was again to the fore when he drove in Siscus in the fifth race. He lay close to Milpitas to the stretch turn, where he caught the tiring pacemaker and ran over him in the final furlong, winning without any trouble. Jockey Jansen on Minnedocia came fast at the end and grabbed the place easily from Father Stafford.

* * *

The talent got their final shock of the day's sport when Mossback [illegible] at 20 to 1 took the closing race from wire to wire. Woolwinder, the favorite, had to be hard ridden to stall off Combury for the place.

The Decoration Day Handicap will be picked from this field. The distance is a mile and an eighth, the Jockey Club to add $700. The classic is down for decision on Monday, May 30.

OAKS WILL CROSS BATS WITH STRONG BEAVERS THIS WEEK

Reliance Athletic Club to Stage Classy Program of Amateur Fights

IMPROVEMENT OF LOCALS TRIBUTE TO WOLVERTON

New Manager Has Worked Hard to Whip Team Into Shape Despite Discouragement of Early Season

By FRANCK R. HAVENNER.

DESPITE the fact that the Seals managed to pull [illegible] last two games of the series with the Oaks out of the [illegible] Kid Mohler, the veteran leader of the year's champion team, has acknowledged that he considers Wolverton's aggregation of ball tossers the most formidable band which the Seals have encountered in the league and he has no hesitancy in predicting that the Oaks will be fighting it out for the pennant at the finish.

This acknowledgement, coming from a player of Mohler's experience and ability, and one whose partisanship would naturally make him a bit loath to acknowledge that the once despised Commuters were really dangerous rivals of his own team, is extremely significant and may serve as a stimulus for much thought on the part of the local fans.

That the Oaks have improved wonderfully in every department of play during the past three weeks there can be no denying, and that this improvement is due in large measure to the unwavering perseverance and the unfailing optimism of Manager Wolverton is equally patent.

At the outset of the season, before the league race had started, Wolverton declared that the Oaks were a good team. After the season was on and when the team was in the midst of one of those inexplicable slumps which seemed to blight every vestige of playing ability which the men possessed, Wolverton repeated his assertion. And when the critics unloosened a tirade of ridicule on his men, dubbing them "bone heads" and scornfully consigning them to the league cellar, the local manager did not lose heart.

The team was undoubtedly playing execrable ball in those days. There was no hitting, the fielding was only passing fair, the pitchers were far from their ordinary form and the team play was sadly weak. Game after game was virtually thrown away and even the staunchest fans from this city began to lose heart.

But not Wolverton. "I have a good team here and as soon as they strike their stride they will make all of them hustle," he said emphatically. "I have never failed to get a team into shape yet and I am not going to fail here."

Wolverton has made good on his prediction. His team improved in almost every department of the game simultaneously. The players started to hit, the pitchers suddenly became very effective and the fielding of the whole team became almost sensational. Now it looks as if the Oaks would become one of the most feared teams in the league race. And the fans will not be slow to bestow the credit where it belongs, to wit—on the shoulders of the Oakland manager.

Don Cameron is still topping the league batsmen. The mammoth first baseman kept up his terrific stickwork in the San Francisco series and leads all his rivals for batting honors by a comfortable margin. Willie Hogan has climbed up into prominence by his good work of late and Wares is also steadily improving his sticking average. The midget shortstop and Wolverton are ranking closely together in the average columns.

The Portland Beavers begin a series here with the Oaks today and some of the most interesting games of the season should result, as the McCredie outfit is admittedly one of the strongest in the league race.

Vernon Team Sees Beavers Win From Dillon's Angels

LOS ANGELES, May 17.—Happy Hogan and his Vernon bunch had the fun of their lives yesterday watching Dillon and his Angels trying to beat the Portland Dukes in the last game of the series.

It was the first time a Coast League team has been able to sit in the grandstand and watch two other teams play without caring which won. Portland was in clover and the Angels were like a fish out of water. Twenty hits, three-fifths of them by Portland, eight errors, four by Los Angeles, eight bases on balls, six given by local pitchers, five stolen bases, four stolen by Portland, and an innumerable series of dumb plays [illegible] incidents [illegible] the [illegible] amusement.

The score:

[illegible]

Five hits and 4 runs off Krapp in three and one-third innings. Nine hits and 4 runs off Delhi in three innings. Two-base hits—Fisher 2, Dillon. Sacrifice hits—Wheeler and Ross. Bases on balls—Off Delhi [illegible], off Krapp 1, off Se[illegible]ton [illegible], off Criger 1. Struck out—By Delhi 2, by Criger 3. Double plays—McCredie to Rapps. Time of game—1 hour and 5[illegible] minutes. Umpire—Finney.

LEE SCOTT, CHAMPION POLE VAULTER, OUT OF BIG CONFERENCE MEET

CHICAGO, May 17.—Members of the managing committee of the college conference, at an informal dinner at the University Club last night, set the wheels in motion for a record-breaking meet at the new athletic field of the University of Illinois, June 4. The number of entries received by the committee total 456, which exceeds last year's mark by 100. In all thirty four schools will be represented, which also sets a new mark for the conference.

Leland Stanford and the University of California will be represented by strong teams, although it has been practically decided by the committee that Captain L. S. Scott of the Stanford team will not be allowed to compete, as he has already participated in college athletics four years. Scott is the champion pole vaulter having been credited with a mark of 12 feet, 10 3-16 inches.

CHAPMAN MASTERS GARBUTT AT BILLIARDS

Loser Starts Out Brilliantly But Fades Away and Succumbs to Steadiness.

The eleventh game of the championship balk line tournament at the Oakland billiard parlors brought the two entries from the city across the bay together and resulted in the defeat of Garbutt by Chapman with a score of 200 to 13[illegible]. The average for the winner was 4 17 and for the loser 2 78. Garbutt got the high run of the game in the earlier part of the contest, 24.

The opening innings of the game saw Garbutt in the finest kind of stroke and taking everything that came up before him. This burst of speed culminated in the run of 24 and then he stopped. His stroke seemed to desert him and his judgment was all to the bad. On the other hand his opponent went along in his usual consistent manner of play and piling up the points. He soon had a lead established that looked very good to him and very bad to Garbutt. At the twenty-fifth time at the table the score stood 90 to 68 in favor of Chapman and with Garbutt going very badly. Chapman followed this inning with runs of 0, 7, 7, 6 and 22 in close order and increased his lead to the 50 mark. From this time to the finish Garbutt had no chance at all. Chapman got one other run of 19 before he finished the game.

After the run of 24 that he got in the tenth Garbutt seemed to lose everything that he had. The roll of the balls were against him and this seemed to discourage him to that extent that he could not do anything at all. With Garbutt out of the way Chapman is now in line for some of the money almost sure.

Tonight Brunner will meet Davoust. Both of these players play close billiards and the game should be very interesting at all stages.

High School Swimmer To Brave Golden Gate

Clarence Stafford, a swimming champion of the Mission High School, will attempt to swim across the Golden Gate in the near future and according to announcement he will start from Baker's beach.

Two days ago Stafford endeavored to swim to the straits but he became discouraged and had to give up the feat before he reached his destination. H. [illegible]tenwick will accompany Stafford on his record venture.

BRICK HURLED AT UMPIRE MAY KILL MILLIONAIRE'S SON

RACINE, Wis., May 17.—Gordon Lewis, 10-year-old son of Captain William Mitchell Lewis, millionaire candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination of Wisconsin, is at St. Mary's hospital in a critical condition. His skull was fractured when a brick was hurled through the window of a closed automobile in which Umpire Eldridge of the Wisconsin-Illinois League was being taken away from the ball park yesterday to escape the wrath of a mob displeased over his decisions in the game between the Racine and Green Bay teams.

RUGBY TEAM OFF ON TRIP O'ER THE SEA

Twenty-five College Players Sail for Antipodes to Play Britishers.

The long journey of the twenty-five rugby football players chosen from the Universities of California, Stanford and Nevada commenced this morning at 11:30 when, under the management of D. W. Burbank of Stanford, they left on the Shasta Limited en route to Vancouver, from which port they will sail for Australia to play a series of rugby games with the teams of that country and in New Zealand. The players are scheduled to return the latter part of August.

The line up of the team which will make the trip was completed but a few days ago. At the last moment Amos Elliott, the speedy five-eighths of the last California-Stanford game, was unable to go and Cedric Cerf, next year's assistant coach for California, was persuaded to fill the place left vacant.

The team chosen is a fairly representative one from the three universities, including most of their strongest players, and it is confidently expected that they will make a favorable showing against the more experienced players of the Antipodes, who have grown up in the game as it were, while the players on this coast have not taken it up within the past four years.

Those who left this morning were D. W. Burbank, manager; James C. Schaeffer, coach, and the following from the University of California: Phleger, Hardy, Swartz, Paul, Vance and Ashley (forwards); Cerf, Harris, Wells, Morris, Dwiggins and Allen (backs); from Stanford University, Tolo, Horton, Minturn, Hutting, Cheda (forwards); [illegible], Roth (backs); from the University of Nevada, Leavitt and Bennett (forwards).

NEWARKS TAKE THREE STRAIGHT

The Newarks won their third straight game on the local grounds Sunday by defeating the crack Hanley Ryes of San Francisco by a score of 12 to 3. Knoble for the home team pitched a heady game, allowing but four hits and striking out twelve. Score:

Newarks, runs 12, hits [illegible], errors [illegible].

Hanleys Ryes, runs 3, hits 4, errors 3.

MONARCH NINE WINS

The Monarchs defeated the Clarement Parlor N. S. G. W. last Sunday at the Leeve grounds by a score of [illegible] to [illegible].

The game with the Staley Grotes scheduled for next Sunday has been called off on account of five of the Monarchs team having a vacation, but on May 29 they will all be home again, and the game with the Pensacolas for that date at the Leeve grounds in East Oakland will no doubt be an exciting one.

FIGHTERS AWAIT RELIANCE CLUB GONG

Plenty of Excitement Promised by Bouts on Amateur Card Tonight.

The bouts to be held tonight at the Reliance Club will be of the fast and furious order. The men who are to take part are in the best of condition and are waiting the sound of the gong to start something.

In the big event Lester and Johnson will give the fans the best that is in them, and that is saying something. Lester is of the opinion that he can dispose of Johnson in quick order while Johnson is of the same opinion with respect to Lester. Both are good at the game and will put up a [illegible]. [illegible] the 130 pound whirlwind is ready and waits the call of time. He will tangle with Clark in the special and will do his best to take the honors away from the newcomer.

Rome, the regular 'togger,' is ready and when the bell rings will carry the fight to the dark horse's corner. Rhino thinks that he can take the fight from Rome this time by going after him as soon as the referee gives the word. This will be one of the best goes of the evening.

The fight between Sullivan and Morin should be a good one as both are fast and [illegible] in getting together the fur [illegible] fly at once.

Nittinger is a good scrapper and has all the confidence in the world in himself as to the outcome of the go.

[illegible] and Humbert are fit and this bout will give the fans a chance to see how fast little men can travel and at the same time do efficient work.

The other men are all waiting for the time to arrive when they can commence to whip each other.

FEDERAL TRACK MEET TO CELEBRATE JULY FOURTH

Uncle Sam Patron of Games Planned in Washington; Gossip of Nation on Diamond and Field

By MANHATTAN.

NEW YORK, May 17.—The Fourth of July this year will mark the inauguration of an annual track and field meet at Potomac Park, Washington, under the auspices of the United States Government. Uncle Sam in athletics is something new, but the old gentleman is mixed up in about everything else under the sun and I suppose he thought it was time he was getting into sport. For several years other large cities of the country have been holding municipal games and all have been successes. When Baltimore held a meet it was too much and Washington had to follow suit.

While I say the meet will be held under the auspices of the United States Government, you must understand that the District of Columbia is directly under Federal supervision. Congress will have to pass an appropriation for the games.

It has long been the ambition of the athletic powers of the city of Washington to give Washington a set of games, but the great difficulty has been to start the ball rolling. This has been done now, however, and Commissioner Cuno Rudolph, who is in charge of the committee on a safe and sane Fourth, has appointed a committee on athletics.

In addition to the regular field and track novelty events there will be a series of swimming races, as well as several novelty events. The athletic games will probably be held in the afternoon, but a definite time has not been decided upon and will not be until a time for holding the water sports has been set, as the committee does not want these parts of the program to conflict.

Competition will be limited entirely to bona fide residents of the District of Columbia and the events will be divided in two classes. The junior class will be closed to school boys under 14 years of age and weighing not more than 115 pounds, while the senior class will be open, but under A. A. U. sanction.

* * *

James D. Lightbody, the former Olympic champion, who was a member of the Olympic team of 1908 and who formerly represented the University of Chicago and the Chicago Athletic Association, will probably never again be seen in sports in this country. Lightbody is studying in Berlin and while he is taking part in athletics there he intends to give them up on the completion of his present course. James is assistant secretary of the American Association of Commerce in the German capital and recently wrote to James E. Sullivan of the A. A. U. here for a copy of the association's rules.

* * *

The picture of a university president getting a coach to teach the athletic idea how to shoot is a novelty in sports and yet it is a fact in Wisconsin. Wisconsin University's board of regents has voted to take the power of chopping the athletic council out of the hands of the faculty and place it in the hands of Charles R. Van Hise, the president. It is said that this presages a more liberal athletic policy in the future. President Van Hise was empowered to find a coach for the track team to succeed James Lathrop, who suffered a stroke of paralysis and who will probably be unable to do any more coaching this year. The regents voted to buy a life-saving boat and other necessary paraphernalia to assist oarsmen and other students who may be capsized while on Lake Mendota.

Tom Needham, backstop of the Chicago Nationals and the master of the big league catchers, says the man who really needs protection in baseball is the baseman. He can not always arrange to be hit on the arm, in the leg or in the back. The right handed batter exposes his heart to some extent and a blow within a few inches of it is always dangerous. A blow on the temple is rare, but apt to be fatal.

The first man who steps to the plate with a suitable head guard to prevent injury instead of to protect the head after injury will probably come in for a large share of guying, but it would seem that a padded cap such as the lacrosse player wears would be worth having. As in football injuries to the head and neck are to be avoided, and there should be some way to guard against them.

* * *

The Toronto, Canada, Y. M. C. A. will hold a big series of games in June. Jack Tait, the runner, who has charge of the affair, has been scouring the country for athletes to take part.

* * *

Speaking of old baseball players and veterans on the diamond, Frank Sanders of Bickleton, Wash., who is 52 years old, is probably the oldest active player on the Pacific Coast. He is the first baseman of the Bickleton team. He fields his position, runs the bases, hits the ball and annoys the umpire with much more ginger than most of the youthful members of the team. Dad Sanders began his baseball career in his home town, Marshall, Lyon county, Minn., when he was 14 years old, and has played with an organized club every season save one since that time. He started in playing left field on his home team, but his throwing ability became so noticeable that he was soon tried as a pitcher. In 1878 he joined the Silver Stars of Winona, Minn., in the Northwestern League, composed of sixteen teams in the leading cities of Minnesota, Wisconsin, Dakota and Iowa. He pitched for them four years. He returned to his home town in 1882 and played with Goldendale, Arlington, Ore., Bluelight and Bickleton, Wash.

After practically ten years' aloneness with the racquet, Beals Wright of Boston, who dazzled the tennis world five years ago by displaying brilliant flashes of court generalship, has decided to return to the game to seek more honors on the grass and turf courts of the country. The fact that the former national singles title-holder is to again take up the racquet is not only of especial interest to this country, but to English and Australian followers of the game as well. To state that Wright will probably captain the team which will meet England in the challenge ties at Wimbledon is a fact that will create unusual interest throughout the entire tennis world.

Wright, it will be remembered, was one of the strongest tennis players this country boasted of five years ago, and it is declared that he is regaining his old-time form. He recently won the Florida state tournament and his work against tennis stars there bore out the fact that he still possesses championship ability.

Jimmy McAleer of the Washington baseball club of the American League has formed a sprinting squad. Trainer Quirk recently placed most of the players in charge of F. F. [illegible] to be taught the art of running. [illegible] contends that few baseball players know how to run properly.

REGULARS CLASH WITH 'REBELS' IN STRIKE

Cummins' Amendment to the Railroad Bill Makes Ill-Feeling.

INSURGENTS REFUSE TO YIELD THEIR DEMANDS

Supporters of White House Dictum Seek to Formulate Some Agreement.

WASHINGTON May 17—There were indications of ill feeling between the regular and insurgent Republicans when the senate convened today The pending amendment to the railroad bill was offered by Senator Cummins to require the retention of the present rule that suits under the interstate commerce act be brought against the interstate commerce commission rather than against the government as is provided in the administration bill

Under the Cummins amendment the commission not the attorney general would have charge of the defense of the suits

CONFUSION IN SENATE

Cummins arose to speak on his amendment Senators Aldrich and Elkins hurried about on the floor and there was a great deal of confusion Finally Clapp complained of the lack of order On his desk and on those of La Follette Dolliver and Bristow were piled books and papers indicating that they expected to speak at length

Will you accept the House provision eliminating parties to suits? asked Senator Elkins

Positively not replied Cummins

Several propositions looking to a compromise were made in vain Most of them had come to regulars led by Aldrich

Under the White House dictum delivered at the mid conference Saturday the supporters of the administration bill were trying to formulate some agreement that could command the solid Republican support

CUMMINS FOLLOWERS OBDURATE

The conservatives expressed willingness to accept the progressives view as to the defense of suits if they would consent to the withdrawal of the Cummins amendment to prohibit the increase of rates by railroads without the prior approval of the Interstate Commerce Commission

Senator Cummins followers were obdurate They said they would stand out for the commission s approval This declaration would appear to make certain a renewal of the warfare Senator Dixon who led the forces that compelled the acceptance of amendment on the subject of long and short hauls acted as the intermediary between the conservatives and the progressives

INSURGENTS ARE ANGERED

For a time he met with encouragement but as the negotiations proceeded it was reported that the several insurgents who had not been invited to the White House Saturday night had heard that reflections on their course had been made at this gathering even by the President himself The insurgents remarking that there was an evident purpose to humiliate them expressed indignation and some refused to treat with the administration forces It became known that Senator Borah who did attend the White House conference had refused his efforts of a compromise He based his refusal on the ground that he would not recognize the insurgents as being hostile but that they should be treated as fellow Republicans and invited to participate in the conference

BREWER MENTALLY WEAK, TESTIFIES BROTHER

Suffered From Fall and Effects of Drinking, Says Henry Schuler.

DEFENDS HIS MOTHER FROM FATHER'S CHARGE

Proves Dramatic Witness in Will Contest for Estate of Alameda Man.

Henry A Schuler branded by his dead father as the illegitimate child of his mother Rose C Schuler was the principal witness today in the contest instituted by the latter in the probate department of the superior court to set aside the will of his brother son Lorenz L Schuler the late Alameda brewer by which he left an estate valued at more than $ 5 000 to his sister Sarah K Hulse who appears in court as the proponent of the will

Young Schuler was an exceptionally good witness for his mother and after giving a detailed account of Lorenz L Schuler s inebriety during the latter years of his life declared that in his opinion the dead brewer was not of sound mind at the time he made his will and the codicil attached thereto

THINKS BROTHER INSANE

Asked upon cross examination for his best reason for believing that his brother was of unsound mind the witness declared dramatically

I do not think that any sane man could treat his mother and brother as Lorenz did our mother and me and be of sound mind Aside from leaving our mother to shift for herself for many years while he fairly rolled in luxury and enjoyed life to the fullest Lorenz died leaving my birth under the cloud that our father had wrongfully created Just a little investigation on Lorenz s part could have shown the facts about my birth and proved to the world that instead of being an illegitimate child I was his lawful and legitimate brother

Attorney M C Hassett of San Francisco called Schuler to the witness stand immediately after the forenoon session of court opened and he testified to the reconciliation which had been brought about by Attorney James T Boyd of Reno between Lorenz and his sister Sarah on the one side and himself on the other about April 5 1905 and to the fact that the dead man gave to their mother about $3000 at this time

BROTHER DRANK HEAVILY

The witness then testified as to the many times he had subsequently seen Lorenz more or less under the influence of liquor up to the time of his death He testified that when he and his dead brother attended a prizefight in Goldfield in 1906 Lorenz got very drunk on the train going up and quarreled with a friend with whom he was playing a friendly game of cards

"We had a great deal of trouble in pacifying Lorenz said the witness

Another pertinent incident young Schuler testified to in this connection was when Lorenz and the witness attended a ring contest in Colma on the Fourth of July 1906 Lorenz the witness said went to the fight from a Livermore sanitarium accompanied by a trained nurse During the fight he stole away and went into a saloon near the arena When the witness missed his brother he and the nurse hunted him up and found him in the saloon about which a great crowd was gathered Schuler told the jury that he worked his way through the crowd and found his brother upon the floor while several men were kicking him Young Schuler and the nurse rescued Lorenz from the mob but not before his face had been badly disfigured and he was covered with blood

FALL FRACTURED SKULL

The witness testified regarding a time that Lorenz had fallen downstairs in his brewery and fractured his skull while drunk Schuler said that this necessitated Lorenz being sent to a sanitarium in Alameda where he was confined for about two months He gave in detail many dates and occasions upon which Lorenz had been drunk The witness said that only on two occasions that he could remember had Lorenz been from under the influence of liquor from the date of the reconciliation in 1905 to the date of his death—once when he returned home from the sanitarium in Alameda and then once when he came back from a sojourn at Adams Springs where he had been in the habit of spending a yearly vacation

137-DAY RECORD MADE BY 'FLYER'

Fast Train on Salt Lake Road Makes Slowest Time Into Utah City.

SALT LAKE CITY May 17—Passenger train No 4 of the San Pedro Los Angeles and Salt Lake completed a record run when it arrived here this morning 137 days out from Los Angeles On December 31 when it started for Salt Lake it was listed as a Fast Train It now claims superiority over every accommodation train in the [illegible]

The storm of January 1 caught No 4 a short distance east of Caliente Nev and washed out the track before and behind it near Eccles station On January 10 the twenty passengers whose plight had been heralded from the Atlantic to the Pacific were transported by wagon to Acoma and brought to Salt Lake from there by train

The engine tender and seven cars of No 4 held their position gallantly [illegible] the storms of winter and spring A Pullman porter stayed by his car for a week or more One of the Pullman conductors lived in his car for a month But since the end of January a railroad watchman has been on guard [illegible]

The track builders working from the east side of the break reached the stalled train Sunday

Waterfront Quarrel Ends in Attack

SAN FRANCISCO May 17—Following a quarrel on the steamer Senator lying at Broadway wharf late last night William Tender a fireman was struck over the head with a wrench in the hands of James Farron a companion He received a severe lacerated wound of the scalp which was treated at the Harbor Emergency Hospital

Farron was locked up by the police and is being held in detinue

The committee will meet again next Monday evening at 957 Broadway

BIG TREE FALLS; HITS STREET CAR

Many Passengers Lives Are Endangered During Severe Storm of Sunday Night.

HAYWARD May 17—The big wind storm that swept this section Sunday night endangered the lives of many passengers on the Hayward car line when a tall poplar tree at the Castro Valley junction was blown down falling on the front end of a Hayward bound car, breaking the front platform and tieing up the line for more than two hours

The car was run by Motorman H Younglove who was going slow on account of the storm Conductor F West was in charge of the car No passengers were injured

The wind wrought havoc in the orchards of San Leandro and Hayward and material damage was done to the crops of the section Branches were broken on the fruit trees and tons of green fruit were blown to the ground

In San Leandro on Estudillo avenue six large locust trees that shade the street were felled and the Holy Ghost chapel of St Leandro s church was severely damaged windows being broken and doors cracked by the storm

The branches of the trees along Jones avenue in Elmhurst were broken and a new store building of one story that was being constructed in Elmhurst is a total wreck

A new residence that was in process of construction on Orchard avenue in Fruitvale also was made a wreck by last night s wind The building was one story high and contained five rooms The loss is about $500

Almost all of the large trees on the grounds of Constable Tom Carroll were ruined by the wind

RIOTERS RETREAT BEFORE TROOPS

Four Companies of the State Militia and Heavy Rainfall Stop Threatened Raid.

HANNIBAL, Mo., May 17.—The arrival early today of four companies of state militia and a heavy rainfall quieted the striking workmen at the plant of the Atlas Portland Cement Company at Ilasco, four miles south of here, where a riot was threatened yesterday.

The 1500 foreigners who threatened trouble retired before the state troops arrived. A guard has been placed around the buildings which contain four tons of dynamite.

On orders from Governor Hadley, Colonel C. C. McDonald, who has command of the militia, closed the saloons this morning. An effort will be made to open the cement works this afternoon.

ROANOKE, Va., May 17.—A general strike of clerks on the Norfolk and Western Railway was ordered today by the Railway Clerks' union, after a vote which showed 93 per cent of that class of employees in favor of it. The strike calls out about 1200 men.

LONDON PRICES AT LOWER LEVEL

Resumption After Three Days' Cessation Has Little Effect in New York.

NEW YORK, May 17.—London sent lower prices for Americans today on the resumption of business after three days' cessation. There was little increase in activity in the market, however, over the lately prevailing dullness. Northern Pacific and Western Maryland lost 1 and Chicago Great Western preferred ½. Reading rose ⅝.

A rise of almost a point in Reading strengthened the market, but the higher prices brought out more stock and a reaction followed to well below the opening figures.

Union Pacific, Northwestern, Amalgamated Copper, United States Steel, American Sugar and American Tobacco preferred sagged 1 and Reading second preferred 1½. International Harvester rose 1, which was lost later.

Disappointment was felt that the reopening of foreign stock exchanges brought no increase of activity. No influence was perceptible from any news event and the sag in prices was due to neglect. St. Paul lost 1 and Minneapolis and St. Louis 1½.

Fluctuations were mostly within a range of an eighth and trading was at a standstill. Southern Railway preferred lost ¾. General Electric rose 1.

The dullness of the market increased as the day drew to a close. None of the usually active stocks moved widely enough to permit even of scalping operations.

The market closed heavy and dull. A rally of about a point in Chesapeake and Ohio was followed by a renewed drop which carried some prices back to the lowest. Great Northern Certificates, Toledo and St. Louis, Western preferred, American Telephone and American Locomotive declined 1.

Bonds were heavy.

NEW YORK, May 17.—Gibson says: The buying of good stocks continues excellent and there is a pretty fair increase in the short interest. The bears are inclined to feel very confident of a reaction and are selling rather freely on the rallies. They may be able, by aggressive methods, to force a moderate setback, but it will not go far and their success in this direction cannot be depended on. Operators who are working along reasonable lines will not wait for these possible recessions, as they will not be disturbed by fluctuations and may, in my opinion, feel pretty certain that the trend is upward and that temporary losses will be quickly recovered. No change in position. Advise purchases of good stocks at this level or on moderate recessions. Wheat and corn should be sold on every hard spot. Cotton a sale at these prices or on further advances for long pull and large profits.

SUMMARY OF THE MARKETS.

NEW YORK, May 17.—American stocks in London heavy, ¼ to ½ below parity.

Annual meeting of United States Rubber today.

Foreclosure sale of C. C. and L. today.

Congress not likely to adjourn before July 15.

United States Senate refuses to strike out commerce court clause in railroad bill.

Interboro shows increase of 42,168,105 passengers carried in ten months since July 1 over corresponding period in previous year.

General market in London irregular, but consols show considerable strength.

Failure of Philadelphia and Annapolis bond issues taken as indication underlying stiffness of money market.

Marked improvement in quantity and value of cotton crops exported first nine months of this year.

United States Steel orders coming in at rate of about 75 per cent of capacity.

Twelve industrials declined .35; twenty active railroads advanced .16.

DULUTH SHIPMENT INFLUENCES PIT

Active Arrivals Sends Down May Wheat to 2 1-8 Figures on Market.

CHICAGO, May 17.—Active arrivals of wheat here from Duluth, and with another steamer on the way to that port for more, helped to send May delivery down 2¼c in this market today. The decline, however, was only temporary, the price reacting to $1.12¾. There appeared to be no leadership on the bear side. Pit conditions were said by some to be the most influential factor in fluctuations.

Nevertheless the rains northwest as well as locally had much to do with weakness in the active options. The latter opened ¼c to ⅜@½c down, with September at $1.00⅝ to $1.01. A rally to $1.01@1.01¼ followed. Sellers were inclined to do business only on the hard spots, being made cautious by the apparently tight pit situation.

Later fluctuations were mostly within ⅛c either way from $1.01. Primary receipts were again very large. Duluth wired that Durham wheat there was 10c under Chicago figures. Just before the close a spurt to $1.01½ occurred and the finish was steady at that price, a net gain of ¼c.

On a little commission buying corn was firm. Offerings were light. September started unchanged to ⅛@¼c higher, at 63⅛ to 63¼c, and sold at 63½c quite steadily.

September advanced to 63⅝c temporarily on talk of replanting made necessary by cold weather or poor seed. The close was steady at 63½c, a net gain of ⅛@¼c.

Cash corn—No. 2 red, 62@62½c; No. 2 white, 68c; No. 2 yellow, 63¼@64c; No. 3, 61¼@62c; No. 3 white, 60½@67c; No. 3 yellow, 62½@63c; No. 4, 59½@61c; No. 4 white, 59½@60c; No. 5 yellow, 60@61½c.

Oats were easy on a fair amount of general selling. September opened ⅛@¼c to ¼@⅜c off at 39⅛c to 39⅜c, but rallied to 39½c.

In provisions the feeling was stronger all around because of purchases by packers.

The Western run of hogs was short of that a year ago. Opening quotations were 2½@7½c higher, with September pork at $22.12½.

The closing quotations were as follows:

Wheat—May, $1.12¾; July, $1.03⅛; September, $1.01⅜.

Corn—May, 60⅝c; July, 62⅝@62⅝c; September, 63½c; December, 58⅝c.

Oats—May, 42⅜c; July, 40⅝@40⅝c; September, 39⅝@39⅝c; December, 40c.

Pork—July, $23.27½; September, $23.17½.

Lard—July, $12.87½@12.90; September, $12.72½.

Ribs—July, $12.82½; September, $12.70.

Rye—Cash, 78@80c; May, 76½c; July, 78½c.

Barley—Cash, 48@68½c.

Timothy—May, $4.25; October, $3.90@4.10.

CHICAGO, May 17.—The Inter Ocean says: Wheat gossip was mainly in favor of the bear last night. Commission men said that they were having a light trade and that it is difficult to interest the public on either side of the market. They are afraid to sell it short and do not apparently feel like buying. The disposition was to take a bearish view of the crop outlook because of the rains northwest and southwest, although it is unusual for the northwest to be dry enough for forest fires in May and rains all through that section are welcome. Those familiar with the northwest say that there will have to be heavy and frequent rains to make a big crop this year, as the subsoil is without the usual quantity of moisture. Bulls said that they did not expect two days' rain to make a crop and ridiculed many of the bearish statements that the northwest predicting the size of the crop. The short interest was said to have increased largely, while the leading longs have not changed their position, so that technically the market was in a good position to be rallied by any improvement in the buying. Bears said there was no good on the buying side except for possibly a quick scalp. Corn receivers reported a slight increase in the offerings from Illinois, Iowa and Nebraska, but they were not heavy. Reports from the corn belt failed to indicate that planting was being pushed with any degree of vigor. Specialists said that the light offerings were the cause of the early bulge, local shorts covering.

LIVERPOOL, May 17.—Broomhall says: The market opened weak and ¾d and 1⅛d lower than Friday and during the morning further declined ½d to ⅝d, with the principal pressure in July. Selling was in the way of profit-taking induced by the continued heavy world's shipments, particularly to the United Kingdom, the amount this week being 5,050,000 bushels, against 3,805,000 bushels last week. Selling was further encouraged by the pressure of Manitoba and La Plata parcels and the return of brilliant weather here with more favorable crop advices. Winnipeg market was weak and spot markets here were very heavy, with Manitoba grade generally 2d lower and cargoes offered freely at 1½d to 3d decline. Just before midday there was a slight rally with some covering, due to the continued decrease in the European visible. The general market, however, was weak and from 1d to 1½d lower than Friday. Corn was dull at the start and unchanged; later there was an advance of ¼d on the firmness of La Plata parcels. The European visible supply of wheat this week amounts to 86,532,000 bushels, against 88,144,000 bushels last week, thus showing a decrease of 1,612,000. Last week there was a decrease of 4,780,000 bushels and last year an increase of 1,300,000 bushels, when the total was 64,100,000 bushels.

TRUSTEE'S SALE.

In accordance with the terms and under the authority of a certain deed of trust duly executed by Amanda Bertha Lamborn and Ben F. Lamborn, her husband, the parties of the first part, to Chas. T. Rodolph and A. E. H. Cramer, trustees, parties of the second part, and the Union Savings Bank, a corporation, the party of the third part, dated July 1, 1905, and recorded in the office of the County Recorder of the County of Alameda, State of California, Liber 1033 of Deeds at page 197 et seq., and in pursuance of a resolution passed on the second day of April, 1910, by the board of directors of the Union Savings Bank, a corporation, and the holder of the note (No. 7702), to secure the payment of which the aforesaid deed of trust was executed, declaring that default had been made in the payment of the interest and other sums due under said note and deed of trust, and requesting and directing the said undersigned trustees to sell the real estate described therein to satisfy said indebtedness:

We, Chas. T. Rodolph and A. E. H. Cramer, trustees under said deed of trust, do hereby give notice that on Wednesday, the 8th day of June, 1910, at 12 o'clock noon of that day, at the auction salesroom of the Realty Bonds & Finance Company, No. 1172 Broadway, in the City of Oakland, County of Alameda, State of California, we will sell at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash in gold coin of the United States, the piece or parcel of land situate in the City of Alameda, County of Alameda, State of California, described as follows, to wit:

Beginning at a point on the eastern line of Morton street (formerly St. Paul street), distant thereon two hundred and ninety (290) feet southerly from the point of intersection thereof, with the southern line of Santa Clara avenue (formerly Jefferson avenue) (as said avenue now exists), and running thence southerly along the eastern line of Morton street, thirty-seven (37) feet and six (6) inches; thence at right angles easterly one hundred and fifty (150) feet; thence at right angles northerly thirty-seven (37) feet and six (6) inches, and thence at right angles westerly one hundred and fifty (150) feet to the point of beginning.

Being Lot No. Forty-eight (48) and a portion of Lot No. Forty-seven (47) in Block No. Twenty-one (21) as the said lots and block are delineated and so designated on a certain map entitled "Map of part of the property of Charles L. Fitch, deceased, known as the homestead of Mary A. Fitch," etc., filed April 21, 1874, in the office of the County Recorder of said Alameda County. Together with the appurtenances.

Terms of sale: Cash in gold coin of the United States; ten per cent payable to the undersigned on the fall of the hammer, balance on delivery of deed; and if not so paid, then said ten per cent to be forfeited and the sale to be void.

The Union Savings Bank, being the holder of said indebtedness, or any other person, may purchase at the said sale. Acts of sale at purchaser's expense.

Dated, May 17, 1910.

HISTORICAL FETE BEGINS IN SOUTH

With Blossoming of Century Plant Tonight Queen Steps Forth on Stage.

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., May 17.—From the historic viewpoint the most important event in California this year will be the San Bernardino centennial celebration, which commences this evening to continue for the remainder of the week.

It was 100 years ago May 20 that a small band of padres from the San Gabriel Mission arrived here and established a mission outpost. This historic spot is to be permanently marked by the restoration of the Capilla, the corner stone of which will be laid [illegible] by Bishop Conaty. On the same day will be laid the cornerstone for the new [illegible] cathedral.

Centennial day will be further marked by the blessing of El Camino [illegible] San Bernardino bells. The centennial will be replete with all that is historic, and a series of pictures will be enacted on a great outdoor stage where from day to day will be told the story of the valley's progress from the day when the mission fathers arrived to the present time.

A band of 200 [illegible] Indians in full tribal dress will participate. The [illegible] blooming of the great century plant on the stage and the emerging of Princess [illegible] will mark the opening of the celebration.

The Indians and the coming of the padres will follow. The padres will give way to the Spanish reign Wednesday evening, and as the Governor's wife will be seen Miss Rosa Aguirre, great granddaughter of Governor [illegible], the last Spanish ruler of California. Thursday evening the Spanish rule will give way to the gold seekers and pioneers. During the week there will also be a number of modern fiesta features.

OSGOOD, THE DRUGGIST, GETTING STRONG HOLD ON CIGAR TRADE

Cut Rates Appeal to Smokers--Tobacco Cranks Find That the Druggist Knows How to Buy Good Cigars---Trade Increasing at Phenomenal Rate.

Osgood, the druggist, is rapidly getting a strong hold on the cigar business of Oakland by selling the staple cigars in all the standard sizes at cut prices. He sells the [illegible] two for a quarter. Of [illegible] for 10 cents, and all the nickel cigars, such as Owl's, Brown's, Cremos, etc., seven for a quarter.

"I've got 'em all guessing on the cigar business," said Fred Osgood this morning. "At first they set up the claim that my cigars were seconds and no good, but I challenged the doubters to test them out by purchasing them over my counters in the regular way and proved to them that my line was not only A 1 but unusually fine.

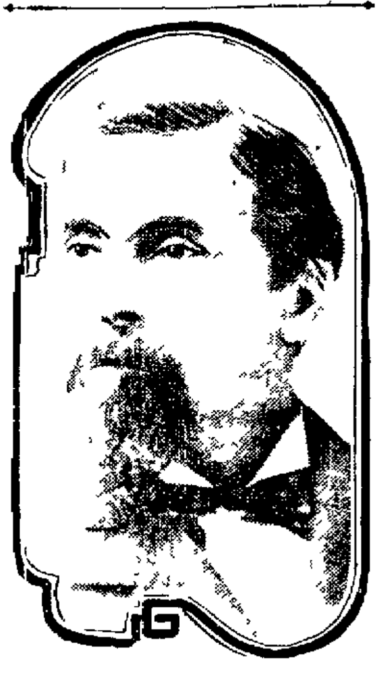
"You see it is just this way," continued Osgood. "You have to sell a whole lot of cigars to keep a fresh stock. Out of 500 smokers you'll find 100 different tastes, which means 100 different boxes. In our business we probably carry in stock at all times at least 100,000 cigars, and you have to sell them to keep a bright, fresh stock. We sell an average of 3000 cigars a day, and practically renew our stock every 30 days. This keeps them all fresh and enables us to choose colors that are exactly right for immediate smoking. Smaller dealers sometimes keep a box for a year or more, with the natural result that the cigars get hard and dry, although they may have been first class when bought.

"We have to be particularly careful to keep a good stock because people buying at cut rates are always suspicious that there must be something the matter with the cigars," added Mr. Osgood. "In fact I have had friends [illegible] me that they never bought cigars from [illegible] because drug store cigars are always bum. When I meet a fellow like this I make him buy, because any [illegible] is entitled to a square deal. They invariably apologize because they find that my cigars are not only good but extraordinarily fine. I have two tobacco experts in my employ who do nothing else but look after these departments. They select my stock with the greatest of care, and as I invariably pay cash on receipt of goods the manufacturer gives me the best he has."

Mr. Osgood reports that his cigar business is increasing at a phenomenal rate and that hundreds of new customers are taking advantage of his cut rate prices, which save them an average of $35 a year apiece. He claims that a man generally smokes four cigars a day, and upon four cigars he saves 10 cents if bought at Osgood's cut rate price. This figures $36.50 a year.

Osgood's drug stores are at Twelfth and Washington and Seventh and Broadway. The cigar departments are right at the front door and easily reached from the sidewalk. In addition to selling all 12½c brands for 10c and all 5c brands seven for 25c, he sells a 10c cigar named "El Cuto" for a nickel. It is a wonderful smoke for the money and made a big hit from the start.

Civil War Veteran Called by Death At Vallejo Home



THOMAS PATTERSON, Civil War veteran, who died Saturday

Thomas Patterson, a Civil War veteran and a former employe of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, died Saturday at his home in Vallejo. For fifty-two years [illegible] his home in Oakland [illegible] was affiliated with Appomattox Post No. [illegible], Department of California and Nevada, under whose auspices he was buried this afternoon at [illegible] o'clock from Taylor's undertaking parlors, Fifteenth street.

Taps was sounded for the dead man [illegible] the post who attended the funeral in a body. He was a [illegible] of Company [illegible], Eighteenth [illegible] Michigan, August 4, 1862 [illegible] in the company.

[illegible] was born in Genessee, New York, August 11, 1837, and is survived by [illegible] the following children: [illegible] Patterson, daughters Mrs. P. M. Watkins and Mrs. Samuel [illegible] of Vallejo.

MURASKY INJURED IN BAD COLLISION

Jurist and Several Others Hurt When Trains Meet Near Petaluma.

PETALUMA, May 17.—A head-on collision between the northbound Ukiah express and the southbound Santa Rosa local, two passenger trains of the Northwestern Pacific, [illegible] four miles south of here yesterday, resulted in several persons receiving slight injuries, among them being Judge Murasky of the superior court of San Francisco, who has his [illegible] cut.

Both engines were derailed, the baggage car of the Ukiah express telescoped and the oil feed tanks of the [illegible]. The smoke of the [illegible] drove the passengers into a panic. They were [illegible] from their seats and [illegible].

Judge Murasky, who was [illegible] when [illegible] into [illegible] and drove to San Rafael [illegible] then to San Francisco.

Both trains had received orders to [illegible] the Ukiah train, including Conductor [illegible] and Engineer [illegible], was in the act of [illegible] into the switch when the southbound local under Conductor [illegible] and Engineer Reynolds drove into it. The engine crews saved their lives by jumping. A number of Petaluma people were on the trains but were [illegible].

'YOUNG LOVE IS DEAD,' HIS PROSAIC WIFE WROTE, AND HUSBAND BELIEVED

Harry Gray and Spouse, Best of 'Pals,' Agree to Separate When Her Book Comes Out; Love Replaces Fortune

LOS ANGELES, May 17.—About two years ago Miss Isabel McReynolds, a co-ed of the University of California, a girl of remarkable genius, of restless temperament, married Harry Gray, a newspaper writer and civil engineer of this city.

They were happy for a year or more and a little son, Harry McReynolds Gray, came to them.

But Mrs. Gray wrote a book.

It is called "Florisel" and is a delightful fantasy of childhood, of fairies, all stage set among flowers and dainty scenes of gardens and meadows and skies and lovely youth and creations of poesy who know what the sun says to the tree tops and where the wind goes and why the waters dance and—

The book killed the love between the two and they separated, she taking the little son and he taking the remembrance which was his, and they closed the chapter.

But not until after Mrs. Gray had given her husband a copy of "Florisel" inscribed to him on the reverse title page with these verses—verses which form an epitaph for a marriage certificate:

[illegible] Love,
How quietly he sleeps!
Death is the Tryst He Keeps,
Young Love.

Alas! His sweet mouth lacks
The smile. This is the end.
Kneel with me, friend,
And [illegible] and whisper
[illegible]

Young Love is dead—
But you and I are not.
[illegible] the last word is said,
Requiescat!

—Isabel McReynolds Gray.

Isabel McReynolds was one of the brilliant ones of the university back in 1907. She was given even then to thinking for herself and was accordingly considered peculiar and was highly envied.

Occasionally she would cross the bay and play small parts at the Alcazar Theater. Then sometimes charming rose verses would be printed from her pen.

Then she married Mr. Gray, who has temperament himself and supposedly decided that his was enough for one family.

But the book followed soon after the little son and dispelled the husband's dream of idyllic prerogative.

Why the book, which is a beautiful bit of sensible sentiment, disturbed the peace of the hearth is not known.

Mr. Gray will simply say, "We found that we did not care for each other that way." Still they are the best of friends, the most amiable pals in the city and

"Hic Jacet Love."

Isabel McReynolds Gray now is preparing for the stage.

Gives Up Fortune for Love

LOS ANGELES, May 17.—Mrs. Edward Swortfiguer, recently Miss Marietta Swortfiguer, is on her way with her husband to St. Helena, Cal., with no property save the clothes she wears, having deeded back to her mother the $100,000 estate which she inherited recently.

Determined to prove that her cousin, Edward Swortfiguer, was marrying her for love, as a preliminary to the wedding ceremony she transferred all right in the estate of her mother, who died recently, to her brother, he agreeing not to further oppose their marriage. The transfer, it is said, had been recorded in San Francisco previous to the wedding last Saturday night. When Miss Swortfiguer came to Los Angeles with her father and brother recently her intended husband said they were keeping her from seeing him by force, and he instituted habeas corpus proceedings.

Keeps Girl Prisoner for Months

NEW YORK, May 17.—Bruised and underfed, a girl who gives her name as Elizabeth Kelle, 19 years old, has been taken by the police from a house in Bayonne, N. J., where she says she has been kept a prisoner by an Italian for three months.

The girl has been in this country less than a year. She says she met her captor in a moving picture show and that he induced her to enter his house by promises of employment. She was found nearly crazed with fright in a third story room. Women's clothing had to be borrowed before she could be taken out. She said her own had been burned to prevent her escape.

Spine Blamed for Drink Evil

SAN FRANCISCO, May 17.—Mrs. Philip Verrill Mighels, writer and humanitarian, was so impressed by a reconciliation which took place in Judge Graham's court last week that she wrote to the magistrate yesterday telling him she believed that spinal columns out of alignment were responsible for the whisky habit. She recommended that all persons suffering from that malady consult a specialist and have their spines adjusted.

She said that experience in her own life and that of her ancestors had taught her that the body was responsible for the ills of the mind and not the mind for the ills of the body. In speaking of the couple who were reunited in court last week the author of "The Full Glory of Diantha" said:

"I am simply giving the benefit of my knowledge and observation to this wife. Let her take her husband to a spinal specialist. He will find it so easy to let liquor alone. He could have himself restored to a childish state of bodily comfort so that he would laugh in his sleep from the joy of being alive."

Women on Long Trip in Auto

NEW YORK, May 17.—Two young New York women, Miss Blanche Scott and Miss Amy L. Phillips, have left this city in an automobile with San Francisco as their objective point. Miss Scott is to drive the entire way and intends to do all the tire changing and other repairing that may be necessary.

It is the intention of the young women to travel at a leisurely rate of speed and to make such detours as may attract them, although they will in general follow the beaten path.

WIFE ADMITTED AFFINITY, HE SAYS

Carrol T. Hickey Declares That Spouse Told Him She Lead Double Life.

In his answer to his wife's complaint for a divorce just filed in the Superior Court, Carrol T. Hickey declares that [illegible] he accused Cecelia H. Hickey of leading a double life, the charge was based upon her own admissions to him that she had a lover and upon her further [illegible] relations to him of her conduct and of what her desires were while she was his wife.

Hickey denies that he ever called his wife a homely woman, as she alleges, but admits that he did find fault with Mrs. Hickey for going about the house [illegible] with uncombed hair and slippers with holes in them when she had in the closet an abundance of clothes and shoes to wear and the means and paraphernalia to make herself neat and tidy, and because prior to their marriage his wife was always very careful to keep herself in a neat and presentable condition.

In her complaint Mrs. Hickey charges that Hickey accused her of wanting to enter the demi-monde and frequenting drinking places with girls. Hickey declares that he simply repeated to his wife facts as she had stated them to him at various times with reference to her own conduct and desires.

Phoenix Sustains Big Loss by Flame

PHOENIX, Ariz., May 17.—Fire starting at an early hour today destroyed the Hotel Adams and damaged a number of other buildings in Center and Adams streets. For a time the entire city seemed threatened with destruction and nearby places were appealed to for fire fighting apparatus, but before assistance arrived the conflagration was checked. The loss is estimated at $100,000.

PLAN TO RESUME BOUNDARY SURVEY

International Expedition Will Leave Down Yukon on First Boat.

DAWSON, Y. T., May 17.—The international survey expedition, consisting of seventy men and seventy horses, is due today at Yukon Crossing, where it will take the steamer Casca, the first boat down the Yukon this year, which will carry the party to Eagle, where the surveys of the international boundary will be resumed.

A launch in charge of E. [illegible] Ezekiel, a fur trader, was the first boat off for St. Michael. It left Dawson yesterday. The first steamer for Fairbanks will not leave until the end of the week.

Many are planning to go from Dawson to the Iditarod at once. More will start after earning a summer grubstake.

Davison Wins Out After Exciting Fight

SAN JOSE, May 17.—In the quietest election held here in many years, 60 per cent of the registered voters of the city of San Jose went to the polls yesterday and gave Mayor Charles W. Davison and all of the members of his ticket pluralities over the United Peoples ticket. Those replaced in office besides Davison are Councilmen Mathewson, Broaska and Robinson, Treasurer Louis Lightson, Police Judge Dougherty and City Clerk R. E. Walter.

F. A. Curtis headed the opposition and was supported earnestly from the pulpits of several Protestant churches of the city, the pastors of which took occasion to denounce the city administration of San Francisco.

FAKE BOAT TRIP FIGURES IN CASE

Land Claimed Years Ago Under Swamp Act Now in Dispute.

LOS ANGELES, May 17.—A boat trip in which the voyagers rode and not rowed is said to be at the bottom of a controversy over Palo Verde valley lands valued at $2,500,000. The rights of settlers are considered in jeopardy because of a whimsical trick practiced thirty-five years ago by a San Francisco millionaire now dead.

It is charged that he had the boat carefully loaded on a wagon and after it had been hauled over a prescribed area, claimed 44,000 acres of rich land under the "swamp and overflow" act, following his attesting to the fact that he had made the trip by boat. The land is desert land.

The dispute, which upon its face appears to be a controversy between the government and the State, will come up for hearing before United States Surveyor General Archer in Los Angeles June 15. The settlers, however, assert that the controversy is really between themselves and a land grabbing syndicate.

In order to protect their rights the settlers have organized and engaged an attorney. After citizens had been invited to take up the land, the settlers say, the Los Angeles land office ordered it withdrawn because of the classification resulting "from the boat ride."
